MILITANT THREW BALL OF FAIR AT MAGISTRATE

Woman, Who With Cleaver Tried to Demolish Valuable Porcelains in the British Museum Created Such a Disturbance in Court Today That Trial Was Adjourned

LONDON, April 11.—May Stewart, the militant suffragette who with a cleaver tried to demolish a case of valuable porcelains in the British museum on April 9 created such a disturbance when charged today that the police magistrate was compelled to adjourn the trial.

On the public prosecutor opening the case against her Miss Stewart shouted: "I have not come here to listen to you today."

The magistrate remonstrated with the prisoner but she declared she would not desist so long as Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was being "tortured" under the cat and mouse act, "the devilish work of Reggie McKenna, the home secretary."

Then she threw a ball of paper at the magistrate, whereupon he and the public prosecutor gave up in despair and ordered the hearing postponed.

"May Stewart" was later in the day identified as "Catherine Wilson," who was arrested on March 15, 1913, in the lobby of the house of commons. She was then dressed as a man and carried a concealed dogwhip. She was sentenced to six weeks' hard labor as a suspected person.

The real name of the prisoner is understood to be Clara Lambert, an organizer of the Women's Social and Political union, who has been convicted of suffrage outrages on several occasions.

FUNERAL NOTICE

SCOTT—The funeral of the late James Scott will take place Monday morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 90 Andrews street. ## IN POLICE COURT

James A. Guillette pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was fined $5. Frank P. Slack, another second offender, also met with a $5 reception.

James P. Moran, a young man who has made three appearances for drunkenness within the past year, was given another chance by Judge Earlight. Moran was placed on probation to pay a fine of $15. Richard Cooper, also a third offender, was released with a suspended fine of $15.

Mary Hollingsworth was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail. The charge was drunkenness.

The case of Thomas Connolly, charged with assault and battery upon his wife, was placed on file this morning.

The defendant was placed under a bond to keep the peace, and William A. Hogan, Esq., who appeared for the prosecution, agreed to settle the case on this condition. The case grew out of a family wrangle in Billerica.

Hearing Today on a Motion for New Trial of Four Men Sentenced to Die Monday for Murder of Herman Rosenthal

Clancy was explained they became more cheerful.

The evidence upon which Mr. W. bases his motion for a new trial to him only yesterday. W. E. Bur of Waterbury, Conn., a poet and hard player, swore to an affidavit he saw the murder of Rosenthal; he saw the man who shot the gam and that this man was not one of the four gunmen. Burwell declared he could identify the murderer and could see him again.

Carl Dresner, a bartender, is the evidence upon which Mr. W. bases his motion for a new trial. Dresner swore that he had viously known "Jack" Rose, "Bird" Webber, Harry Vallon and Schepps and Herman Rosenthal. The morning of the murder, Dres said he saw Vallon and Webber in "gray cars" as it was leaving the scene of the murder and Schepps was sitting on the running board.

Burwell and Dresner were to cross-examined by District Attorney Whitman or his assistants and testimony will be a matter of "element." If Justice Goff decides that testimony of the new witnesses is a fresh line of defense he can set the former verdict of guilty and a new trial but if the motion is denied, Governor Glynn having refused to reconsider his refusal to interfere.

CURE OF CANCER

Surgeons Say Failures of Radium Outnum-
ber Cures 100 to 1

NEW YORK, April 11.—All hope of curing cancer by radium has been abandoned by some of the foremost surgeons and research workers of the country, who declared at last night's meeting of the American Society for the Control of Cancer that the failures of radium outnumber the cures 100 to 1.

That nothing but speedy use of the knife is of avail against the disease was the opinion advanced by Dr. Wm. H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn.

It was expected that the members of the society would have something hopeful to report of their investigations. Instead they admitted to progress and held out little hope. They united in saying they had discovered neither the cause nor the nature of cancer. Then they proved by statistics that cancer is on the increase.

BRUTALITY ELIMINATED

IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS, SAYS AN-DOYER HEAD AT BANQUET—DE-NOUNCES TRICKS

BOSTON, April 11.—The tendency in athletics to beat the rules behind the umpire's back develops the type of a man who, in political and business life, is always ready to take advantage of any opportunity, whether honest or not, that he can get away without detection, declared Alfred E. Stearns,

SOUR STOMACH AND ITS ACCOMPANIMENTS

Sour stomach is caused by undigested and fermenting substances in the stomach. Its accompaniments are nausea, belching of gas, in some cases vomiting of acid or bitter matters. Get a box of Jys-pep-lets for ten cents or a quarter at your druggist's, and they will give you prompt relief. They are made by Hood and therefore are good.

They combine the best carminatives and correctives, and are an elegant product of up-to-date pharmacy.

WARNS COTTON MILLS

Federal Horticultural Board Tells of Fear of a Dangerous Cotton Pest

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Fear that a pink boll worm, a dangerous cotton pest, may be introduced into the United States through the accidental presence of seed in lint cotton received by spinners caused the federal horticultural board today to warn cotton mills, especially those in the south to destroy by burning all seed that may be found in bales of imported Egyptian cotton. The seed, it is said, are likely to contain the larvae of the pest, which is very destructive to American cotton. While the number of seeds accidentally left in a bale of cotton is probably small," says the board, "a very large quantity of baled Egyptian cotton is imported, so that in the aggregate the number of infested seeds might well prove a serious menace to the local crop. This is especially true in view of the fact that much of this baled cotton is shipped to southern cotton mills, which in some cases are in the immediate vicinity of cotton fields which would form a ready breeding place for any larvae that might escape."

An investigation is to be undertaken by the board in northern and southern mills to determine the amount of infestation by the pink boll worm in the seed introduced.

TITANIC DISASTER

Opening of Cloister in Memory of Wireless Hero Next Wednesday

NEW YORK, April 11.—Word reached here today that the second anniversary of the loss of the Titanic next Wednesday has been fixed for the formal opening of the cloister built at Godalming, Eng., in memory of Jack Phillips, the heroic wireless operator, who went down with his ship. Phillips was a native of Godalming. The cloister stands near the parish church and cost $3500.

FOR TEACHERS

The Retirement Bill and Tenure Bill in Hands of Committees

The bill providing retirement system for public school teachers is before the committee on social welfare while its running mate, an act relative to the tenure and dismissal of teachers and superintendents of public schools, is before the committee on education. It is estimated by Edmund H. Cogswell of the state board of education that the number of teachers to retire July 1, providing the bills become operative, will be between 115 and 120 representing a total annuity of about $11,000.

The amounts paid in, however, by the teachers will take care of the annuities, the teachers paying a premium of five per cent of their salary.

Any person who has been a public school teacher in this state for not less than fifty years, and who has been engaged in teaching in the public schools of a city or town for five consecutive years immediately preceding July 1, 1912, shall be entitled to become a member of the retirement association.

POPULAR HORSEMAN ENDS LIFE
SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Edmond Burke, a well known horseman and owner of several famous stake racers, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the head. For some time he had been suffering severe pains in the head, the result of an old operation. He was 60 years old.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

It is a pity that Judge Enright cannot have all those apologies for men who are chronic non supporters of their families, and both drunken and abusive, before him for sentence. Those who are brought before him usually get a good taste of the law's authority, but the number is comparatively few as one recalls the large number of workless bums hanging about the street corners. Many wives are deterred from entering complaints against their husbands because of fear and perhaps a doubtful kind of pride and so prefer to suffer in silence. If there could be a general round-up of these non-working, drunken and abusive gentlemen, it would keep the judge busy for a time. It is respectfully suggested, that all found to be unemployable or incorrigible be given their choice of two propositions—a ticket to Mexico or a walk to the gas box. How common is the tale we hear of abused and neglected wives by able-bodied but lazy husbands! And yet does it not occur to you that there is many a wife in this town to whom nothing is denied by way of food and raiment; who may have social position and who may be both beautiful and intelligent, who has about everything within reason that money can buy—but has not the love of her husband nor his care and attention? The husband's love and sympathy appears to be dead, or if not that, strangely sleeping. Selfishly thoughtless he goes his way. Six or seven nights of the week he is away—at the clubs and the lodge. I have heard a wife say that she would rather be struck by her husband occasionally, than to suffer from the constant pang which he inflicts by habitually neglecting her. Loves his wife? Of course, but he loves himself and his own selfish pleasures more. The lazy husband may be cruel to his family because of drink; yet the industrious, sober husband too often manifests a cruelty which differs only in form.

Simon Swig and Others

Because Simon Swig—Phoebe, what a name!—characterized some of his fellow members of the board of trustees of consumptive hospitals as autocrats and hypocrites they wish to have Simon removed from the board; but it looks just now as though the governor should decide to fire the entire board.

It is suspected that Simon has been discriminated against because of his name, which jarred the sensitive culture of his brother members. Yet, looking over the names of these trustees, we observe the names Drinkwater, Gatchell and Dunn, which really are quite as suggestive, in a way, as plain Swig. It certainly would appear that the board couldn't stand for Simon Swig. Poor Simon! He may be one of the best men in the world; and possibly he may have reason for being proud of the name he bears—but what young woman would be entirely satisfied in changing her name to Swig?

Lady Star Violinist

I heard a young lady play the violin one evening last week who played with a virility that surprised me, for as a rule, lady violinists do not possess the physical strength to do full justice to compositions requiring an exhibition of the full powers of their instrument. Her work also was such that in nearly all of the pieces which she played she showed a virtuosity most remarkable and notwithstanding the fact that a renowned harpist and a most excellent finger look part in the concert, I thought the violinist, Miss Seydel, was easily the star of the evening. Her playing of the Faust Fantasia was exceptionally fine and you quite overpowered occasional harshness of tone while contemplating her marvelous technique. She responded with an exquisite piece that I thought possessed the true Mozartian flavor, so beautiful it was. Her playing, too, of an arrangement of a Chopin Nocturne was not the least of her evening's offerings. May she come again to Lowell.

Our Bird Companions of the Spring

About this time, when the weather conditions are at all favorable, the interested person in birdology goes forth in the early morning hours or at evening to welcome the returning birds and perhaps get a greeting from them. Properly dressed and armed only with a note book and field glasses the experienced bird hunter begins his quest which will not cease until that bird whose visit to our region is briefest is at an end, and his note book records an improvement, he hopes, over last year's work. Yet the number to engage in such systematic study of our native birds is surprisingly small; and it is that among us generally the most dense ignorance exists concerning those interesting and beautiful objects of animated nature, the birds of our fields and woods. How to awaken a wide interest in them is evidently a great problem and as difficult of solving as it is to awaken intelligent interest in trees and wild flowers and other objects that Nature so lavishly affords. The dweller in the country and the suburbs may have advantages over the liver in the city proper, it is true; but the latter could often afford an hour before sunset and a Sunday walk in which to add to his stock of useful and inspiring knowledge. Every suburb offers opportunities for observation that would result in rich results. A little reading, a little coaching and a good glass are all you need. And speaking of limitations I think it was Torrey himself who on Boston common alone found over 70 varieties of birds. So the interested city dweller should not become discouraged. It is simply surprising what you will find after you get started. These walks through woods and over fields with a given object in view will sharpen your powers of observation and inevitably open new fields for investigation and study which will prove both profitable and delightful.

Sure, License the Fisherman

Every true sportsman should be in favor of the bill in the legislature to license fishermen in this state. The fee, as I understand it, is $1.25, which also grants the right to hunt. The fund would be used in the maintenance of hatcheries in stocking ponds and streams and making the offices of fish and game wardens more efficient. In answer to those who oppose the bill by declaring it to mean "another graft" we would say, it is not so but rather an effective blow at fish grafters, better known as "fish-hogs," who are notorious for violating every fish law and who gather fish by the bushel rather than by the string who go out to skin every fishing place they visit and carry home fish measuring three or four inches in length, of every kind catchable.

I have heard some well known fishermen of this town brag about their "great catches" in ponds up along the Stony Brook region. I have even seen a bushel basket filled with pout taken from a pond in Groton, the average length of which wasn't more than five inches. Some of these "fish-hogs" should know better than to do this; but the chief and more numerous offenders in this respect are found among an ignorant and irresponsible class, who should, also, be given a salutary lesson in decency. There is no other way to do this but by effective legislation and to make the fish warden's office more important than it now is. Certain it is that unless something is done to abate this wholesale raid on the fish of our local streams and ponds, the picker, perch and pout are in danger of becoming as scarce as salmon in the Merrimack. It behooves all good fishermen in Lowell and vicinity who believe in regulating fish matters to send word to their state house representatives to see that the license bill goes through. It would help matters.

Who Hit the Janitors?

The implied strictures and open flurries contained in an alleged editorial of our morning contemporary, the other day as to the status of our school janitors is but one more instance of what animates the spirit of some men, who never did a hard day's work in their lives, towards less fortunately situated individuals. Coming particularly from a representative of a company but few years ago noted for having so many of its members or officials sucking from some fat public paps—and it is needless to specify the editorial in question strikes one as a case of exalted gall; and were it just, as it is not, it would denote a high degree of glaring inconsistency.

People have good memories and it is human nature, they say, to recall unpleasant things rather than pleasant ones; hence it is that much present

WATERY ERUPTION ON CHILD'S FACE

Would Dry and Form Scales. Disfigured While It Lasted. Looked Like Raw Steak. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

39 Court St., Exeter, N. H.—"My child's trouble began with an eruption on the left cheek and it rapidly spread until the entire cheek and well down the neck was covered with the watery eruption. It would dry and form scales and when the child rubbed it a watery substance would ooze out. My child was very restless at night and cried almost continually when her hands were tied to prevent her from scratching. It disfigured her while it lasted, as the entire side of her face was so broken out that it looked like a piece of raw beef steak. "I bought several things but none seemed to help. As I had read in the paper about Cuticura Soap and Ointment I sent for a sample, used them and they seemed to help. I immediately bought some Cuticura Soap and a large box of Cuticura Ointment and in less than two weeks' time the child's face was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Ida M. Dowe, Nov. 14, 1913.

In selecting a toilet and a skin soap why not procure one possessing delicate emollient properties sufficient to allay minor irritations, remove redness and roughness, prevent pore-clogging, soften and soothe sensitive skin, and promote skin and scalp health generally? Such a soap, combined with the purest of saponaceous ingredients and most fragrant and refreshing of flower odors, is Cuticura Soap. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

good is usually aborted by the remembrance of past evil.

Now the janitors of the school-houses of this city do not require defense from me. As a matter of fact, they are quite able to take care of themselves. Yet in view of the cheap slings of certain newspaper writers, the Man in the Moon, who knows most of them and something of their duties, will state that the janitors make up a fine body of men who are reliable and whose responsible duties are admirably performed. From any decent standard of living, their remuneration is not excessive. Yes, the job of janitor is a good job as jobs go, and why shouldn't it be? It takes a good man to be a good janitor of the public schools. If a janitor enjoys a few weeks' respite from regular duties in the summer, please remember the long months during which he is almost constantly on duty. For weeks at a time he begins his day's work at 5 o'clock or earlier in the morning, that your children may be comfortable. The rules that the janitor must observe are stringent and must not be violated. He is on the civil service list and is amenable to its regulations. He protects city property and several of them are special police officers. He is honest and faithful, kind and obliging, intelligent and economical, and if I had within reach any more bouquets to toss at him I sure would. He certainly shouldn't have his pay cut down to make up the deficiency in the school board's account any more than the municipal council should have his salaries temporarily reduced—not so much, for it's pretty well understood that the municipal council is responsible for the school's lack of funds. If the school committee are being made goats of by the municipal council, the school committee will not go so far as to make goats of the janitors after all. It would better not!

BAD DEATH TRAP

Hale's Brook Should be Fenced in Congress Avenue

The residents in the vicinity of Congress avenue are up in arms and it is very probable they will petition the municipal council to force the proprietors of the land abutting to Hale's brook to erect a proper fence on the banks of the brook in Congress avenue, a thoroughfare which leads to Gorham street, and which is used by pedestrians, for it affords a very short cut to Gorham street. A small wooden bridge spans the brook at this spot and the place is a real death trap and many are astonished that drownings are not more frequent there.

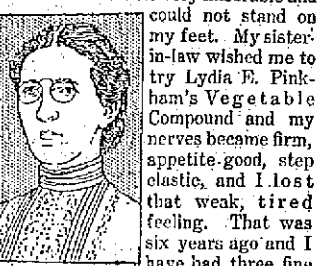

This is the spot where Little Marion Andrew of South Lawrence, who was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bradbury of 30 Congress avenue, lost her life by drowning on April 1, and it is reputed to be the worst death trap in the city, although Lowell is well supplied with dangerous places along the canals and the rivers.

The bridge across the brook at Congress avenue is located about 50 feet from Gorham street, and it is the rendezvous of numerous children, who enjoy themselves playing in the water. There is no protection whatever around that bridge and it is really surprising that more drownings are not reported. The land extends on each end of the bridge for a distance of about three feet along the water's edge, and this is not fenced in, and at night when it is very dark, one who is not very well acquainted with the premises could easily walk to a wa-

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KRAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's sufferings as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes

Time it! Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a tiny amount of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching or undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

tery grave. The bridge, which is built of thick planks, is also fenceless, and it is very frequent that children are seen sitting on the edge of the planks.

On the left side of the bridge as one enters the avenue from Gorham street there is a fence and between the fence and the bridge is a space about three feet wide. That is where the little Andrew girl fell to her death.

The water at that point is between six and 12 feet deep and just beyond the bridge are falls which drop about 25 feet. Since the last drowning accident the residents of the district fear for their children and many are seeking another location to reside. It is believed that although the avenue has not been accepted by the city, surroundings of the brook could be fenced in, or the thoroughfare closed by the city.

The following communication relative to the recent drowning of Little Marion Andrew has been received at this office from Harry W. J. Howe, who is deeply interested in preventing drownings, and who has already written a letter to the mayor about the many death traps in Lowell and the best method to prevent accidental deaths:

Several days ago another life was blotted out, sacrificed, and a South Lawrence home brought to grief. Little four-year-old Marion Andrew, visiting relatives in Congress avenue, fell off the narrow bridge that spans Hale's brook, and another life is added to the long list of drowning casualties in the death-traps of Lowell's waterways. This human tragedy which has been going on for years, is permitted because of cupidity, stupidity and brutal official indifference and neglect of duty, and the man or woman of Lowell who will not raise his or her voice in consequence of these tragedies is without public or personal conscience. The canals and other waterways of Lowell flowing through the most congested districts are not properly protected, owned and operated by powerful influential moneyed interests, who regard dollars of greater value than the lives of children. How much longer is this disregard of human life to continue? How much longer are we to have this utter indifference on the part of men in authority? It is time that an aroused public sentiment should move officials at city hall to some action in closing up these death-traps throughout the city. Are the waterways to be protected or shall we continually sit quiet and continue to read from time to time of a few hundred more little children "going to a watery grave."

Very truly,
Harry W. J. Howe

LADY LOOKABOUT

Just when we have learned to love the little narrow clinging skirt, we are compelled to give it up for the floppy unbecoming garment with a continually growing fullness above the knees. The bound-ankle effect is still retained, and really, don't you like it? When have women looked so feminine, so nearly helpless, as they have since these hobble effects have come among us. It delights my heart to see the woman of a few years ago, whose very stride and manner of progress invariably cleared the way before her, now ambling along with tiny, impeded steps, and looking so helpless that she is positively child-like, and paradoxical as it may seem, the way opens before her fully as effectively as it did years ago.

And the new hats with their stiff little wings standing opposite each other, just as two chickens with lowered heads charge on each other, are to you youths after the heavy hats of winter. Never have I seen so many flower hats so early in the season. Those of our friends who fear we may become masculine with the advance of equal suffrage, need never fear, while flower-hats are among the millinery conceptions. No woman, no matter how advanced she may be, or how strong-minded or positive she may be, can ever so far forget her Eve-given prerogative, when brought face to face with a flower-hat. Something primal within her thrills at the sight of it, and she longs to seize it and holding to her heart the beautiful blossoms, so suggestive of wide eyes, smiling little lips, and babies, she longs to own it, and she does. There are many phases to the exquisite tortures a woman passes through when she chooses a new hat, and when men come to know these things they will have much closer sympathy with us. I wonder if this may not be one reason why men milliners as a rule are so successful?

Catch Them Resigning

A lesson may well be taken by many in the city of Minneapolis, a new line of business has been opened. A very progressive florist started it. It is the placing of window boxes on the downtown windows of stores and offices. These boxes are placed, filled, and cared for by the firm of florists who solicited the work, for a small sum annually. The effect of blooming plants adds much to the beauty of any window, but when it is the window of a dingy law office, the effect is almost magical. I wish somebody would start this movement in Lowell. Just imagine, the magnificent Sun building with a lovely box of blooming plants in each window! It would rival the hanging gardens of Babylon, and who knows? They might soften the hearts of many who in their daily tasks have grown away from nature, and the beauties she is continually unfolding to eyes, which, alas, refuse to see.

Against Fake Advertising

After much agitation in regard to fake advertising, the act of 1912 forbidding the dissemination of untrue and misleading advertising, is about to be enforced in this commonwealth. Any person or firm who advertises in this way shall be liable to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $500. For a long time there has been a crying need of this act, and although it is very comprehensive, it could go a step further and make the publisher, in whose columns such advertising appears, liable to the same fine. Many of the best newspapers and magazines vouch for the genuineness of the assertions made in the advertisements, but all of them do not, and while it often appears that the publisher is virtually a partner in the deception, it is probably because he feels that the advertiser complies with the terms of his periodical, the publisher's responsibility is ended. This is not as it should be. Every publisher should satisfy himself that every assertion and claim made by an advertiser is made in good faith and is backed by integrity. I will expect to see a few advertisements disappear from view within a short time, as they are in direct violation of the spirit of the act.

The Importunate Nerve

When such an essential part of our urban economy as the vending newsboy becomes a public nuisance, something should be done at least to suppress him. The public should be protected from the heckling and importuning. This does not apply to all newsboys, of course, for many among them are perfect little gentlemen. In the vicinity of Merrimack square, within a week, I saw a young man in company with a lady approached by a newsboy. Evidently the man did not choose to buy a paper; then the urchin began his siege: "Ah, buy a paper. Buy a paper. Show the lady you're game." Encouraged by the smiles on the faces of those in the immediate neighborhood, he kept up this bantering, until the man beckoned to a policeman, when "newsie" took to his heels. This is not the first time incidents of this kind have taken place, and always they are not on the street. I have been told of just such another which occurred at the entrance of a downtown restaurant. The man in the case, not choosing to buy, was made the object of such abuse, that he called the attention of the proprietor of the restaurant to it. He was informed that the boys had been ordered away from the entrance there and again, even by the police, but to no avail. They seem to think a man with a lady is a sure customer, and when he fails them they undertake to show him up as a skinflint. Somebody should instruct these newsboys in the proper treatment of the public.

Sarcasm in Women

Of all the mean things a person can indulge in, I think sarcasm the meanest, and when one woman is sarcastic to another, it is the very quintessence of meanness. I was present at a small gathering a short time ago, which fell on an evening when the clouds hung low, and showers threatened. One young woman present was decidedly overdressed for the occasion. Presently a young girl entered, gowned in a simple, sweet little dress, which added much to her youthful appearance. She had used care in dressing, and every detail showed it, from her fresh neck-ruching to her patent leather pumps. She had the misfortune to take a seat beside the over-dressed party, whose chiffon gown was sadly in need of pressing. This is what we overheard her say to her little neighbor: "So sensible of you to wear an old thing you didn't care about; I wish I had," and yet we all knew and she knew, too, that the little neighbor had worn her very best.

Why Gorman Street Sagg

I am not a bit surprised that Gorman street has sagged near the new Appleton street sewer trench. The wonder is that it did not sag earlier in the week, there are so many spectators of the work going on there. No street could stand for long, the combined weights of the hundreds who gather daily in the vicinity. I suppose idle curiosity attracts many; to others, the fascination of a large number of men working, for one whose time hangs heavy on his hands makes its appeal. I suppose there are also many other reasons, but be they what they may, the result is the same, and the poor street has entered its silent but significant protest. There are those, whom many of us no doubt, know well, who would like to see the ground open and swallow the potatoes, to have it reappear in the neighborhood of Merrimack square, but they are to be disappointed, for the present at least.

Preserving Eggs

This is the season, of all the year, when eggs are so plentiful, and the price so low, that many farseeing housekeepers plan to preserve some for use when the prices are beyond the purse of the ordinary mortal. This is done by means of a preparation known as water glass, which is made by mixing at 40 cents a gallon, or may be prepared at home by dissolving a few cents' worth of the salt known scientifically as sodium silicate. The preparation is a thick, syrupy solution. The eggs are placed in a crock or other receptacle, and covered with the liquid. As more eggs are added, more of the liquid is used, but they may always be well covered. The preserving effect of water glass is due to its action on the shell, in combination with which it forms a sort of cement by which the shell is rendered absolutely air-tight, thus preventing the entrance of bacteria which cause the eggs to decay. It is impossible to

FOR A CLEANER LOWELL

Taking advantage of the spring spirit that actuates all people in a desire for general cleanliness the board of trade has taken up the suggestion of a clean-up day with energy and thoroughness, and in the near future it is probable that we shall see a clean-up campaign that will outrival that of last year, and do a great deal towards the furthering of a permanent spirit for all that relates to civic cleanliness. It is vain to talk of the city beautiful while the streets are muddy and the alleys courts, business streets and private lawns are littered with the refuse of winter and no campaign for mere beauty would be adequate or effective unless it made cleanliness its first requisite.

No better way to inaugurate such a movement and to carry it to a successful conclusion could be taken than that commenced a day or two ago by a conference in the board of trade rooms between the mayor, the city engineer, the heads of the fire and police departments, the head of the park department, the board of trade committee, and many others interested in all that relates to general cleanliness and sanitation. A clean-up campaign is a serious phase of municipal activity and the best results can be obtained only by the different departments working in harmony for a common end. When once it is generally understood that the city is going about such work in earnest a feeling of enthusiasm will be kindled that will not subside until Lowell gets rid of her grimy aspect and looks down at her own fair and spotless reflection in the Merrimack.

Though the clean-up spirit should stir up our public to action without the necessity arising for police activity, the campaign will be made fully effective if the police be given the power to enforce the demands of the general committee. Even should 90 per cent. of those who live on a street be actuated by the proper spirit, the other ten would prevent the cleanliness that is possible unless there is some judicious power behind the agitation. No body is better able to reach all parts of the city than the members of the police department and if full publicity is given to the campaign it shall only be necessary for the police officer on the beat to call the attention of owners or tenants to some abuse, to get the best results. Ignorance cannot be accepted as an excuse in a matter of this nature. It is gratifying to observe that one phase of clean-up activity long suggested by The Sun is now being generally agitated, viz.: that suitable receptacles be provided for rubbish and litter in the business part of the city and that the police insist on their use by the public which now throws waste matter on the streets without a thought of general cleanliness or neatness.

No better time could be selected by the fire department to make a thorough canvass of the congested districts with an eye to the removal of fire hazards than during the clean-up campaign, for there is a direct connection between general neatness and fire prevention. The captain of each fire house should see to it that his respective territory is covered thoroughly, and here, too, a hint or even the expected visit is all that is necessary to wake people from their lethargy. If the period be extended over a few weeks there is no reason why residential and business Lowell should not be covered and inspected thoroughly, thus removing the fire risk appreciably.

If the city, backed up by civic organizations, do its share, there is no reason to suppose that the citizens generally will not co-operate in giving Lowell a spring cleaning that will set a new standard. Collars, attics, corridors, closets and all nooks and corners, sidewalks, lanes and alleys, will be cleared of rubbish that should go to the city dump; lawns, walks and yards will be tidied and put in order; gardens will be spruced up and made presentable; windows will be washed and walls will be painted. Now is the time while the fever is in the air. Get together heads of departments and all who are interested, and the people of Lowell will respond readily. Let us all get busy so that a few months from now Lowell may look far more clean and consequently far more beautiful and healthful.

EASTER TIME

Even though we had never heard the beautiful story of the resurrection of Christ, it is there not something in the air of Easter time that breathes of triumph and of hope? For months the earth has been held in icy bands. The rivers have been stifled by restraining barriers and the winds have been cold and keen. The trees, bereft of their summer shade, have stood like memories of departed joys and all the glories of the morning sunrise or of the evening sunset failed to breathe into inanimate nature a message of life. Being of the earth and having the primitive call in our inmost hearts, we, too, have begun to feel that in our daily tasks we have been weaving on the wrong side of the tapestry, and we have longed to see the other side, a little clearer, perhaps, lest the pattern should have been spoiled.

and the spring birds and with a greater promise in the stirring pussy willow twines than all the glory of summer can bring. The brooks, released from their icy barriers, sparkle and sing anew; the sunshine steals faint colors from the pine boughs; no wine of the Kublai-khan was more invigorating than the cool breeze. Life is again worth living and even in the darkest cloud we may see the glint of a silver lining if we but lift up our eyes with hope and trust.

In its natural application and in its emotional aspect Easter has a joyous appeal, but its full significance is in its religious sense. The trappings of mourning have been put aside; sorrow and lamentation are ended; the organs and the bells have found a renewed voice and the wood of the cross has bloomed out into roses and lilies. With incense and flowers and music and songs of joy the church celebrates the triumph over death and sin, and from many a heart angels of God roll away the stone of doubt and of spiritual blindness. Like the light that shone around the Roman soldiers shines the light of hope and with the adoring women of the Bible, we fall on our knees and adore. What are suffering and pain and sorrow if after the dark way of the passion shall shine for us all the glory of an Easter morning? Well may we lift up our hearts and join with the church in its glorious Hallelujahs of jubilation.

THE GUNMEN

No stone is being left unturned in an effort to save from the electric chair the four gunmen of New York sentenced to die for the murder of Rosenfeld, the gambler. In one of the cases, at least, affidavits and alleged new evidence have been introduced at the eleventh hour and though one may wonder why those who would now shield him did not come forward earlier, it may be that a delay is desirable in order to clear away any shadow of doubt concerning the guilt of all four before the day of execution arrives. Apart from the legal side it seems almost unnecessarily cruel that four should die for the death of one, especially when there is almost a certainty that they were merely the tools of a more guilty schemer. Had Becker not been favored by a decision of the higher courts to get away, would have been but little sympathy for the gunmen, but when it is known that he is in a fair way of being freed, their lot seems harder than that of the usual murderer. As they wait in their youth for the summons of the executioner, they are a terrible warning to all who are in danger of taking the first steps that may lead to the ways of gamblers and gunmen.

SUICIDE HYSTERIA

Some newspapers are poking fun at the head of the University of Pennsylvania who recently sent for Billy Sunday to hold revival meetings among the students in order to check what the college head called a "suicide epidemic." Three of the students had taken their lives a short time previously, apparently on slight pretexts, and the shocking events made the noted educator turn to things spiritual for a remedy. Though this may be taken in a humorous sense by the flippant or the irreverent, even in the University of Pennsylvania—for the average college student may be expected to find something funny even in suicide—it gives rise to serious thought. Possibly the sending for the famous evangelist was not the wisest course for the college head to pursue but it was an indication in his belief that suicides largely spring from neglect of religion and all that it implies. If the home influences of the self-slayers were understood one could find the basis for their death probably in the materialism, divorce evils and lack of restraint of much modern society life.

crans of the Balkan wars which is to take place in our Greek colony on Sunday in connection with the celebration in honor of the freedom of Greece is a lesson in patriotism which no body of men in the community should ignore. Without bravado or appeals to sentimentality and merely in a sense of duty hundreds of the local colony returned home at the call of their king and many who so went back left their bones on the battlefields of the Balkan peninsula. Should there be a war with Mexico tomorrow, could America depend on the loyalty of those of her ex-patriates who live under other flags? The Greeks who fought so valiantly for their own land would fight as readily for their adopted land did the occasion demand it, and those of them who have come here to add to our desirable foreign population are richly deserving of the honors showered on them. The Sun adds its congratulations to those of their own people and of all the patriotic people of Lowell.

LATE GOVERNOR DRAPER

In honoring the late Eben S. Draper, Massachusetts honors a sturdy politician of the old school who was as much the man of business as the man of politics and acted accordingly in all his official actions. A staunch republican of the days before a new spirit of unrest crept into all parties, he was out of touch with modern political ideals but he stood for the principles of a former age without forfeiting the respect of those who favor the new. He deserves to rank high in the estimation of the republican party of Massachusetts, and he never forfeited the respect of any party. In private life he was sincere, kindly and broad in his views and his conservative policies made of him a governor to which history ought to be kind.

COMMON SENSE ABOUT COLDS

The Only Time to Be Frightened Over a Cold is When You Neglect It

Thousands of people die every year from the effects of neglected colds. A cold, you know, is a germ disease. We live in over-heated homes and offices and factories. We travel in badly ventilated street cars. We dress too warmly. And as a result our skin and the membranes of our throat and nose become over sensitive. We are not able to resist the attacks of the deadly little microbes. The first unusual exposure to cold or dampness opens the door and the invading army comes in. We begin to sneeze and cough and shiver. Then is the time when quick action is necessary. Delay means deadly danger. La Grippe with its long train of serious after-effects, pneumonia, rheumatism, all follow in the train of the neglected cold. When you feel those first shivery indications of a cold—act—and act quickly.

Ask your druggist for a box of Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine Tablets. A few doses will knock out the cold in twenty-four hours. La Grippe will be cured in three days—we guarantee this. Your money will be refunded if it fails. Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine Tablets have been used by Cold sufferers all over the United States for fifteen years. They are positively harmless, have no unpleasant effects and always do their work. You will find them in practically any drug store in the United States, and the druggist will tell you that they have come to be a thoroughly standard remedy. Be sure you get the genuine—the box with the red top and Mr. Hill's picture on it. You can't afford to experiment with substitutes. Hill's is standard. It is manufactured by W. H. Hill Company of Detroit and is sold by druggists everywhere. Price 25c.

THE SPELLBINDER

Now that the Massachusetts legislature has voted by a substantial majority to submit the question of a woman suffrage amendment of the constitution to the voters, the advocates of the change are jubilant, feeling that victory may crown their efforts at the polls. But they had better not be too certain. The cause of woman suffrage everywhere has been greatly weakened by the outrageous tactics adopted by the militant suffragettes of England.

Who can read of the outrages perpetrated by the militants in London and elsewhere without a feeling of disgust and even of shame to think that women supposed to be respectable and habited with proper respect for the law, will resort to the use of the bomb and the torch for the wanton destruction of celebrated works of art, and historic mansions among the most famous in the country.

Militants Have Injured Their Cause

The antics of Mrs. Pankhurst as leader of the "arson" and other gangs sent out to commit depredations and to assault public officials, are highly disgraceful and if resorted to by men would speedily bring them long terms of imprisonment. But the militants feel that their sex protects them and in this they are right for it has done so thus far in England. The only law passed to cope with the suffragette outrages is the "Cat and Mouse" act under which the women may be liberated on parole on condition of their good behavior. They have resorted to the hunger strike as a means of forcing the officials to set them free; and as soon as they get out, they start to commit the same outrages for which they were convicted. The government is being severely criticized for excessive leniency in dealing with these persistent marauders, but if it allowed them to starve to death in prison, there would be such an outcry of sympathy that the movement would receive a fresh and possibly an irresistible impetus.

The English people in spite of the vast losses inflicted by the militants are not going to yield to their demands, at least until the suffragettes change their policy or act more like sane and sensible beings.

Anti-Suffragists Active

In all probability the hysterical action of the English suffragettes has given new life to the anti-suffragist movement, in this country, and especially here in Massachusetts where the "anties" are quite active in spreading their organization and distributing their literature. They now have branches in all the leading towns and cities of this state and only last week a branch was organized here in Lowell. This will help to crystallize the opposition to woman suffrage in this vicinity. Mrs. Henry Preston White of Boston, is the chief organizer and the most active and intelligent worker against the equal suffrage movement in this state as her daily contributions to the press, her speeches and work of organization will abundantly attest. She is not a fanatic, but in her calm, dignified and conservative style, she presents the strongest arguments that can be adduced against the extension of the franchise and let me say that notwithstanding all counter claims there are very strong arguments.

Woman Suffrage Elsewhere

As to the prevalence of woman suffrage in other countries I find that Norway, federated Australia, Finland, Sweden, New Zealand, Iceland and China give full suffrage; women are eligible to all offices in Finland and Norway; throughout Canada women have municipal suffrage and in Ontario school suffrage also. In France, women engaged in commerce, may vote for judges of the tribunals of commerce; in Denmark women who are taxpayers or the wives of taxpayers may vote for all but members of parliament; in Belgium women may vote for and are eligible as members of the parliamentary councils; in Great Britain and Ireland suffrage is granted for all but members of parliament; full parliamentary suffrage in the Isle of Man; in 1907 women were made eligible as mayors, aldermen, town and county councillors in England; the Kingdom of Wurtemberg and two provinces in Austria granted partial suffrage to women in 1910, while Swedish women were made eligible for election in 1912.

In the United States

What is the present status of woman suffrage in this country? Women have now complete suffrage on the same terms as men in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Kansas, Oregon and Arizona; school suffrage in twenty-four states, including Massachusetts; taxpayers' suffrage in five; bond suffrage in Iowa; library suffrage in Minnesota, while in Louisiana women have the right to vote on all matters of taxation.

In the American states in which woman suffrage has been in full force for years, no revolution has been noticed in any direction as a result. The laws seem certainly not any better than the laws of states wherein women do not vote. It is also doubtful if they are any better than they would have been if the women did not possess the suffrage. On the liquor question especially it might be expected that women would exercise their influence on the side of prohibition but on this question also it would appear that the vote of the women has not had any great positive effect. In only one of the states, namely Kansas, is there constitutional prohibition, while of the others there is license in two and local option in six. The secretary of a Pacific coast liquor organization stated to the San Francisco Examiner recently: "We have made a thorough investigation in the states where woman suffrage has been tried and learned that the liquor business has not been hurt in the least by women's vote."

According to the Denver Post when prohibition was submitted in 1912, the women of the state who were eligible to vote were 100,000. The women who were eligible to vote were 100,000. The women who were eligible to vote were 100,000.

The state of Michigan came within 751 votes of adopting woman suffrage in 1912 and the suffragists insisted upon the question being submitted again in 1913 when it was defeated by the voters. The women who were eligible to vote were 100,000.

The Coming Battle
The great question soon to be decided is what the voters of Massachusetts will do with woman suffrage. It is alleged by certain politicians that the legislature voted in favor of submission simply as a means of disposing of the matter in the easiest way and confident that the voters will kill the amendment. Of this there is a very great probability unless sentiment changes very much in favor of the suffragists in the meantime. The contest would bring a picturesque campaign of course. All the leading suffragists of the country would be drafted while the anties would not be so. The liquor interests, it is safe to say, would be firmly opposed to giving women the ballot but any open campaign from that source would probably aid the movement instead of injuring it. Another legislature must be elected before the people can have an opportunity to pass upon it. In the meantime the pending forces will exert all their influence, though there is but slight chance that as a result Massachusetts will become a suffrage state.

The Feminist Movement
Complicated with the suffrage movement is the feminist propaganda which seeks to overrule, explain away or remove the points that in the advocates of daily life differentiate woman from man and mainly to her disadvantage.

Dr. Stanton Coll states that wifehood has all the characteristics of slavery, work without wage, no special honor, no right to change employers. Hence, feminism would naturally incite wives to revolt against such close attention to domestic duties, if not against motherhood. Morrison Swift believes "feminism should" and will bring about free love and that the suffragette who is not also a great deal more than suffragette will help very little in the emancipation of woman. The mere ballot itself, he says, is of no more value than a surgical instrument in the hands of a person ignorant of its use. In this lies the difference between suffragism and feminism.

Some people are of the opinion that with woman suffrage in full force, new movements may come up in which the women will be directly opposed to the men on certain issues to be decided at the polls. It is also assumed that in hot election contests of this kind the women might resort even then to some of the militant tactics adopted in England in order to carry their demands over all opposition.

In this country some prominent agitators and writers, such as Lincoln Steffens and Professor Zueblin, are inciting the women suffragists to more militant methods, evidently suggesting the adoption of the same methods now being used in England. Mr. Steffens at a recent meeting of women in New York said: "If the minority of women get it, they should destroy property or anything else." The man who would advocate the application of the bomb and the torch will bear watching. Woman suffrage will win, if at all, in this and other states by sane and sensible methods, without any resort to militant tactics, hysteria or anything

Hours of Assessors

The bill now before the legislature providing that boards of assessors shall be placed under civil service rules cannot fail to have good results because the assessors of property should be so far removed from political influences that they can discharge their duties honestly and faithfully without any fear of arbitrary removal from office or of coming within the sweep of the politician's power. The board of assessors should be held outside the spoils system and this cannot be done in any better way than by placing them under the civil service regulations. The passage of such a law should be welcomed by the local board of assessors in view of their recent experience. The bill, however, I understand would place the power of appointment in the hands of the mayor of each city. In cities having the commission form of government this would be a manifest injustice as the mayor is but one of a board of five members supposed to have equal powers in the election of subordinate officers and department heads. If the bill is meant to apply to cities living under the commission form of government such as Lowell, and I am informed that it does, then this particular feature should be changed. The municipal board, not the mayor, should fill vacancies in the board of assessors.

THE SPELLBINDER

SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD FINISHES ITS WORK AT NEW YORK—MANY PAPERS READ

NEW YORK, April 11.—The simplified spelling board, which has been holding its eighth annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, finished its work yesterday with the announcement that more than 8000 words have been reformed or corrected.

Among the members who took part in the sessions of the convention were William Archer, English author; Prof. Chas. H. Grandgent of Harvard, William Trufant Foster, president of Reed College; Henry Gallup Paine, Professor Brander Matthews of Columbia, Henry Holt, publisher and author; Dr. Abram Cullen, Prof. Calvin Thomas of Columbia, George H. Darrin, Dr. Melvil Dewey and William F. MacLean, M. P., editor of the Toronto World.

The board asserts that simplified spelling is catching on rapidly and that more interest is being shown by colleges, universities, schools, newspapers and business concerns than in other years. In Illinois 16 colleges and universities have promised to adopt the standards of the board and the movement has been advanced materially in other states. The principal work of the board at present is interesting schools and colleges. It was said.

William Archer told the convention that a petition would be presented soon to Prime Minister Asquith asking for the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the merits of the movement. Mr. Archer said he expected the premier to acquiesce and that the commission would be a big victory for simplified spelling.

Papers were read by Mr. Archer, Prof. Grandgent, Prof. Matthews, Mr. Holt, Dr. Gleason and others.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

Held at the Local Episcopal Churches
Last Evening—Children's Service in Forenoon

The Good Friday services at St. Anne's church were held yesterday forenoon for the children. Rev. S. H. Hille, the liquor interests, it is safe to say, would be firmly opposed to giving women the ballot but any open campaign from that source would probably aid the movement instead of injuring it.

Morning prayer with communion service was held at St. John's Episcopal church, yesterday morning. In the afternoon a children's service was held, at the church last night.

MAYOR TO NAME

Board of Assessors if
Bill Before Legislature
Passes

If a bill now before the legislature should become law the assessors of taxes, now elected by the municipal council, would be appointed by the mayor and the board would come under civil service.

The bill was ordered to a third reading in the senate yesterday afternoon. Senator Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford, chairman of the committee on cities which reported the bill favorably, said that he anticipated that the bill will successfully pass both branches of the legislature.

The bill provides that the mayor or the executive officer of any city or town shall hereafter appoint the assessors and assistant assessors who are required to take civil service regulations. The assessors who are in office at the time of the passage of the bill will not be required to undergo the civil service examinations but will be

POPE'S EASTER MESSAGE

LONDON, April 16.—In a message to the world for Easter, the pope, through the Standard's Rome correspondent, says:

"The message of the church to the world at Easter is the eternal one. It is this—Christ has risen. But, though the message is an old one, it has its application always to the newest events. Hence it is a message which always has a new force."

"Christ rose to bring peace to the world. It is thus the duty of his followers to strive to bring about peace."

"I pray, and I desire that all should pray, that this Easter may bring peace to all the world."

"In our minds there rises first of all the thought of two regions of the earth which most of all at the present time stand in need of this blessing—the Balkans in the Old World, Mexico in the New World. May Easter bring them peace."

"May all who control the destinies of the nations work to this end, and with this peace may there come inspiration into the minds of all men, and especially all rulers, that their ideal which alone is a guarantee of universal peace should be instaurare omnia in Christum (to build everything on Christ)."

Man Arrested on Suspicion of Robbing Boston Store

PROVIDENCE, April 16.—Efforts to identify John C. Dunbar, arrested here last night with a small arsenal, as the man who robbed the Timothy Smith & Co. department store in Boston of $5000 last Sunday night failed today. Inspectors O'Neill and Burke of the Boston police, who came here to see the man found that his description in many ways resembled that of the robber.

FELL FROM POLE

Axel Anderson, a lineman in the employ of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. who lives at 32 Viola st., received a severe shaking up this afternoon when he fell from one of the company's poles on Fourth street opposite the fire house.

Anderson was working on the pole about 20 feet above the ground when his climber slipped out and he slid rapidly down to the pavement. His feet and ankles were badly swollen and his back received a heavy jar.

The injured lineman was taken into the Fourth street engine house and Dr. Jewett was called. The physician was not sure that Anderson's back had not suffered more than appearances indicated and a call for the ambulance was sent in. He was taken to St. John's hospital where he is now resting comfortably.

DAIGLES ON TRIAL
PORTLAND, Me., April 16.—Charged with having conspired to conceal assets of a bankrupt estate to the amount of $5000, Hubalda R. Daigle of Frenchville, his brother, Arthur R. Daigle of Fort Kent, and his uncle Dominic Daigle of Fort Kent were placed on trial in the federal court today. More than a score of witnesses were called by the government and the trial may continue a week or ten days.

TO CALL OFF STRIKE
CALUMET, Mich., April 16.—Copper country locals of the Western Federation of Miners decided today to take a referendum vote next Sunday on the question of calling off the strike which has been waged since July 23, 1913.

SUPERIOR COURT
The case of Harvey vs. Forgays was given to the jury shortly after two o'clock this afternoon and court then adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning. A sealed verdict will be returned in the above case and opened when court comes in Monday.

SHE LOST HER WAY
Mrs. Bertha Berthume, an old lady over 70 years of age, and whose home is in Barre, Vt., came to the police station late this afternoon in a pitiful state of exhaustion. She had been wandering through the streets of the city since early morning.

The old lady is stopping for a few days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Lord, of 740 Lawrence street, and has not been in the best of health since her arrival in Lowell. Early today she was missed by her daughter and until the police notified the late of her mother's whereabouts the family were frantically trying to locate her.

It was thought that Mrs. Berthume had wandered away from the house and fallen into the canal and the police were called upon to aid the family in their search. How the old lady happened to locate the police station is not known for she is not acquainted here. She was taken to her daughter's home in a carriage.

TEXTILE SCHOOL

Faculty and Students
Busy on Plans for
Their Exhibit

The students and faculty of the Lowell textile school are busy these days in preparing their exhibit which will be shown at the textile show, which will be conducted in Mechanics building, Boston, from April 27 to May 2 inclusive.

The display will consist of products of the school, including textile materials made by students, machines in operation, drawings and designs, parts of machines made by students, as well as dyeing materials. The machines on exhibition, which will be operated by students of the school will include a worsted and cotton comb, a cotton loom and a piece-dyeing machine. The different courses of the school will be shown by means of a large picture representing the exterior and interior of the buildings of the school, and an explanation of the various studies will also be given. The school exhibit will be one of the largest ever prepared by this institution.

The graduation exercises at the school will be held on May 6, when 25 certificates will be awarded. The principal speaker has not yet been chosen, and the announcement will be made at a later date. The exercises will be held at Southwick hall.

DISKING ACT

The unusual spectacle of a middle-aged man doing a disking act at the corner of Merrimack and John streets about 2 o'clock this afternoon, drew a large crowd of passersby to the vicinity and congested traffic for several minutes.

Officer Joseph Considine, however, noticed the crowd and immediately started from Merrimack square for the scene. A man, with coat and vest already removed, was in the act of taking off his shirt when the officer put in his appearance.

Without wasting any time in preliminaries, Officer Considine ushered the would-be "September Morn" into Balley's drug store. There it learned that the man's name, Peter Patinaude, who resides at corner of Main and Plain streets, ambulance was summoned and the robber was taken to his home, as police were unable to ascertain "what the man."

RACES TROLLEY CAR

MOUNTED POLICEMAN CATCHES TWO FUGITIVES WHEN CAR STOPS AT OPEN DRAWBRIDGE

BOSTON, April 10.—A race between a mounted policeman and a trolley car, with the odds on the car until they reached an open drawbridge, ended yesterday afternoon on Dorchester avenue with the arrest of two men in the front vestibule on charges of highway robbery.

The men under arrest, William D. Edwards, of 508 Columbus avenue and Frank B. Lorenz, of 78 West Rutland square, robbed Solomon Ingalls of Portland, Me., of $30 on Congress street, it is said.

Mounted Officer Thomas Connolly had been watching the two men, who met Ingalls on Dewey square, and walked him along Atlantic avenue until Congress street was reached. The officer followed at a distance and heard a cry for help. He saw the two men come along, they boarded it.

The officer made his way along the crowded thoroughfare and kept the car in sight, but was not successful in stopping it. However, just as it reached the Dorchester avenue bridge, the gates were closed for a steamer to pass through.

Connolly rode up to the front of the car and ordered the motorman to open the door, but the motorman failed to understand. Connolly then rapped on the window of the car where he saw the pair and ordered them to come out.

ros' lecture to women at the women's municipal league, 6 Marlboro street yesterday afternoon.

Her topic was "Some Aspects of the Social Hygiene Movement."

Dr. Yarros is chairman of the social hygiene committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and is lecturing under the auspices of the American Medical association, public health education committee.

"We would all prefer," said she, "that parents take this responsibility of ascertaining the fitness of the prospective husband of their daughter, but unfortunately such responsibility will be neglected while the knowledge of certain facts is yet insufficiently known to the general public, consequently the burden falls on the state. We must have laws passed by the legislature substantially like those of California and Illinois, which require a clean bill of health. The campaign which would be required to pass such laws would in itself be of inestimable value."

"The state already interferes with marriage by making certain requirements. It seems perfectly reasonable to me that if such a law were passed a larger number of men would take steps to make themselves fit for marriage."

SHOT THROUGH HEART

ARGUMENT OVER WOMAN SUFFRAGE THE CAUSE OF MURDER IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 10.—As the result of a shooting, which was caused by an argument over woman suffrage, a well-dressed man, believed to be William Woods of San Francisco, is dead, and James Franche, alias "Duffy the Goat," is being sought by the police on a murder charge. A young woman is also wanted in connection with the murder.

The shooting took place Wednesday night in a cafe in what was formerly the segregated district. Woods, Franche and the woman were said to have been drinking together in the cafe when argument over equal suffrage arose.

The Californian contended that women had the right to vote. According to the story told the police, Franche took exception to the westerner's remarks and shot him through the heart.

SUIT FOR RECEIVERSHIP

BOSTON, April 10.—President Calvin Austin of the Metropolitan Steamship Co. and Galen L. Stone, a director, testified today that they accepted their positions at the request of E. D. Robbins, one of the attorneys of the New Haven road, but that they did not know whether the New Haven was behind the company or its subsequent transfer to the Eastern S. S. corporation.

The testimony was given at the masters' hearing in the suit of the minority stockholders of the Metropolitan S. S. Co. for a receivership and cancellation of the lease of the steamers Harvard and Yale by the Pacific Navigation Co.

Mr. Stone said he assisted in the organization of the Eastern S. S. corporation, which took over the Metropolitan property, having become a director of the latter company at the suggestion of Mr. Robbins. Mr. Robbins told him that he (Robbins) represented the owners but did not say who they were. He was assured later by Mr. Robbins that the New Haven road was not behind the Metropolitan. Mr. Stone said he merely held one share, that he was ignorant of the business of the Metropolitan and that the question of sending the Harvard and Yale to the Pacific coast never came up before the directors when he was present.

Mr. Austin testified that he never inquired of Mr. Robbins who owned the Metropolitan company and did not question the order from Mr. Robbins to get the Harvard and Yale ready for the Pacific coast. Robbins, he said, had charge of the payment of the bills. The directors were not consulted about sending the ships to the Pacific. Mr. Austin said that when he became president of the Metropolitan Mr. Robbins asked him to submit all important questions to him.

Some eight years ago at the suggestion of President D. C. Wing of the First National bank of Boston, he said, he had conferred with President Melien of the New Haven regarding the Harvard and Yale which were then under construction. Mr. Melien then gave no intimation as to whether he favored the establishment of an opposition service to New York. Mr. Austin received a salary of $4000 a year as president of the Metropolitan company.

REV. EUGENE J. VINCENT

Young Priest From Salem Coming to St. Louis' Church—Rev. E. J. Comeau Transferred

Rev. Eugene J. Vincent of Salem, Mass., a young clergyman who was ordained to the priesthood on Monday, April 6, has been assigned as assistant pastor of St. Louis' church, this city, by William Cardinal O'Connell, and the young priest will begin his new duties next Monday.

The coming of the young priest to St. Louis' parish will necessitate some changes in the parish, and accordingly Rev. E. J. Comeau, who has been acting assistant pastor for the past six months, will be transferred to another field. Rev. Fr. Comeau came here shortly after the death of the beloved pastor, the late Rev. J. N. Jacques, or shortly after the appointment of the present pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere.

During his short stay in the parish the young clergyman, who came from Nova Scotia, made a host of friends, who will be grieved to learn of his departure.

The new assistant pastor, Rev. Eugene J. Vincent, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Trefle Vincent of Salem. He was born at St. Elizabeth, Que., Sept. 16, 1887. He pursued his studies at the Joliette college and later entered the Grand seminary at Montreal, Que., where he remained three years. A year ago he made his entrance at St. John's seminary, Brighton, and last Monday he was ordained by His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell.

The young clergyman will celebrate his first mass at St. Joseph's church, Salem, Sunday morning at 10.30 o'clock, and Monday morning he will come to this city to assume his new duties. He is a brilliant young man and there is no doubt that within a short time he will make many friends in Lowell, inasmuch as he is young and active. It is probable that he will be given the care of the young men of the parish.

Fr. Vincent has four brothers, Silas, Alister, Almerie and Adrien, all residing in St. Elizabeth, Que., as well as four sisters, Mrs. Zoltigue Belleville, Mrs. Philippe Boulanger and the Misses Flore and Aurora Vincent, all of Salem.

FOR REPORT OF TODAY'S CLOSING
OF STREET DEPRESSION

The cause of the sagging of the pavement in Gorham street, near Appleton street, is not due to a sewer break and is believed now to have been caused by a break in a water main.

The men employed in installing a sewer in Appleton street came upon a depression yesterday morning, nearly a foot in depth, in Gorham street, the depression causing a sinking of pavement and street car rails.

It was first thought that the trouble was due to a broken or plugged sewer but that belief was dissipated today, when big chains were run through the sewer for the purpose of ascertaining if the way were clear. There was no obstruction met with and the sewer men decided that neither the 24-inch main nor any of the connecting sewers were responsible for the trouble.

There was but one other place to lay the blame and that was with the six-inch water main and that will be investigated. The chain test, of course, was not given all of the sewers in that vicinity this morning because of the fact that a number of them are ungettable. In order to reach all of them and to ascertain just what the trouble is it will be necessary to dig up the street for several yards. If the leak is in the water main it stands to reason that the water must be finding its way into the sewer as it does not show on the street surface. It was stated today that surface water has found its way to cellars in Gorham street in the vicinity of the old-time sewer. It was stated in the Sun yesterday, lay it to had sewer construction. Sewers were installed there some 25 years ago or thereabout and it was contract work, too. The officials of the sewer department have come to the conclusion that the underpinning of the street has been going on for some time and they figure that if the trouble is with the water main the leak must be a very small one, else it would show a greater sinking of the soil.

Frederick W. Farnham, superintendent of sewers, recalls that there was a sewer laid on the western side of Gorham street in 1876. Mr. Farnham was employed in the department at the time, and had something to do with the laying of the sewer. From Middlesex to Appleton street it is a 24-inch sewer. From Appleton to Winter street it is an 18-inch sewer, and from Winter to Summer street it is a 15-inch sewer. The depression comes about 10 feet up from the corner of Appleton and Gorham streets, and is about 40 feet in length. Mr. Farnham says that as he recalls it the sewer was well constructed. On the other side of the street there is an old sewer and it has been found to be all right.

Mr. Farnham said: "We have made only a superficial examination as yet. We have been probing at it with sticks and pulling knotted chains through, but the only way to fully determine the difficulty is to excavate and that is what we will have to resort to."

Four Traverse Jurors

At a special meeting of the municipal council held this forenoon the following traverse jurors were drawn to serve in Cambridge, beginning Monday next: Thomas B. Rafter, 12 Walker street, motorman.

Alexis Lavigne, 51 White street, printer.

George Z. Allard, 200 Cumberland road, operative.

James B. Cheeney, 8 Bagley avenue, pattern maker.

The names of the jurors were drawn from the box by Alderman Brown. It is not very often that so speedy a call is made for jurors, but it was stated today that the courts are shy on jurors and that a case was tried in this city yesterday or the day before with a jury of 10 instead of 12 men.

After the drawing of the jurors the council adjourned to the public reception room for the approval of bills. All of the bills were approved and there was very little controversy. There were only three members of the council present when the jurors were drawn. The absentees were Messrs. Carmichael and Morse.

Would the Chauffeurs? Twelve applicants for chauffeurs' licenses took the examination at city hall this forenoon. These examinations are conducted every Friday under the auspices of the Massachusetts highway commission and the examiner today was Mr. Lathrop.

OUTSKIRTS OF SPRINGFIELD—
BOY OF 16 ARRESTED

SPRINGFIELD, April 10.—Adrian Dummell, a 16-year-old boy of this city, was arrested last night, charged with attempting to hold up James L. Shannon on Belmont avenue, near the East Longmeadow line.

Shannon was in an automobile driving toward the city when three boys sprang out from the side of the road and ordered him to throw up his hands. He disobeyed the command and putting on speed came to the city where he notified the police.

Dummell was arraigned in court this morning.

The names of other boys alleged to have been implicated have not been learned.

TWO WEEKS AGO

Relatives of George Feagill, the Methuen man who fell from a canoe and was drowned in the Merrimack river, near Little Grove, a week ago last Sunday, visited the scene of the accident yesterday but as the water in the river was very high and the current very swift no attempt was made to recover the body.

Since the accident occurred the gates near the Lawrence mills have been watched daily as it was believed by many that the swift stream would carry the body through to Lawrence but it has not been discovered as yet. However a search will be started soon under the direction of the police department of Methuen.

RESERVE CLAUSE INVALID

Judge Sessions Hands Down Important

Decision—Application of the Chicago
Federals for Injunction Enjoining
Killifer From Playing With Philadelphia Nationals Denied

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 10.—Judge Clarence W. Sessions in the United States district court today denied the application of the Chicago Federal league club for an injunction enjoining Catcher William Killifer, Jr., from playing with the Philadelphia National club.

The judge denied the application upon the grounds that the Chicago Federal league club did not come into court "with clean hands." The decision also holds the reserve clause is not valid.

Killifer Is Scored

Killifer is scored in the decision for making the contracts. The decision reads:

"This record shows that the defendant Killifer is a baseball player of unique, exceptional and extraordinary skill and experience. Unfortunately the record also shows that he is a person upon whose pledged word little or no reliance can be placed and who, for gain to himself, neither scruples nor hesitates to disregard and violate his express engagements and agreements."

After conceding the validity of the two 1914 contracts, the decision goes on to say:

"The question here presented and requiring consideration are these: First, are the provisions of the 1913 contract between the defendants relative to the reservation of the player for the succeeding season valid and enforceable, and Second, are the plaintiffs by their own conduct barred from seeking relief in a court of equity?

The leading authorities, with possibly one exception, are agreed that executory contracts of this nature can neither be enforced in equity nor form the basis of an action at law to recover damages for their breach. The reasons for the decisions are that such contracts are lacking in the necessary qualities of definiteness, certainty and mutuality.

The 1913 contract between these defendants relative to the reservation of the defendant Killifer, for the season of 1914 is lacking in all these essential elements. It is wholly uncertain and indefinite with respect to salary and also with respect to terms and conditions of the proposed employment. It is nothing more than a contract to enter into a contract in the future, if the parties can then agree to their contract.

"The principle embodied in the maxim, 'He who comes into equity must come with clean hands,' is a cardinal one, lying at the foundation of equity jurisprudence. The principle, thus broadly enunciated is peculiarly appropriate and applicable to cases like the present one, where relief will not be granted as a matter of strict right, but must result from the exercise of a sound judicial discretion. Measuring and testing their conduct by this rule the plaintiffs in court with clean hands? Knowing that the defendant Killifer was under a moral if not a legal obligation to furnish his services to the Philadelphia club for the season of 1914, they sent for him and, by offering him a longer term of employment and a much larger compensation induced him to repudiate his obligation to the Philadelphia club. In so doing a wilful wrong was done to the Philadelphia club.

"Killifer expected to derive a benefit and a profit from their contract and both knew that such contract, if performed, would work a serious injury to the Philadelphia club. The conduct of both is not only open to criticism and censure but is tainted with unfairness and injustice. If not with actionable fraud. To drive a shrewd bargain is one thing; and to resort to unfair and unjust practices and methods in order to obtain an advantage over a business rival or competitor is another. Courts of equity may protect and enforce the former, but will not sanction nor lend their aid to the latter. While it is true the plaintiffs and Mr. Killifer have entered into a legal and binding contract for the breach of which the one may be compelled to respond in damages to the other it is also true that, because both have acted wrongfully and in bad faith, a court of equity will neither adjust their differences nor balance their equities.

"The motion for an injunction must be denied, not because the executory part of the 1913 contract between the defendants was of superior or any legal force and effect; not because the contract between plaintiffs and defendant (Killifer) is not in itself such a one as the courts will enforce; not because there are any equities in Killifer's favor which excuse or exempt him from the performance of his engagements and not because the merits of the controversy are with the Philadelphia club but solely because the actions and the conduct of the plaintiffs in procuring the contract upon their right to relief is and must be founded on a square with one of the vital and fundamental principles of equity which touches to the quick the dignity of a court of conscience and controls its decision regardless of all other considerations."

Attorney Stuart Knappen, local counsel for the Chicago Federal league club, after receiving the decision of Judge Sessions, said that the Chicago Federal club would now probably bring suit for damages against Killifer.

FIFTY INJURED

Airship Explodes and Was Blown Against Trees at Rome

ROME, April 10.—Fifty persons, mostly peasants, were injured by the explosion of an airship near Cantu, not far from Como. Two of the injured are dying. Three officers of the airship were badly burned.

The airship landed in open country owing to slight damage to the steering gear and was moored to trees with the help of a thousand persons who gathered to see the craft. A gust of wind snapped the ropes and the airship was hurled against the branches of the trees. The envelope was torn and there followed an explosion accompanied by huge flames. Only the framework of the machine was left.

The airship, which was named the Clitta di Milano, was built by Signor Forlanini and its cost was defrayed by a popular subscription started by a Milan newspaper. Signor Forlanini was aboard the airship today. He was unhurt. He said the explosion was caused by a cigarette.

The airship was of the semi-rigid type and about half as large as the newest Zeppelins.

MUST GO TO JAIL

NEW YORK, April 10.—John N. Anhalt, the lawyer who was convicted a year ago of offering a $25,000 bribe to Dr. John W. Russell, then superintendent of the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan, to aid in the escape of Harry K. Thaw, has his choice of at once entering Sing Sing or the Tombs city prison here.

The alternative was given him by the appellate division of the supreme court, which ruled that unless he agreed to have vacated a certificate of reasonable doubt which he obtained and to go back to the Tombs pending his appeal from his conviction, it would dissolve his appeal forthwith and he would be sent to Sing Sing at once.

Anhalt has been at liberty pending the decision of the higher court, which now decides he must be confined here until his appeal is taken up, which probably will be on April 28. He was sentenced to from two to four years in Sing Sing.

DOCTOR DEFIES POLICE

Winchester Physician Held Officers at Bay With Revolver—
Captured and Handcuffed

WINCHESTER, April 10.—Shortly after 1 this morning the police received a call from the neighbors of Dr. Hermann Everett Hichborn, residing at 69 Mystic Valley parkway, and upon arriving there discovered the house illuminated from cellar to garret. Police men James V. O'Connell and James P. Donahay found the doctor at an open window in the rear of the house where he was talking loudly and gesticulating wildly.

The men talked with him for a while attempting to have him open the door and surrender, but he stoutly refused, saying, "No, never. You are not police officers."

Policemen John A. Harold, William A. Rogers, Daniel C. Kelley, and Alexander J. Mullen of the local force, in company with Officer Bresnahan of the Metropolitan police, then appeared.

Upon being informed that unless he opened the door they would force it open, the doctor threatened to shoot the first man who made a move in that direction. Donahay and O'Connell burst through the rear door and went upstairs, where they found two rooms in complete darkness. In one of these was a year-old infant, an adopted child of the doctor, and in the other apartment were the doctor and his wife.

Dr. Hichborn was in a corner of the room with his wife in front of him clasped to his breast as a shield, while over her shoulder he held in his right hand a loaded revolver, which he pointed at the officers standing in the doorway. The only light in the room was furnished by the flashlights of the officers and every movement that they made was covered by the revolver.

Finding that this method would not work, after arguing with the doctor for almost an hour, Officer Donahay went to a neighboring house and borrowed a ladder. With this he climbed to a small slanting roof directly beneath the window of the room in which the doctor and his wife were standing. Flashing his lamp for several minutes he succeeded in attracting the attention of the doctor, who turned to the window to determine the cause of the light.

Then Officers Rogers, O'Connell and Harold pounced upon him and wrenched the revolver from his hand. They overpowered him and threw him upon the bed, where they placed handcuffs upon him and his wife. While on the way to the station the doctor fought fearfully, but Mrs. Hichborn offered no resistance.

At the station, when Dr. Hichborn was carefully lodged in a cell, Dr. Chas. F. McCarthy was summoned and word was telephoned to the doctor's father, Dr. H. G. Hichborn of Cambridge. Shortly after Dr. and Mrs. Hichborn with the family physician arrived at the station and after a consultation with the other doctors and the police it was decided to send the young man to the Psychopathic hospital in Boston, where he will be held for a week until observation. Mrs. Hichborn returned with her husband's parents to Cambridge.

Dr. Hichborn is about 25 years of age and is employed as a dentist in the office of his father on Boylston street, Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Hichborn are not well known here, having come to this town only recently upon purchasing the house that they now occupy.

The doctor has been under a great nervous strain for some time past, and yesterday his wife passed the greater part of the day walking the floor with him trying to quiet his nerves.

The revolver with which Hichborn covered the movements of the police was not loaded, they discovered later.

U.S. CONGRESS HAS NO RIGHT TO INVESTIGATE

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Mandamus proceedings to compel the production of books and papers to disclose financial dealings between the New Haven railroad and the Billard company will be started immediately by the interstate commerce commission.

INQUIRY RESUMED

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Further inquiry into the financial affairs of the New Haven railroad was begun today after several weeks of investigation into the books of the company. The inquiry under the direction of Commissioner McChord is being made in compliance with a senate resolution directing the commission to develop all facts regarding the New Haven's banking connections, the purchase of its subsidiary properties, the money paid for them and the emoluments for the commissions paid for negotiating the various transactions. Commissioner McChord announced that the principal matter to be considered at present were the relations of the Billard company to the financial operations of the New Haven. Walter D. Hines, counsel for the present management of the New Haven said at the opening of the inquiry that the policy of Chairman Elliott and the present management to cooperate in every way with the commission and furnish all information.

Pres. Whipple Called

Harry V. Whipple, president of the Merchants National bank of New Haven, the first witness, refused to testify as to his business relations with the Billard company. He said he was not a stockholder in that company but had been up to last fall.

"To whom did you sell your stock in the Billard company?" he was asked. "I must decline to answer that question as I regard it as an invasion of my personal rights," replied Whipple.

Judge Stoddard, counsel for the New Haven, explained Mr. Whipple's declination to reply. "We challenge the right and the jurisdiction of the commission," he said, "to inquire into any act of the Billard company. Our contention is that such an inquiry is beyond the commission's authority. Acting upon the conclusion we have decided to decline to answer questions relating to such matters."

"Were there any relations between the Billard company and the New Haven during your incumbency as treasurer of the Billard company?" Mr. Whipple was asked.

"Suppose," suggested Chief Counsel Folk of the commission, "that it can be shown that the Billard company owes the New Haven railroad many millions of dollars, do you think that it would be desirable to conceal this fact in view of the desire of the senate for the information?"

"I think," interrupted Judge Stoddard, "that the senate resolution has gone far beyond the powers either of the commission or of congress. Neither the commission, nor congress has any power to investigate the relations, if any, of the Billard company and the New Haven railroad."

A series of questions was put to Whipple intended to develop evidence of financial relations between the Billard company and the New Haven of the Billard company and the New England Navigation Co. He declined to answer in every instance to answer. He refused to say whether there had been a transaction between the Billard company and the New England Navigation Co., involving $2,000,000 or not, whether the New Haven had through subsidiary, the New England Navigation Co., did not advance to John L. Billard a million dollars on his four promissory notes or whether Billard was indebted to the New England Navigation Co. for two million dollars.

Refused to Give Books

The counsel for the committee said Mr. Whipple had been directed by subpoena to bring books, documents and contracts of the Billard company.

"Are you prepared," he inquired, "to produce those books and documents?" "I am not," Whipple responded, and declined to say whether his refusal was because the books were too bulky.

To Samuel Hordmangway, president of the Second National bank of New Haven, a similar line of questions was put. He also declined to answer.

A. S. May, treasurer of the New Haven, testified that the road did not hold securities of "the New England Navigation Co., but did own all the stock."

"What obligations of John L. Billard or of the Billard company were held by the New Haven or the New England Navigation Co?"

"Only such," replied Mr. May, "as were necessary to the conduct of the affairs of the New Haven."

Knew Nothing of $1,000,000
"Did Mr. Billard give his note to the New England Navigation Co. for $2,742,500?"

"I think so."

"What transaction did that note represent?"

"It is impossible," responded the witness, "for me to explain all the details but I think the transaction was in connection with the acquisition of Boston & Maine stock."

Mr. May said he knew nothing about a million dollars said to have been turned over by the New England Navigation Co. to Billard.

DEATH IN SAND DREDGE

NEWARK, N. J., April 10.—Captain John Hanson, master of a stone barge, was knocked into Newark bay yesterday afternoon and drawn into a government sand-sucking dredge half a mile away and then cast through a 11-inch pipe 2000 feet long, into the Newark meadows. In passing through the dredge the body was cut into four pieces.

The barge May Madison was being towed from Newark to New York by a tug. In passing through the draw of a railroad bridge the barge butted into a stone pier and the lot threw Captain Hanson overboard.

An hour after Captain Hanson had fallen from the barge the four men at the further end of the pipe on the meadows were surprised to see parts of a man's body shoot out of the pipe with the flood of sand and water.

The sections formed a man's complete body. In a pocket were found papers identifying the body as that of Captain Hanson.

STRIKE AT HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, April 10.—One hundred weavers at the Ventucket woolen mills quit work today because of a disagreement relative to a complicated readjustment of wage conditions. The strikers conferred with members of the firm, who said they are confident their employees will return to work satisfied with the terms made.

MILL IS CLOSED

MADISON, Me., April 10.—The Madison Woolen Co. today closed all departments of its mill except the dye house and finishing room until further notice. There are about 225 employees.

The shutdown was caused by a strike of the spinners during the forenoon when a boy known as the stick fitter was taken off. The spinners claimed that without the services of the boy they would earn 40 or 50 cents a day less.

SCHOOLS OPEN

Children Will Return on Monday After Week's Vacation

The school children will be in evidence again Monday morning when the schools will open after the Easter holidays. The schools have been closed all week and the next closing will be a week from Monday, when Patriots day will be celebrated. The Lowell schools don't have as many holidays as the Lawrence schools and, as a matter of fact, Lawrence leads a good many cities in the state on the number of school holidays. In Lawrence the schools close one week in December, the Christmas holidays; one week in March, the Easter holidays; and one week in May. The Lowell schools observe the Christmas and Easter holidays but do not close in May.

The state normal school was closed this week and will open again on Monday. Attendance Officers William E. Thornton and Henry L. Williams went to Lawrence yesterday and attended the funeral of Truant Officer John R. McGowan of that city.

SAG IN GORHAM STREET CAUSED BY OLD SEWER

VIEW OF THE SEWER GANG WORKING ON GORHAM STREET JOB

The Matter Investigated This Morning — Whole Section of Sewer is Missing and Will Have to be Built—Commissioner Morse Finds Contract Work Responsible—Other City Hall News

The cause of the sagging of the paving in Gorham street, near Appleton street, was determined definitely this morning when men from the water department dug through the pavement and found that the sewer, laid there about 18 years ago, had gone down about two feet.

The water department made the examination because of the fact that it was thought the depression in the street was due to a leak in the water pipe, but those who held to that theory were quickly disillusioned when the hole was put through.

The hole was made at a point about midway of the building occupied by Wm. H. Brown, grocer, and it was discovered that the sewer had gone down and had been followed by the dirt. This created a vacuum of from six inches to two feet and extending over an area of from 25 to 30 feet.

Must Reconstruct Sewer

There was more or less excitement in the vicinity of Appleton and Gorham streets this forenoon when it became known that the sewer had dropped and that the paving was being kept in place chiefly by the cement between the blocks. It was generally conceded that there is but one way out of the predicament and that is to reconstruct the sewer and in this Commissioner Morse had visions of a big outlay of money not reckoned with in his estimates or appeals for loans.

It seemed as if every idle man in the city of Lowell had gathered at the scene of the Gorham street "sag" this morning and street car passengers must have thought that something terrible had happened. There was some argument, too, in which Supt. Morse of the street department, Mr. Farnham, superintendent of sewers, and Bay State railway officials figured. It seems that when the depression in Gorham street was discovered two days ago, the street railway company was instructed not to use outward track at that point, and it was stated this morning by Mr. Farnham that the track had been used yesterday. The track, however, will not be used today as it has been barricaded from one end of the depression to the other.

Poorly Constructed Sewer

The construction of the Gorham street sewer is said to be the worst of any sewer in Lowell, and the story was told this morning that six years after the sewer was laid, the cellars in Gorham street between Appleton and Winter streets, for the sewer extends from the manhole near Appleton street to the manhole at Winter street—were filled with surface water. The sewer

JUDGE GOFF GRANTS PLEA FOR GUNMEN

Mrs. Jacob Seidensamer, mother of Whitey Lewis

NEW YORK, April 11—Relatives and friends of the four gunmen sentenced to die in the electric chair early Monday for the murder of the gambler Rosenthal and the convicted men themselves today based their hopes for a respite on a hearing before Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff on a motion for a new trial.

It was doubtful if the hearing before Justice Goff could be concluded today, in which event it was expected that District Attorney Whitman would join with counsel for the gunmen in requesting Governor Giffen to grant a respite. Unless such respite is received by Warden Clancy of Sing Sing prison before the time set for the execution of the four men he has made it plain that the original program of execution will be followed.

Warden Clancy stated his position in reply to a request from Charles G. Wahle, counsel for the gunmen, that the executions be postponed until Thursday to provide against the contingency of having to continue the arguments on the motion for a new trial beyond today.

Preparing For Death

Until the word of the 11th hour fight being made in their behalf was carried to them in the death house at Sing Sing late last night the four gunmen were preparing for death. At first they refused to believe that a hope remained for them to escape the electric chair, but as the meaning of the news brought to them by Warden

Clancy was explained they became more cheerful.

The evidence upon which Mr. Wahle bases his motion for a new trial came to him only yesterday. W. E. Burwell of Waterbury, Conn., a pool and billiard player, swore to an affidavit that he saw the murder of Rosenthal; that he saw the man who shot the gambler and that this man was not one of the four gunmen. Burwell declared that he could identify the murderer if he could see him again.

Carl Dresner, a bartender, is the other witness upon whom Mr. Wahle relies to make good his motion for a new trial. Dresner swore that he had previously known "Jack" Rose, "Bridgie" Webber, Harry Vallon and Sam Schepps and Herman Rosenthal. On the morning of the murder, Dresner said he saw Vallon and Webber in the "gray car" as it was leaving the scene of the murder and Schepps was standing on the main board.

Burwell and Dresner were to be cross-examined by District Attorney Whitman or his assistants and their testimony will be a matter of argument. If Justice Goff decides that the testimony of the new witnesses opens a fresh line of defense he can set aside the former verdict of guilty and grant a new trial but if the motion is denied all hope for the condemned men will end. Governor Giffen having refused to reconsider his refusal to interfere.

CURE OF CANCER

Surgeons Say Failures of Radium Outnumber Cures 100 to 1

NEW YORK, April 11.—All hope of curing cancer by radium has been abandoned by some of the foremost surgeons and research workers of the country, who declared at last night's meeting of the American Society for the Control of Cancer that the failures of radium outnumber the cures 100 to 1.

That nothing but speedy use of the knife is of avail against the disease was the opinion advanced by Dr. Wm. H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn.

It was expected that the members of the society would have something hopeful to report of their investigations. Instead they admitted to progress and held out little hope. They united in saying they had discovered neither the cause nor the nature of cancer. Then they proved by statistics that cancer is on the increase.

WARNS COTTON MILLS

Federal Horticultural Board Tells of Fear of a Dangerous Cotton Pest

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Fear that a pink boll worm, a dangerous cotton pest, may be introduced into the United States through the accidental presence of seed in lint cotton received by spinners caused the federal horticultural board today to warn cotton mills, especially those in the south to destroy by burning all seed that may be found in bales of imported Egyptian cotton. The seed, it is said, are likely to contain the larvae of the pest, which is very destructive to American cotton. "While the number of seeds accidentally left in a bale of cotton is probably small," says the board, "a very large quantity of baled Egyptian cotton is imported, so that in the aggregate the number of infested seeds might well prove a serious menace to the local crop. This is especially true in view of the fact that much of this baled cotton is shipped to southern cotton mills, which in some cases are in the immediate vicinity of cotton fields which would form a ready breeding place for any larvae that might escape."

TITANIC DISASTER KING GUSTAV IMPROVING

Opening of Cloister in Memory of Wireless Hero Next Wednesday

NEW YORK, April 11.—Word reached here today that the second anniversary of the loss of the Titanic next Wednesday has been fixed for the formal opening of the cloister built at Godalming, Eng., in memory of Jack Phillips, the heroic wireless operator, who went down with his ship. Phillips was a native of Godalming. The cloister stands near the parish church and cost $3500.

FOR TEACHERS

The Retirement Bill and Tenure Bill in Hands of Committees

The bill providing retirement system for public school teachers is before the committee on social welfare while its running mate, an act relative to the tenure and dismissal of teachers and superintendents of public schools, is before the committee on education. It is estimated by Edmund H. Cogswell of the state board of education that the number of teachers to retire July 1, providing the bills become operative, will be between 115 and 120 representing a total annuity of about $41,000. The amounts paid in, however, by the teachers paying a premium of five per cent. of their salary. Any person who has been a public school teacher in this state for not less than fifty years, and who has been engaged in teaching in the public schools of a city or town for five consecutive years immediately preceding July 1, 1912, shall be entitled to become a member of the retirement association.

POPULAR HORSEMAN ENDS LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Edmond Burke, a well known horseman and owner of several famous stake racers, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the head. For some time he had been suffering severe pains in the head, the result of an old operation. He was 60 years old.

STEAMERS ARRIVE

NEW YORK, April 11.—Arrived steamers: Kaiser Franz Josef II, Trieste, Italia, Genoa, Montevideo, Cadiz.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

It is a pity that Judge Enright cannot have all those apologies for men, who are chronic non-supporters of their families, and both drunken and abusive, before him for sentence. Those who are brought before him usually get a good taste of the law's authority; but the number is comparatively few, as one recalls the large number of workless bums hanging about the corners. Many wives are deterred from entering complaints against their husbands because of fear and perhaps a doubtful kind of pride and so prefer to suffer in silence. If there could be a general round-up of these non-working, drunken and abusive gentlemen, it would keep the judges busy for a time. It is respectfully suggested that all found to be irreclaimable or incorrigible be given their choice of two propositions: a ticket to Mexico, or a walk to the gas box. How common is the tale we hear of abused and neglected wives by able-bodied but lazy husbands! And yet does it not occur to you that there is many a wife in this town to whom nothing is denied by way of food and raiment; who may have social position and who may be both beautiful and intelligent, who has about everything in this world that money can buy, but has not the love of her husband nor his care and attention? The husband's love and sympathy appears to be dead, or if not that, strangely sleeping. Selfish thoughts he goes his way. Six or seven nights of the week he is away—at the clubs and the ledge. I have heard a wife say that she would rather be struck by her husband occasionally, than to suffer from the constant pangs which he inflicts by neglecting her. Loves his wife? Of course, but he loves himself and his own selfish pleasures more. The lazy husband may be cruel to his family because of drink; yet the industrious, sober husband too often manifests a cruelty which differs only in form.

Simon Swig and Others

Because Simon Swig—Phoebus, what a name!—characterized some of his fellow members of the board of trustees of consumptive hospitals as autocrats and hypocrites they wish to have Simon removed from the board; but it looks just now as though the governor should decide to fire the entire board.

It is suspected that Simon has been discriminated against because of his name, which jarred the sensitive culture of his brother members. Yet, looking over the names of these trustees, we observe the names Drinkwater, Getchell and Dunn, which really are quite as suggestive, in a way, as plain Swig. It certainly would appear that the board could stand for Simon Swig. Poor Simon! He may be one of the best men in the world; but possibly he may have reason for being proud of the name he bears—but what young woman would be entirely satisfied in changing her name to Swig?

Lady Star Violinist

I heard a young lady play the violin one evening last week who played with a virility that surprised me, for as a rule, lady violinists do not possess the physical strength to do full justice to compositions requiring an exhibition of the full powers of their instrument. Her work also was such that in nearly all of the pieces which she played she showed a virtuosity most remarkable and notwithstanding the fact that a renowned harpist and a most excellent singer took part in the concert, I thought the violinist, Miss Seydel, was easily the star of the evening. Her playing of the Faust Fantasia was exceptionally fine and you quite forgot the vocalists, and the harpist, while contemplating her marvelous technique. She responded with an exquisite piece that I thought possessed the true Mozartian flavor, so beautiful it was. Her playing, too, of an arrangement of a Chopin Nocturne was not the least of her evening's offerings. May she come again to Lowell.

Our Bird Companions of the Spring

About this time, when the weather conditions are at all favorable, the interested person in birdology goes forth in the early morning hours or at eventide to welcome the returning birds and perhaps get a greeting from them. Properly dressed and armed only with note book and field glasses the experienced bird hunter begins his work, which will not cease until the birds whose visit to our region is briefest is at an end, and his note book records an improvement, he hopes, over last year's work. Yet the number to engage in such systematic study of our native birds is surprisingly small; and so it is that among us generally the most dense ignorance exists concerning those interesting and beautiful objects of animated nature, the birds of our country. How to awaken a wide interest in them is evidently as great a problem and as difficult of solving as it is to awaken intelligent interest in trees and wild flowers and other objects that Nature so lavishly affords. The dweller in the country and the suburbs may have advantages over the liver in the city proper, if it is true; but the latter could often afford an hour before sunset and a Sunday afternoon to add to his stock of useful and inspiring knowledge. Every suburb offers opportunities for observation that would result in rich results. A little reading, a little coaching and a good glass are all you need. And speaking of limitations I think it was Torrey himself who on Boston common alone found over 70 varieties of birds. So the interested city dweller should not become discouraged. It is simply surprising what you will find after you get started. These walks through woods and over fields with a given object in view will sharpen your powers of observation and inevitably open new fields for investigation and study which will prove both profitable and delightful.

Sure, License the Fisherman

Every true sportsman should be in favor of the bill in the legislature to license fishermen in this state. The fee, as I understand it, is $1.25, which also grants the right to hunt. The fund would be used in the maintenance of hatcheries in stocking ponds and streams and making the offices of fish and game wardens more efficient. In answer to those who oppose the bill by declaring it to mean "another graft" we would say, it is not so but rather an effective blow at fish grafters, better known as "fish-hogs," who are notorious for violating every fish law and who gather fish by the bushel rather than by the string, who go out to skin every fishing place they visit, and carry home fish measuring three or four inches in length, of every kind catchable. I have heard some well known fishermen of this town brag about their "great catches" in ponds up along the Stony Brook region. I have even seen a bushel basket filled with pout taken from a pond in Groton, the average length of which wasn't more than five inches. Some of these "fish-hogs" should know better than to do this; but the chief and more numerous offenders in this respect are found among an ignorant and irresponsible class, who should also be given a salutary lesson in decency. There is no other way to do this but by effective legislation and to make the fish wardens' office more important than it now is. Certain it is that unless something is done to abate this wholesale raid on the fish of our local streams and ponds, the pouter, perch and pike are in danger of becoming as scarce as salmon in the Merrimack. It behooves all good fishermen in Lowell and vicinity who believe in regulating fish matters to send word to their state house representatives to see that the license bill goes through. It would help matters.

Who Hit the Janitors?

The implied strictures and open slurs contained in an alleged editorial of our morning contemporary the other day as to the janitors of the city schools is but one more instance of what animates the spirit of some men, who never did a hard day's work in their lives, towards less fortunately situated individuals. Coming particularly from a representative of a company but few years ago noted for having so many of its members or officials sucking from some fat public paps—and it is needless to specify—the editorial in question strikes one as a case of exalted gall; and were it just, as it is not, it could denote a high degree of glaring inconsistency.

People have good memories and it is human nature they say, to recall unpleasant things rather than pleasant ones; hence it is that much present good is usually aborted by the remembrance of past evil.

Now the janitors of the school-houses of this city do not require defense from me. As a matter of fact, they are quite able to take care of themselves in view of the cheap slings of certain newspaper writers. The Man in the Moon, who knows most of them and something of their duties, will state that the janitors make up a fine body of men who are reliable and whose responsible duties are admirably performed. From any decent standard of living, their remuneration is not excessive. Yes, the job of janitor is a good job as jobs go, and why shouldn't it be? It takes a good man to be a janitor of the public schools. If a janitor enjoys a few weeks' respite from regular duties in the summer, please remember the long months during which he is almost constantly on duty. For weeks at a time he begins his day's work at 5 o'clock or earlier in the morning, that your children may be comfortable. The rules that the janitor must observe are stringent and must not be violated. He is on the civil service list and is amenable to its regulations. He protects city property and several of them are special police officers. He is honest and faithful, blind and obliging, intelligent and economical, and if I had within reach any more bouquets to toss at him I sure would. He certainly shouldn't have his pay cut down to make up the deficiency in the school board's account any more than the municipal council should have his salary temporarily reduced. —or so much, for it's pretty well understood that the municipal council is responsible for the school's lack of funds. If the school committee are being made goats by the municipal council, the school committee will not go so far as to make goats of the janitors after all. It would better not!

THE MAN IN THE MOON.

Hale's Brook Should be Fenced in Congress Avenue

The residents in the vicinity of Congress avenue are up in arms and it is very probable they will petition the municipal council to force the proprietors of the land abutting to Hale's brook to erect a proper fence on the banks of the brook in Congress avenue, a thoroughfare which leads to Gorham street, and which is used by pedestrians, for it affords a very short cut to Gorham street. A small wooden bridge spans the brook at this spot and the place is a real death trap and many are astonished that drownings are not more frequent there.

This is the spot where little Marlon Andrew of South Lawrence, who was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bradbury of 30 Congress avenue, last lost her life by drowning on April 3, and it is reported to be the worst death trap in the city, although Lowell is well supplied with dangerous places along the canals and the rivers.

The bridge across the brook at Congress avenue is located about 60 feet from Gorham street, and it is the responsibility of numerous children, who enjoy themselves playing in the water. There is no protection whatever around that bridge and it is really surprising that more drownings are not reported. The land extends on each end of the bridge for a distance of about three feet along the water's edge, and this is not fenced in and at night when it is very dark, one who is not very well acquainted with the premises could easily walk to a watery grave. The bridge, which is built of thick planks, is also fenceless, and it is very frequent that children are seen sitting on the edge of the planks.

Would Dry and Form Scales, Disfigured While It Lasted, Looked Like Raw Steak, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

39 Court St., Essex, N. H.—"My child's trouble began with an eruption on the left cheek and it rapidly spread until the entire cheek and well down the neck was covered with the watery eruption. It would dry and form scales and when the child rubbed it a watery substance would ooze out. My child was very restless at night and cried almost continually when her hands were tried to prevent her from scratching. It disfigured her while it lasted, as the entire side of her face was so broken out that it looked like a piece of raw beef steak."

"I bought several things but none seemed to help. As I had read in the paper about Cuticura Soap and Ointment I sent for a sample, used them and they seemed to help. I immediately bought some Cuticura Soap and a large box of Cuticura Ointment and in less than two weeks' time the child's face was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Ida M. Dore, Nov. 14, 1913.

In selecting a toilet and skin soap why not procure one possessing delicate emollient properties sufficient to allow delicate skin to retain its natural softness, prevent pore-clogging, soften and soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and scalp health generally? Such a soap, combined with the purity of saponaceous ingredients and most fragrant and refreshing of flower odors, is Cuticura Soap. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

drawings, and who has already written a letter to the mayor about the many death traps in Lowell and the best method to prevent accidental deaths.

Mr. Editor: Several days ago another life was blotted out, sacrificed, and a South Lawrence home brought to grief. Little four-year-old Marlon Andrew, visiting relatives in Congress avenue, fell off the narrow bridge over Hale's brook, and another life is added to the long list of drowning casualties in the death-traps of Lowell's waterways. This human tragedy which has been going on for years, is permitted because of capricious and brutal indifference and neglect of duty, and the man or woman of Lowell will not raise his voice in consequence of these tragedies is without public or personal conscience. The canals and other waterways of Lowell flowing through the most congested districts are not properly protected, owned and operated by powerful industrial moneyed interests, who are careless of the lives of children. How much longer are we to continue? How much longer are we to have this utter indifference to the part of men in authority? It is time that an aroused public sentiment should move officials at city hall to some extent closing up these death-traps throughout the city. Are the waterways to be protected or shall we simply let quiet and continue to read from time to time of a few hundred more little children "going to a watery grave."

Very truly,

Harry W. J. Howe

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lockawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KRAEMER, 154 Electric Avenue, Lockawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers. We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LADY LOOKABOUT

Just when we have learned to love the little narrow clinging skirt, we are compelled, to give it up for the floppy unbecoming garment with a continually growing fullness above the knees. The bound-ankle effect is still retained, and really, don't you like it? When have women looked so feminine, so nearly helpless, as they have since these hebbie effects have come among us. It delights my heart to see the woman of a few years ago, whose very stride and manner of progress invariably cleared the way before her, now stumbling along with tiny, impeded steps, and looking so helpless that she is positively child-like and paradoxical, as it may seem, the way of being before her fully as effectively as it did before her fully as effectively as it did years ago.

And the new hats with their stiff little wings standing opposite each other, just as the chickens with lowered heads charge on each other, are so youthful after the heavy hats of winter. Never have I seen so many flower hats so early in the season. Those of our friends who fear we may become masculine with the advance of age, suffer from a woman's passion, never-hats are among millinery conceptions. No woman, no matter how advanced she may be, or how strong-minded or positive she may be, can ever so far forget her "Eve-given prerogative," when brought face to face with a "flower-hat." Something primal within her thrills at the sight of it; and she longs to seize it and holding to her heart the beautiful blossom, so suggestive of wide eyes, smiling lips, and babies, she longs to own it; and she does. There are many phases to the exquisite beauty of a woman passing through every time she chooses a new hat, and when men come to know these things they will have much closer sympathy with us. I wonder if this may not be one reason why men millinery as a rule are so successful?

Catch Them Hestling

A lesson may well be taken by many in Lowell from Warden Clancy of a New York prison, who finding himself not qualified for the duties of his position as warden, resigned from it in the interests of the prison. He had had no previous experience, which would have been his in the duties of a successful warden, and finding himself incompetent, withdrew from prison service. It sounds like the millennium, but one swallow does not make a summer. Just picture the effect if some of our public servants resigned their positions because of their own incompetence! Many of our best positions would go to a begging, and then what would we do? Can you imagine one or two (it would not be nice to mention names) refusing to accept office and humbly admitting their incompetence and arguing the elevator to look a little further until the right man could be found? It is beyond my powers of imagination.

New Line of Business

In the city of Minneapolis, a new line of business has been opened. A very progressive florist started it. It is the placing of window boxes on the houses of the city, and the boxes are filled with flowers and plants. These boxes are placed on the windows of the houses, and are cared for by the firm of florists who solicited the work, for a small sum annually. The effect of blooming plants adds much to the beauty of any window, but when it is the window of a drug law office, the effect is almost painful. I wish somebody would start this movement in Lowell. Just imagine the magnificent Sun building with a lovely box of blooming plants in each window! It would rival the hanging gardens of Babylon—and who knows? they might soften the hearts of many who in their daily tasks have grown away from nature, and the "evil" which is continually unfolding to eyes, which, alas, refuse to see.

Against Fake Advertising

After much agitation in regard to fake advertising, the act of 1913 forbidding the dissemination of untrue and misleading advertising, is about to be enforced in this commonwealth. Any person or firm who advertises in this way shall be liable to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $500. For a long time there has been a crying need of this act, and although it is very comprehensive it could not step further and make the publisher, whose columns such advertising appears, liable to the same fine. Many of the best newspapers and magazines, which for the genuineness of the assertion of the do not, and while it often appears that the publisher is virtually a partner in the deception, it is probably because he feels that if the advertiser complies with the terms of his periodical, the publisher's responsibility is ended. This is not as it should be. Every publisher should satisfy himself that every assertion and claim made by an advertiser is made in good faith and is backed by integrity. I will expect to see a few advertisements disappear from view within short time, as they are in direct violation of the spirit of the act.

The Important News

When such an essential part of our urban economy as the vending newspaper becomes a public nuisance, something should be done at least to suppress it. The public should be protected from the confusion and importuning. This does not mean to suppress newspapers, of course, for many among them are perfect little gentlemen. In the vicinity of Merrimack square, within a week, I saw a young man in company with a lady approached by a newsboy. Evidently the man did not choose to buy a paper; then theurchin held his legs, "Ah, buy a paper. Be a sport. Show the lady you're a gentleman." Encouraged by the smiles on the faces of those in the immediate neighborhood, he kept up this bantering, until the man beckoned to a policeman, who "nowise" took to his heels. This is not the first time incidents of this kind have taken place, and always they have not on the street. I have been told of just such another which occurred at the entrance of a downtown restaurant. The man in the cap, not choosing to buy, was made the object of such abuse, that he called the attention of the proprietor of the restaurant to it. He was informed that the laws had been ordered away from the entrance time and again, even by the police, but to no avail. They seem to think a man with a lady is a sure customer, and when he talks them they undertake to show him up as a skunk. Somebody should instruct these

Sarcasm in Woman's

Of all the mean things a person can indulge in, I think sarcasm the meanest, and when one woman is sarcastic to another, it is the very quintessence of meanness. I was present at a small gathering a short time ago, which fell on an evening when the clouds hung low and showers threatened. One young citizen present was decidedly overdone; for the occasion, was evidently a young girl, dressed, gown in a simple, sweet little dress, which added much to her youthful appearance. She had used care in dressing, and every detail showed it, from her fresh pink "ruching" to her patent leather pumps. She had the misfortune to be the "beast" the over-dressed party, whose efforts were sadly in need of propping. This is what we overheard her say to her little neighbor: "So sensible of you to wear an old thing you didn't care about; I wish I had, and yet we all know and she knew, too, that the little neighbor had worn her very best."

Why Gorham Street Sagg'd

I am not a bit surprised that Gorham street has sagged, near the new Appleton street sewer trench. The wonder is that it did not sag earlier in the week, there are so many spectators of the work going on there. No street could stand for long, the combined weights of the hundreds who gather daily in the vicinity. I suppose little curiosity attracts many; to others, the fascination of a large number of men working, for one whose time hangs heavy on his hands makes his appeal. I suppose there are also many other reasons, but be they what they may, the results are the same, and the poor street, has entered its silent but significant protest. There are those whom many of us no doubt know, who would like to see the ground open and swallow the postoffice, to have it reappear in the neighborhood of Merrimack square, but they are to be disappointed, for the present at least.

Preserving Eggs

This is the season of all the year, when eggs are so plentiful and the price so low, that many farseeing housekeepers plan to preserve some for use when the prices are beyond the purse of the ordinary mortal. This is done by means of a preparation known as "water glass," which may be purchased at 40 cents a gallon, or may be prepared at home by dissolving a few cents' worth of the salt known scientifically as sodium silicate. The preparation is a thick, syrupy solution. The eggs are placed in a crock or other receptacle, packed and covered with the liquid, as more eggs are added, more of the liquid is used, that they may always be well covered. The preserving effect of water glass is due to its action on the shell, in combination with which it forms a sort of cement by which the shell is rendered absolutely air tight, thus preventing the entrance of bacteria which cause the eggs to decay. It is impossible to distinguish these eggs from newly laid ones. They may be dropped, fried, scrambled, or prepared in any way for the table, and I know of persons who were sure they would tell which of two eggs served to them was the preserved and which the newly laid, and who failed to distinguish between them. On account of the shell being made air tight, it has been found necessary, in the case of the boiled egg, to prick a tiny hole in each shell; otherwise the egg may burst when it expands under the heat. This little hole admits of the entrance of a small amount of water, which makes the egg more palatable, a little less popular, than when prepared in some other manner.

MAKING PLANS TO AID COLLEGE—

GO WITHOUT BREAKFAST AND SELL FUDGE TO AID FUND

WELLESLEY, April 11.—It was announced yesterday that all strangers who come to see the sights at Wellesley college will have an opportunity to aid the fund by buying lemonade.

at stands to be erected on the campus. One of these will be in front of the library.

This is only one of many ways in which the undergraduates are planning to raise money for the fund, and many interesting "vacation methods" are now coming to light. The Danants, card parties, impromptu entertainments, stereopticon lectures on college life, musicals, readings and recitals were given by the girls in their home towns.

Considerable sums were also raised by individuals by selling fudge and Wellesley pictures. Two girls ran a special "counter" in a department store, another pair ran a tearoom for three weeks, and one sophomore who visited in Alabama opened a beauty parlor and gave the proceeds to the fund.

Some made beds in their respective neighborhoods at a rate of 10 cents a bed, and others gave up breakfasts while traveling and gave the money which would have been expended to the fund.

The money collected so far has not been totaled.

The Wellesley kindergarten children held a sale yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the fund, offering paper plant holders, boxes and so forth. The youngsters put up a sign which read: "Pay as much as you want for anything."

Easter Will Bring to You

a Noteworthy Number of

The NEW Boston Sunday Herald

You will want to preserve your copy of the Rotogravure Pictorial Section, as an example of the greatest advance in picture-printing in the experience of a generation.

No other Boston newspaper can duplicate this wonderfully attractive feature, for The NEW Sunday Herald owns exclusive rights in this field to the marvelous Rotogravure process.

In its new dress, trimmer and fresher and more attractive than ever, The NEW Sunday Herald will appear on Easter morning, retaining all the good things of a splendid past and adding many new and good features of extraordinary interest.

Before or after the Easter parade every woman will want to compare what she and other women are wearing with the authentic fashions as they are described and pictured by Abbe Rittenhouse in the Society and Fashions Section.

There will be a place for a few minutes of good fiction and with The NEW Sunday Herald will come, to supply this need, the sparkling stories in the Illustrated and Fiction Section—20 pages with never a dull line.

Particularly attractive next Sunday will be the Colored Feature Section, in which the cleverest special writers and artists entertain and inform Herald readers with out-of-the-ordinary "feature" stories.

For the children, and for elders in whom the love of fun persists, there is a section of pictures that will provide many a merry laugh.

The News Section and the Sporting Section—it goes without saying—will be the best published in Boston, for The Herald's unrivalled editorial organization place it easily in the van of the country's best newspapers.

A clean, vigorous, comprehensive Sunday newspaper, The NEW Sunday Herald provides all the good features any newspaper supplies—and much more. The Easter number will show conclusively why The NEW Sunday Herald is known as "the biggest 5 cents' worth of Sunday newspaper ever issued in New England."

On Motion for Interpretation of Will—The Court Asked to Ratify Provisions of Will

BOSTON, April 11.—The famous Russell will case was again brought to the attention of the courts yesterday when the counsel for the estate of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose, asked for an interpretation of the clause implying that Daniel Blake Russell, who was missing at the time of the drawing of the instrument, should share equally with William C. Russell, the elder son, in the event of the former's return within 20 years of his father's death. Since the death of Daniel Russell, two claimants have appeared, one from Dickinson, N. D., and the other from Fresno, Cal. After extended litigation the Dakota claimant was twice declared an imposter. The California claimant has been accepted by the family.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—It will be a rainy Easter all over the east, unless some freak of nature sets the best predictions of the weather bureau experts awry there will be rains and snows in the northern portion of the east and rains over the southern districts. It is a stock prediction among the weather prognosticators that if it rains on Easter Sunday it will rain on six consecutive Sundays thereafter.

WOMAN TWICE BARRED

In Attempt to Join Her Husband at New Bedford—Came From the Azores

BOSTON, April 11.—Balked in her first attempt to land in this country, Mrs. Rosa Viera, a Portuguese woman from the Azores, yesterday made another unsuccessful effort to pass the immigration officials and for the second time in seven months she is an inmate of the detention station. Last September Mrs. Viera and her four children reached here. Two of the children were mentally defective and the family was deported. Yesterday the woman landed at Providence from the French steamer Germania and freed the same inspector who examined her here last September. She admitted her identity and burst into tears. The two children who were the cause of her deportation in September were left at the Azores, but she brought two other children, a boy and a girl. She came to join her husband, who is a mill worker in New Bedford.

FOR IRRIGATION

Proposal of Department of Interior for Financing Carey Projects

DENVER, April 11.—Assistant Secretary A. A. Jones of the interior department last night tendered to the irrigation conference the proposal of the department of the interior for financing of Carey projects. It provides for government loans to settle in low interest bonds, secured by liens on the irrigated land and with the interest guaranteed by the reclamation fund now amounting to $100,000. Mr. Jones told the delegates that a proposal for patenting the land inside Carey act projects to the state was hopeless and that to secure a direct appropriation from congress was equally hopeless. Then he made his own suggestion. "Instead of having the general government construct the irrigation projects and turn them over to the settlers without interest, I suggest that we provide a fund, construct the project, put the farmer on the land, test the water supply and see that the farmer is actually deriving something from the soil. Then we could call in the local organization."

"We should provide for the certain collection of the income on the original investment by a lien on the land. Then we should sell long time bonds, bearing interest at three or four per cent. The farmer would pay nothing but the interest for the first ten years and the installments on the principal for 20 years thereafter; congress might then provide that if there was a default in interest it should be provided out of the reclamation fund."

After some discussion on Mr. Jones' suggestion a report previously presented by the Carey act committee was referred back to the commission for further consideration.

TRADERS BANK

Implicated in the Suit Against a New York Note Broker

NEW YORK, April 11.—Charles Van Allen, a note broker of this city was sued yesterday by Rensselaer L. Curtis, receiver of the Atlantic National bank of Providence, R. I., to recover $23,232 alleged to be due on the defendant's notes. Allen surrendered himself to United States Commissioner Shields last October soon after the arrest of Edward P. Metcalf, former president of the bank. The indictment charged the sale of six promissory notes to Metcalf to cover the amount Metcalf is alleged to have taken from the bank to aid the Columbia Securities Co., a bankrupt New Jersey corporation in its purchases of the controlling stock of the Traders National bank of Lowell, Mass.

FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

Observed on Elaborate Scale by All Local Hebrews—Both Synagogues Crowded

With prayers and all of the important ceremonies of the ancient ritual, the Jewish festival of Passover, which marks the exodus of the Israelites from old Egypt, where they were slaves of Pharaoh some 3000 or more years ago, was celebrated in at sundown yesterday by practically all the Jewish people of Lowell and the three local synagogues were filled to their capacity.

According to the estimation of the Jewish people, the Passover is the oldest holiday on the Hebrew calendar. It is one of the most important as well as one of the most joyous of holidays. The observance will last eight days or spent in praying last evening and elaborate services were held this morning from 8 o'clock until 11, with Rabbi Wolfson officiating.

This year the Hebrews have an especial welcome opportunity to attend the services at the synagogues on the first two days of the festival, today and tomorrow, as they will not be obliged to absent themselves from their daily occupations. At the synagogues special preparations were made to accommodate the large number which will attend the services throughout the holidays and Lowell Hebrews are assured of a gala celebration of the event of Passover.

While the entire week is festive in its nature the large public gatherings for Passover worship take place in the synagogues only the first two and the last two days are set aside for holy convocation and during this time the Jewish people do no kind of work or attend business of any kind while the four days are strictly observed as fast days.

The houses of the Hebrews have also been thoroughly cleaned and the housekeeper has cleaned every nook and corner. All food which is not used during the Passover festival has disappeared and every precaution has been taken to put the houses into readiness for the celebration.

COPPER STRIKE

Miners to Take Vote on Question to Return to Work

CALUMET, Mich., April 11.—Copper country locals of the Western Federation of Miners decided yesterday to issue a referendum vote next Sunday on the question of calling off the strike which has been waged here since July 23, 1913.

The action resulted from reports of the district officials which were submitted to five meetings in various parts of the strike zone. It was said that the district officers informed the men that no more concessions could be expected from the copper mining companies.

It was also stated that the union rank and file were told that the companies have established a substantial plant in the district and have arranged to hear grievances once each week. Recognition of the union, they said, has been steadfastly refused.

"For a Street Boy of Jerusalem" will be the subject of the Y. W. C. A. vespers Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A musical program will be furnished by a quartet consisting of Miss Ed. Henderson, soprano; Miss Gladys Melton, alto; Charles Whidden, tenor; and Donald Hanson, tenor. Mrs. Charles Sweetzer will be the accompanist.

FOR A CLEANER LOWELL

Taking advantage of the spring spirit that actuates all people in a desire for general cleanliness the board of trade has taken up the suggestion of a clean-up day with energy and thoroughness, and in the near future it is probable that we shall see a clean-up campaign that will outlive that of last year, and do a great deal towards the furthering of a permanent spirit for all that relates to civic cleanliness. It is vain to talk of the city beautiful while the streets are muddy and the alleys, courts, business streets and private lawns are littered with the refuse of winter and no campaign for mere beauty would be adequate or effective unless it made cleanliness its first requisite.

No better way to inaugurate such a movement and to carry it to a successful conclusion could be taken than that commenced a day or two ago by a conference in the board of trade rooms between the mayor, the city engineers, the heads of the fire and police departments, the head of the park department, the board of trade committee, and many others interested in all that relates to general cleanliness and sanitation. A clean-up campaign is a serious phase of municipal activity and the best results can be obtained only by the different departments working in harmony for a common end. When once it is generally understood that the city is going about such work in earnest a feeling of enthusiasm will be kindled that will not subside until Lowell gets rid of her grimy aspect and looks down at her own fair and spotless reflection in the Merrimack.

Though the clean-up spirit should stir up our public to action without the necessity arising for police activity, the campaign will be made fully effective if the police be given the power to enforce the demands of the general committee. Even should 90 per cent. of those who live on a street be actuated by the proper spirit, the other ten would prevent the cleanliness that is possible unless there is some mandatory power behind the agitation. No body is better able to reach all parts of the city than the members of the police department and if full publicity is given to the campaign it shall only be necessary for the police officer on the beat to call the attention of owners or tenants to some abuse, to get the best results. Ignorance cannot be accepted as an excuse in a matter of this nature. It is gratifying to observe that one phase of clean-up activity long suggested by The Sun is now being generally agitated, viz.: that suitable receptacles be provided for rubbish and litter in the business part of the city and that the police insist on their use by the public which now throws waste matter on the streets without a thought of general cleanliness or neatness.

No better time could be selected by the fire department to make a thorough canvass of the congested districts with an eye to the removal of fire hazards than during the clean-up campaign, for there is a direct connection between general neatness and fire prevention. The captain of each fire house should see to it that his respective territory is covered thoroughly, and here, too, a hint or even the expected visit is all that is necessary to wake people from their lethargy. If the period be extended over a few weeks there is no reason why residential and business Lowell should not be covered and inspected thoroughly, thus removing the fire risk appreciably.

If the city, backed up by civic organizations, do its share, there is no reason to suppose that the citizens generally will not co-operate in giving Lowell a spring cleaning that will set a new standard. Cellars, attics, corridors, closets and all nooks and corners, sidewalks, lanes and alleys, will be cleared of rubbish that should go to the city dump; lawns, walks and yards will be tidied and put in order; gardens will be spruced up and made presentable; windows will be washed and walls will be painted. Now is the time while the fever is in the air. Get together heads of departments and all who are interested, and the people of Lowell will respond readily. Let us all get busy so that a few months from now Lowell may look far more clean and consequently far more beautiful and healthful.

EASTER TIME

Even though we had never heard the beautiful story of the resurrection of Christ, is there not something in the air of Easter time that breathes of triumph and of hope? For months the earth has been held in icy bonds. The rivers have been stilled by restraining barriers and the winds have been cold and keen. The trees, bereft of their summer shade, have stood like monuments of departed joys and all the glories of the morning sunrise or of the evening sunset failed to breathe into human nature a message of life. Being of the earth and having the primitive call in our inmost hearts, we too, have begun to feel that in our dilly-dally we have been weaving on the wrong side of the tapestry, and we have longed to see the other side, a little fearful, perhaps, lest the pattern should have been spoiled.

Now comes Easter with the robins and the spring birds and with a greater promise in the stirring pussy willow twigs than all the glories of summer can repay. The brooks, released from their icy barriers, sparkle and sing anew; the sunshine steals faint colors from the pine boughs; no wine of the Rubaiyat was more invigorating than the cool breeze. Life is again worth living and even in the darkest cloud we may see the glint of a silver lining if we but lift up our eyes with hope and trust.

In its natural application and in its emotional aspect Easter has a joyous appeal, but its full significance is in its religious sense. The trappings of mourning have been put aside; sorrow and lamentation are ended; the organs and the bells have found a renewed voice and the wood of the cross has bloomed out into roses and lilies. With incense and flowers and music and songs of joy the church celebrates the triumph over death and sin, and from many a heart angels of God tell away the stone of doubt and of spiritual blindness. Like the light that shone around the Roman soldiers shines the light of hope and with the adoring women of the Bible, we fall on our knees and adore. What are suffering and pain and sorrow if after the dark way of the passion shall shine for us all the glory of an Easter morning? Well may we lift up our hearts and join with the church in its glorious Hallelujahs of jubilation.

THE GUNMEN

No stone is being left unturned in an effort to save from the electric chair the four gunmen of New York sentenced to die for the murder of Rosenfeld the gambler. In one of the cases, at least, affidavits and alleged new evidence have been introduced at the eleventh hour and though one may wonder why those who would now shield him did not come forward earlier, it may be that a delay is desirable in order to clear away any shadow of doubt concerning the guilt of all four before the day of execution arrives. Apart from the legal side it seems almost unnecessarily cruel that four should die for the death of one, especially when there is almost a certainty that they were merely the tools of a more guilty schemer. Had Becker not been favored by a decision of the higher courts there would have been but little sympathy for the gunmen, but when it is known that he is in a fair way of being freed, their lot seems harder than that of the usual murderer. As they wait in their youth for the summons of the executioner, they are a terrible warning to all who are in danger of taking the first steps that may lead to the ways of gamblers and gunmen.

SUICIDE HYSTERIA

Some newspapers are polling (un at the head of the University of Pennsylvania who recently sent for Billy Sunday to hold revival meetings among the students in order to check what the college head called a "suicide epidemic." Three of the students had taken their lives a short time previously, apparently on slight pretexts, and the shocking events made the noted educator turn to things spiritual for a remedy. Though this may be taken in a humorous sense by the Hypan or the irreverent, even in the University of Pennsylvania—for the average college student may be expected to find something funny even in suicide—it gives rise to serious thought. Possibly the sending for the famous evangelist was not the wisest course for the college head to pursue but it was an indication in his belief that suicides largely spring from neglect of religion and all that it implies. If the home influences of the self-slayers were understood one could find the basis for their death probably in the materialism, divorce evils and lack of restraint of much modern society life.

erans of the Balkan wars which is to take place in our Greek colony on Sunday in connection with the celebration in honor of the freedom of Greece is a lesson in patriotism which no body of men in the community should ignore. Without bravado or appeals to sentimentality and merely in a sense of duty hundreds of the local colony returned home at the call of their kind and many who so went back left their bones on the battlefields of the Balkan peninsula. Should there be a war with Mexico tomorrow, could America depend on the loyalty of those of her expatriates who live under other flags? The Greeks who fought so valiantly for their own land would fight as readily for their adopted land did the occasion demand it, and those of them who have come here to add to our desirable foreign population are richly deserving of the honors showered on them. ## LATE GOVERNOR ORAPER

In honoring the late Eben S. Draper, Massachusetts honors a sturdy politician of the old school who was as much the man of business as the man of politics and acted accordingly in all his official actions. A staunch republican of the days before a new spirit of unrest crept into all parties, he was out of touch with modern political ideals but he stood for the principles of a former age without forfeiting the respect of those who favor the new. He deserves to rank high in the estimation of the republican party of Massachusetts, and he never forfeited the respect of any party. In private life he was sincere, kindly and broad in his views and his conservative policies made of him a governor to which history ought to be kind.

COMMON SENSE ABOUT COLDS

NO. 2

Thousands of people die every year from the effects of neglected colds. A cold, you know, is a germ disease. We live in over-heated homes and offices and factories. We travel in badly ventilated street cars. We dress too warmly. And as a result our skin and the membranes of our throat and nose become over sensitive.

We are not able to resist the attacks of the deadly little microbes. The first unusual exposure to cold or dampness opens the door and the invading army comes in.

We begin to sneeze and cough and shiver.

Then is the time when quick action is necessary. Delay means deadly danger. La Grippe with its long train of serious after-effects, pneumonia, rheumatism, all follow in the train of the neglected cold.

When you feel those first shivery indications of a cold—act—and act quickly.

Ask your druggist for a box of Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine Tablets.

A few doses will knock out the cold in twenty-four hours.

La Grippe will be cured in three days—we guarantee this.

Your money will be refunded if it fails.

Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine tablets have been used by cold sufferers all over the United States for fifteen years.

They are positively harmless, have no unpleasant effects and always do their work.

You will find them in practically any drug store in the United States, and the druggist will tell you that they have come to be a thoroughly standard remedy.

Be sure you get the genuine—the box with the red top and Mr. Hill's signature on it. You can't afford to experiment with substitutes. Hill's is standard.

It is manufactured by W. H. Hill Company of Detroit and is sold by druggists everywhere. Price 25 cents.

THE SPELLBINDER

Now that the Massachusetts legislature has voted by a substantial majority to submit the question of a woman suffrage amendment to the constitution to the voters, the advocates of the change are jubilant, feeling in victory may crown their efforts at the polls. But they had better not be too certain. The cause of woman suffrage everywhere has been greatly weakened by the outrageous tactics adopted by the militant suffragettes of England.

Who can read of the outrages perpetrated by the militants in London and elsewhere without a feeling of disgust and even of shame to think that women supposed to be respectable and imbued with proper respect for the law, will resort to the use of the bomb and the torch for the wanton destruction of celebrated works of art, and historic mansions among the most famous in the country.

Militants Have Injured Their Cause

The antics of Mrs. Pankhurst as leader of the "arson" and other gangs sent out to commit depredations and to assault public officials, are highly disgraceful and if resorted to by men would bring them long terms of imprisonment. But the militants feel that their sex protects them and in this they are right for it has done so thus far in England. The only law passed to cope with the suffragette outrages is the "Cat and Mouse" act under which the women may be liberated on parole on condition of their good behavior. They have resorted to the hunger strike as a means of forcing the officials to set them free, and as soon as they get out, they start to commit the same outrages for which they were convicted. The government is being severely criticized for excessive leniency in dealing with these persistent marauders, but if it allowed them to starve to death in prison, there would be such an outcry of sympathy that the movement would receive a fresh and possibly an irresistible impetus.

The English people in spite of the vast losses inflicted by the militants are not going to yield to their demands, at least until the suffragettes change their policy or act more like sane and sensible beings.

Anti-Suffragists Active

In all probability the hysterical action of the English suffragettes has given new life to the anti-suffragist movement in this country, and especially here in Massachusetts where the "antis" are quite active in spreading their organization and distributing their literature. They now have branches in all the leading towns and cities of this state and only last week all which will help to crystallize the opposition to woman suffrage in this vicinity.

Mrs. Henry Preston White of Boston, is the chief organizer and the most active and intelligent worker against the equal suffrage movement in this state as her daily contributions to the press her speeches and work of organization will abundantly attest. She is not a female, but in her calm, dignified and conservative style, she presents the strongest arguments that can be adduced against the extension of the franchise and let me say that notwithstanding all counter claims there are very strong arguments.

Woman Suffrage Elsewhere

As to the prevalence of woman suffrage in other countries I find that Norway, federated Australia, Finland, Sweden, New Zealand, Iceland and China give full suffrage; women are eligible to all offices in Finland and Norway; throughout Canada women have municipal suffrage and in Ontario school suffrage also. In France, women engaged in commerce, may vote for judges of the tribunals of commerce; in Denmark women who are taxpayers or the wives of taxpayers may vote for all but members of parliament; in Belgium women may vote for and are eligible as members of the parliamentary council in Great Britain and Ireland suffrage is granted for all but members of parliament; full parliamentary suffrage in the Isle of Man; in 1907 women were made eligible as mayors, aldermen, town and county councilors in England; the Kingdom of Wurtemberg and two provinces in Austria granted partial suffrage to women; in the Swiss cantons of Valais, while Swiss women were made eligible in election in 1912.

In the United States

What is the present status of woman suffrage in this country? Women have now complete suffrage on the same terms as men in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Kansas, Oregon and Arizona; school suffrage in twenty-four states, including Massachusetts; taxpayers' suffrage in five bond suffrage in Iowa; limited suffrage in Minnesota, while in Louisiana women have the right to vote on all matters of taxation.

In the American states in which woman suffrage has been in full force for years, no revolution has been noticed in any direction as a result.

The laws seem certainly not any better than the laws of states where women do not vote. It is also doubtful if they are any better than they would have been if the women did not possess the suffrage. On the liquor question especially it might be expected that women would exercise their influence on the side of prohibition but on this question also it would appear that the vote of the women has not had any great positive effect. In only one of the suffrage states, namely Kansas, is there constitutional prohibition. While of the others there is license in two and local option in six.

The secretary of a Pacific coast liquor organization stated to the San Francisco Examiner recently: "If long ago made a thorough investigation in the states where woman suffrage has been tried and learned that the liquor business has not been hurt in the least by women's vote."

According to the Denver Post when prohibition was submitted in 1912, the most active workers for license were the women. That statement I am inclined to doubt unless there was some special cause of a local character that induced them to take that position as a means of preventing a worse evil. Yet in Los Angeles recently the vote for license was three to one in some districts where women voters were in the majority.

The state of Michigan came within 741 votes of adopting woman suffrage in 1912 and the suffragists insisted upon the question being submitted in 1914 in which it was defeated by the overwhelming majority of 96,144. The Kentucky lower house of the general assembly has put itself on record as opposed to granting the voting privilege to women by voting 51 to 23 to defeat an amendment to the constitution allowing women to vote.

The Coming Battle

The great question soon to be decided is what the voters of Massachusetts will do with woman suffrage. It is alleged by certain politicians that the legislature voted in favor of submission simply as a means of disposing of the matter in a quiet and unobtrusive manner. The voters will tell the amendment. If there is a very great probability unless sentiment changes very much in favor of the suffragists in the meantime. The contest would bring a picturesque campaign of outrages. All the leading suffragist orators of the country would be drafted while the antis would not be idle. The liquor interests, it is safe to say, would be firmly opposed to giving women the ballot but any open campaign from that source would probably injure the movement instead of helping it. Another legislative must vote for submission before the people can have an opportunity to pass upon it. In the meantime the contending forces will exert all their influence, though there is but slight chance that as a result Massachusetts will become a suffrage state.

The Feminist Movement

Complicated with the suffrage movement is the feminist propaganda which seeks to overturn, explain away or remove the points that in the calculations of daily life differentiate woman from man and mainly to her disadvantage. Dr. Stanton Coit states that wifehood has all the characteristics of slavery, work without wage, no specified hours, no right to change employers. Hence, feminists and naturally incite wives to revolt against such close attention to domestic duties, if not against motherhood. Morrison I. Swift believes "feminism should and will bring about free love and that the suffragette who is not also a great deal more than a suffragette will help very little in the emancipation of woman. The new ballot itself, he says, is of no more value than a surgical instrument in the hands of a person ignorant of its use. In this lies the difference between suffragism and feminism."

Some people are of the opinion that with woman suffrage in full force, new movements may come up in which the women will be directly opposed to the men on certain issues to be decided at the polls. It is also assumed that in hot election contests of this kind the women might resort even then to some of the militant tactics adopted in England in order to carry their demands over all opposition. In this country some prominent agitators and writers, such as Lincoln Steffens and Professor Zerkow, are including the women suffragists in more militant methods, evidently suggesting the adoption of the same methods now being used in England. Mr. Steffens at a recent meeting of women in New York said: "If the minority of women get it, they should destroy property or anything else." A man who would advocate the application of the bomb and the torch will bear watching. Woman suffrage will win, if at all, by this and other states by sane and sensible methods, without any resort to militant tactics, hysteria or anything

Boards of Assessors

The bill now before the legislature providing that boards of assessors shall be placed under civil service rules cannot fail to have good results because the assessors of property should be so far removed from political influences that they can discharge their duties honestly and faithfully without any fear of arbitrary removal from office or of coming within the sweep of the politician's power. The board of assessors should be held outside the spoils system and this cannot be done in any better way than by placing them under the civil service regulations. The passage of such a law should be welcomed by the local board of assessors in view of their recent experience. The bill, however, I understand would place the power of appointment in the hands of the mayor of each city. In cities having the commission form of government this would be a manifest injustice as the mayor is but one of a board of five members supposed to have equal powers in the election of subordinate boards and department heads. If the bill is meant to apply to cities living under the commission form of government such as Lowell, and I am informed that it does, then this particular feature should be changed. The municipal board, not the mayor, should fill vacancies in the board of assessors.

REFORM 8000 WORDS

SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD FINISHES ITS WORK AT NEW YORK—MANY PAPERS READ

NEW YORK, April 11.—The simplified spelling board, which has been holding its eighth annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, finished its work yesterday with the announcement that more than 8000 words have been reformed or corrected.

Among the members who took part in the sessions of the convention were William Archer, English author; Prof. Chas. H. Grandgent of Harvard, William Trufant Foster, president of Reed College; Henry Gallup Paine, Professor Brainer Matthews of Columbia, Henry Holt, publisher and author, Dr. Frank Gideon, Prof. Calvin Thomas of Columbia, George H. Danton, Dr. Melvil Dewey and William P. MacLean, M. P., editor of the Toronto World.

The board asserts that simplified spelling is catching on rapidly and that more interest is being shown by colleges, universities, schools, newspapers and business concerns than in other years. In Illinois 16 colleges and universities have promised to adopt the standards of the board and the movement has been advanced materially in other states. The principal work of the board at present is interesting schools and colleges, it was said.

William Archer told the convention that a petition would be presented soon to Prime Minister Asquith asking for the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the merits of the movement. Mr. Archer said he expected the premier to acquiesce and that the commission would be a big victory for simplified spelling.

Papers were read by Mr. Archer, Prof. Grandgent, Prof. Matthews, Mr. Holt, Dr. Gideon and others.

MAYOR TO NAME

Bill Before Legislature
Passes

If a bill now before the legislature should become law the assessors of taxes, now elected by the municipal council, would be appointed by the mayor and the board would come under civil service.

The bill was ordered to a third reading in the senate yesterday afternoon. Senator Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford, chairman of the committee on cities which reported the bill favorably, said that he anticipated that the bill will successfully pass both branches of the legislature.

The bill provides that the mayor or the executive officer of any city or town shall hereafter appoint the assessors and assistant assessors who are required to take civil service regulations. The assessors who are in office at the time of the passage of the bill will not be required to undergo the civil service examinations but will be

POPE'S EASTER MESSAGE

LONDON, April 10.—In a message to the world for Easter, the pope, through the Standard's Rome correspondent, says:

"The message of the church to the world at Easter is the eternal one. It is this—Christ has risen. But, though the message is an old one, it has its application always to the newest events. Hence it is a message which always has a new force."

"Christ rose to bring peace to the world. It is thus the duty of his followers to strive to bring about peace."

"I pray, and I desire that all should pray, that this Easter may bring peace to all the world."

"In our minds there rises first of all the thought of two regions of the earth which most of all at the present time stand in need of this blessing—the Balkans in the Old World, Mexico in the New World. May Easter bring them peace."

"May all who control the destinies of the nations work to this end, and with this peace may there come inspiration into the minds of all men, and especially all rulers, that their ideal which alone is a guarantee of universal peace should be instaurare omnia in Christum (to build everything on Christ)."

PROVIDENCE, April 10.—Efforts to identify John C. Dunbar, arrested here last night with a small arsenal, as the man who robbed the Timothy Smith & Co. department store in Boston of $5000 last Sunday night failed today. Inspectors O'Neill and Burke of the Boston police, who came here to see the man found that his description in many ways resembled that of the robber.

FELL FROM POLE

Axel Anderson, a lineman in the employ of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. who lives at 22 Viola st., received a severe shaking up this afternoon when he fell from one of the company's poles on Fourth street opposite the fire house.

Anderson was working on the pole about 20 feet above the ground when his climber slipped out and he slid rapidly down to the pavement. His feet and ankles were badly swollen and his back received a heavy jar.

The injured lineman was taken into the Fourth street engine house and Dr. Jewett was called. The physician was not sure that Anderson's back had not suffered more than appearances indicated and a call for the ambulance was sent in. He was taken to St. John's hospital where he is now resting comfortably.

SHE LOST HER WAY

Mrs. Bertha Berthume, an old lady over 70 years of age, and whose home is in Barre, Vt., came to the police station late this afternoon in a pitiful state of exhaustion. She had been wandering through the streets of the city since early morning.

The old lady is stopping for a few days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Lord, of 743 Lawrence street, and has not been in the best of health since her arrival in Lowell. Early today she was misled by her daughter and until the police notified the father of her mother's whereabouts the family were frantically trying to locate her.

It was thought that Mrs. Berthume had wandered away from the house and fallen into the canal and the police were called upon to aid the family in their search. How the old lady happened to locate the police station is not known for she is not acquainted here. She was taken to her daughter's home in a carriage.

Faculty and Students
Busy on Plans for
Their Exhibit

The students and faculty of the Lowell textile school are busy these days in preparing their exhibit which will be shown at the textile show, which will be conducted in Mechanics building, Boston, from April 27 to May 2 inclusive.

The display will consist of products of the school, including textile materials made by students, machines in operation, drawings and designs, parts of machines made by students, as well as dyeing materials. The machines on exhibition, which will be operated by students of the school will include a worsted and cotton comb, a cotton loom and a piece-dyeing machine. The different courses of the school will be shown by means of a large picture representing the exterior and interior of the buildings of the school, and an explanation of the various studies will also be given. The school exhibit will be one of the largest ever prepared by this institution.

The graduation exercises at the school will be held on May 6, when 23 certificates will be awarded. The principal speaker has not yet been chosen, and the announcement will be made at a later date. The exercises will be held at Southwick hall.

DEATHS

GOLDEN—Miss Bridget Golden, for many years a resident of this city, died this morning at the Chalmers Street hospital, aged 70 years. O'Donnell & Sons.

DISROBING ACT

The unusual spectacle of a middle-aged man doing a disrobing act at the corner of Merrimack and John streets about 3 o'clock this afternoon drew a large crowd of passersby to the vicinity and congested traffic for several minutes. Officer Joseph Considine, however, noticed the crowd and immediately started from Merrimack square for the scene. A man, with coat and vest already removed, was in the act of taking off his shirt when the officer put in his appearance.

Without wasting any time in preliminaries, Officer Considine ordered the would-be "September Morn" into Bailey's drug store. There it was learned that the man's name was Peter Patinaude, who resides at the corner of Main and Plain streets. The ambulance was summoned and the robber was taken to his home, as the police were unable to ascertain what "aided the man."

$1,500,000 PIER PLANNED

BY THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF BOSTON TO EAST BOSTON

BOSTON, April 11.—Plans are completed for the construction of a pier on the old Eastern railroad property in East Boston by the port directors of Boston. It is to be 1000 feet long, with channels surrounding it deep enough to dock the largest vessel now in commission.

The site was taken last year by right of eminent domain and an agreement to pay $150,000 was reached. The plans provide for a wide range in the matter of expenditure with a maximum of $1,500,000. These figures include only the cost of the pier and its equipment, not taking in the cost of the site.

FRANK RICARD

UPTOWN JEWELER

The church has occupied a great portion of our time during the Lenten season and certainly no better place could we have spent our time and no doubt we have all made good resolutions and as a kind of a reminder of our good intentions it would be well to have some little emblem in the form of medal, charm or perhaps you may need a prayer book, rosary, scapular or religious statuaries, and these can always be found at Frank Ricard's jewelry store for no other store in the city has the collection of religious articles that is found at Ricard's. The best of it all is that his prices for these and other articles are much lower than the prices of any other store. A full and complete line of gold and silver articles can always be found.

Man Was Killed by Wire Blown Against Him by Wind

RICHFORD, Vt., April 11.—A highly charged electric wire, which had been broken by a blast today, killed M. H. Derby, a Canadian Pacific railroad construction foreman.

Derby was in charge of cement construction work near Newport. He had warned his men against approaching the wire when a gust of wind blew it against him with fatal result.

FORMER LOWELL PRIEST

REV. JOHN C. DUFFY, O. M. I., IS VISITING IN THIS CITY—TOOK PART IN 3 WEEKS' MISSION

Rev. J. C. Duffy, O. M. I., formerly of Lowell, Rev. J. P. Reynolds, O. M. I., and Rev. P. J. Phelan, O. M. I., preached a three weeks' mission at St. Monica's church, New York, recently and it was pronounced the most successful ever given in the church. Fr. Duffy returned to Lowell with Fr. Phelan and will remain here for a short rest.

TO SPEAK AT BIDDEFORD

DR. GENERALIS OF THIS CITY WILL ADDRESS BIDDEFORD, ME. GREEKS TOMORROW

Dr. Demosthenes Generalis of Lowell will deliver the principal oration at the Independence day celebration of the Greeks at Biddeford, Me., tomorrow. It is said that there are about 3000 Greeks in the Maine city and that the celebration tomorrow will be one of the most elaborate ever held by that nationality in Biddeford. This will prevent Dr. Generalis from taking part in the local observance.

CUTTER SAVED SCHOONER

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 11.—The revenue cutter Seminole succeeded at a late hour last night in freeing the stranded schooner William Thomas Moore from the dangerous Little river inlet bar, South Carolina, on which she ran March 22. Schooner and cargo are in good condition. The Moore was bound to New York.

The Misses Mary and Catherine Holmes of Varnum avenue left yesterday for a southern trip. They will be gone about two weeks and will visit New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Old Point Comfort and other places.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Unless the weather interferes Lowell fans will have a chance Monday to look over the candidates for this year's local representative in the New England league. They will all be out at Spaulding park for their arrival tomorrow.

There may be a few stragglers, but those who arrive late will incur the wrath of Manager Gray and it is hardly probable that any of the recruits will take a chance on losing a suit on account of procrastination.

George Bolton, the local boy who has played for the last three years on the Exeter eleven, will be a football factor in whatever college he decides to enter next fall. Princeton seems to be the choice of Bolton at present. Bolton played centre two years and tackle during the last season. His weight will probably place him among the candidates of either centre or guard.

Although the Federal league lost out in their attempt to restrain Killifer from joining the Phillies the outlaws claim the decision of the courts in the case was a clear-cut victory. It was the first time that the reserve clause was ever questioned. The decision handed down yesterday means that hereafter players' contracts will not contain any reserve clause. It was a hard blow to organized baseball.

The Harvard varsity eight pulled out an easy winner over the second boat in their speed trials yesterday over the Hensley course. Those who watched the brush were surprised at the speed shown by the Crimson crew. The first half-mile of the race was rowed in remarkable form and Coach Wray stated afterward that he was not worrying over this year's boat crew.

The Red Sox finally got a chance to don their uniforms yesterday although the weather conditions were not the best. Rain and cold weather has held back the development of the Boston Americans this spring and the team will start the season without having had much hard practice. Ray Collins, however, has gotten himself into condition early this year for he showed yesterday he was in mid-season form. Dayton went down to defeat by a 12 to 3 score. Eight hits were made off Collins in the seven innings he worked.

Ty Cobb won the Tiger-tied Sox game yesterday. Cobb was there with a brace of triples which drove in a run and the great outfielder scored three himself. Cobb's early season work shows promise that the Georgian may have the most successful season of his career this year.

This Speaker, Melina Wagner and Joe Wood have all been shipped home from the Red Sox camp and will remain in Boston until the opening game. The three great ball players are enthusiastic over the chances of their club this season and say that Bill Carrigan will put a team into the field that will be a strong pennant contender.

The appointment of Al Wicke, the physical director of the local Y. M. C. A., to take charge of all the Y. M. C. A. entries for the Bunting marathon run to be held on Memorial day will meet with approval by the athletes. The local man is well known for his ability in handling men over the long grind and the runners under his care will be sure to receive the best attention.

Joe Tincup, the Indian twirler who was expected to be with the Lowell club this season, is being picked for one of Manager Doolin's mainstays in the box this year. The badly shattered pitching staff of the Phillies will have to be bolstered up with new men and Tincup is expected to be one of the regulars from the showing he has made thus far. Jimmy Gray had an option on the services of the Indian when Doolin decided to farm him out but the Phillies' manager later changed his mind.

"Shubert" Greenhalge (Thomas) and Christy Mathewson's brother will not report here tomorrow. It was learned at baseball headquarters this afternoon. The stocky catcher of last year's club is still at college and will be forced to stay there until April 27th on account of examinations. He will be here on time, however, for the opening league game. Mathewson's wife is sick and he stated in a letter to Manager Gray today that he could not get to Lowell until a week from today.

The first practice game of the pre-season schedule will be played by the local club next Thursday in Nashua. Thursday is Fast day in New Hampshire and a large crowd will turn out if the weather man is kind on that day. Gray will probably use the majority of his recruits in the contest.

MR. THOS. F. PEARSON

GIVEN PURSE OF GOLD BY FELLOW EMPLOYEES THIS MORNING

Mr. Thomas F. Pearson, of the Metropolitan Insurance Co., one of the oldest insurance agents in the city in point of service, leaves Lowell shortly for Mt. McGregor, Adirondacks, where he will spend a few months at the sanitarium of the company in the hope of recovering from an illness which he has been troubled with for some time.

Mr. Pearson has been connected with the Metropolitan company since the year 1892, with the exception of a short time which he spent in Alaska. He is one of the most popular employees of the company and his cheerful disposition has earned him many friends in this city and the surrounding towns. This morning, when he reported at the office, he was presented a purse of gold, the gift of his fellow employees. Although taken wholly by surprise Mr. Pearson thanked the members of the staff and stated that he would always remember the thoughtful things done for him while connected with the local office. Mr. Pearson hopes to be able to return to his duties in a few months.

Mr. Fred G. Barnes will sing at the offertory at the parish mass at St. Peter's church, tomorrow morning.

PULMOTOR IS ORDERED MILITANT THREW BALL OF PAPER AT MAGISTRATE

For Use of Police and Ambulance Work — May Save Lives in Drowning and Other Cases

Dr. Tighe, the city physician, has instructed the ambulance physicians, Drs. Donovan and Shaw, in the use of the pulmotor, and from this time on it is expected that fatalities from asphyxiation will be greatly decreased by the use of this instrument.

The pulmotor is being used in all the large cities in the United States and in many European countries as well. Lowell's step in purchasing a pulmotor is simply an evolution in the science of medicine.

The idea of the recently discovered instrument is to supply in the shortest space of time the amount of oxygen needed by the blood and at the same time to remove the carbonic gases. Asphyxiation, of course, is due to an insufficiency of oxygen in the system of the victim and the increase of carbonic and carbonic gases.

The pulmotor is used principally in drowning accidents, in cases where attempted hangings are committed and in gas poisonings. Several instances within the past few years have arisen where a life would have been saved had this instrument been in existence.

The machine is not a very complicated affair. Iron tanks, resembling in size and character the ordinary soda water tank, contain the oxygen which is forced into a mouthpiece by means of compressed air. Cases are now common where persons have been revived after all outward signs of respiration or heart action had ceased entirely.

Better to Physicists
Mayor Murphy calls the attention of the physicians to the pulmotor in the following letter:

April 10, 1914.
To the Physicians of Lowell:
Sir—Attention is called to the fact that the city of Lowell is in the possession of a pulmotor, which can be particularly used in cases of drowning, asphyxiation of all kinds, morphine, chloral hydrate poisoning, electrocution, and in any acute condition which primarily causes death by reason of inability of oxygen to get to the lungs, or by its direct effect upon the centre of respiration.
This apparatus will be at the police station on Market street at all times, and can be obtained at once by getting in touch with the city physician or either of the ambulance surgeons.

Respectfully yours,
Denis J. Murphy,
Mayor.

Woman, Who With Cleaver Tried to Demolish Valuable Porcelains in the British Museum Created Such a Disturbance in Court Today That Trial Was Adjourned

LONDON, April 11.—May Stewart, the militant suffragette who with a cleaver tried to demolish a case of valuable porcelains in the British museum on April 9, created such a disturbance when charged today that the police magistrate was compelled to adjourn the trial.

On the public prosecutor opening the case against her Miss Stewart shouted: "I have not come here to listen to you today."

The magistrate remonstrated with the prisoner but she declared she would not desist so long as Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was being "tortured" under the cat and mouse act, "the devilish work of Reggie McKenna, the home secretary."

Then she threw a ball of paper at the magistrate, whereupon he and the public prosecutor gave up in despair and ordered the hearing postponed. "May Stewart" was later in the day identified as "Catherine Wilson," who was arrested on March 16, 1913, in the lobby of the house of commons. She was then dressed as a man and carried a concealed dogwhip. She was sentenced to six weeks' hard labor as a suspected person.

The real name of the prisoner is understood to be Clare Lambert, an organizer of the Women's Social and Political union, who has been convicted of suffrage outrages on several occasions.

ARRAY OF PENSION BILLS

Before Social Welfare Committee Taking in Almost Every Class Except Mill Operatives

There are more pension bills before the legislature this year than ever before in the history of that body and it was but yesterday that the social welfare committee had on its calendar for the day no less than forty-three pension bills. It was a physical impossibility for the committee to discuss all the bills but the crowding of the calendar with these bills simply show how enormous has been the increase as heretofore the calendar for a day never averaged more than ten or twelve. Here are the bills that the committee had on its calendar for consideration yesterday:

- Pensions for Boston police.
- Pensions for permanent and call firemen.
- Pensions for employees of state, counties, cities and towns.
- Pensions to clerks of district, police and municipal courts.
- Pensions for Cambridge employees, for retirement system for public school teachers.
- That draftsmen and assistants be entitled to Boston laborers' retirement fund.
- Pensions for city and town laborers.
- To amend law on retirement fund for Boston laborers.
- On retirement of city and town laborers. (From cities).
- On retirement system for counties.
- On pensions for laborers of cities and towns.
- On pensions for women in state institutions.

On retiring, etc., laborers of Metropolitan water and park boards. (From Metropolitan affairs).

For pensions for attendance officers.

For pensions for police matrons in Holyoke.

For pensions for certain employees of Boston.

On pensions for city clerks.

Pensions for certain women employees of state.

Pensions for Civil War veterans employed by Boston.

Pensions for certain employees of Boston.

That employees of marine service of cities and towns be eligible for pensions.

Pensions, etc., for city and town employees.

For submitting "pension act" to Lowell voters. (From cities).

ARRESTED IN WORCESTER

Frank R. Rose of this city was arrested in Worcester late last night by a police inspector of that city. His arrest followed a request for his arrest by the local police on a warrant charging him with neglecting to provide support for his minor children.

Inspector Walsh was sent to Worcester on an early train this morning to bring Rose back to Lowell for trial on the complaint. He will be arraigned before Judge Erighi in police court Monday morning.

GRAND EASTER CONCERT

TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW EVENING IN ASSOCIATE HALL, UNDER DIRECTION OF PROF. GUILBAULT

Owing to the enterprise and initiative of a talented young local musician, Professor Louis N. Guilbault, Lowell will be treated to the best in vocal and instrumental music at the grand Easter concert which will be given in Associate hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. As pianist and conductor Mr. Guilbault is rapidly building up an enviable reputation and he is also becoming widely known as a composer of taste and ability. Many of his compositions are ranked high in those musical circles where modern music is played at the present time. He went to Paris last summer to continue his studies and while there he was commended for his successful compositions by Mlle. Marie Antoinette Quicherat, who had sung as soprano at the Grand Concerts Lyonnais. The grand Easter concert will be held under the personal direction of Prof. Guilbault and this act of itself ensures the fullest measure of artistic excellence. In the splendid program will be included an orchestra of 30 pieces, consisting of picked musicians, and there will be vocal selections by the best local and out of town professionals. Lowell lovers of music, and many who have long regretted the fact that this city has not given all that relates to music the support that it deserves, in the past, are expected to be present in force, and the sale of tickets indicates the fact that Associate hall will be crowded to capacity.

Heading the list of the vocalists will be Signor Vanni, Italian tenor, who sang for seven years with the Metropolitan Opera company, New York; and for two years with the Boston Opera company. The 30-piece orchestra will render a concert and a number of individual selections, and practically all the vocalists are students at or graduates of the New England Conservatory of music. Following is the full program:

Guilbault's full orchestra, 30 pieces.
Louis Napoleon Guilbault, conductor.
Bridal Overture.....Lavalley.
Waves of the Danube, Waltz.....Ivanovic.

Popular Hits.
La Czarina, Mazurka.....Ganne.
Coronation March.....Meyerbeer.
Poet and Peasant Overture.....Suppe.
Zizang Polka.....Waldenfel.
Popular Hits.
Aureouche Waltz.....Berger.
Stars and Stripes Forever.....Souza.

Among the soloists will be Signor Vanni, the high class Italian tenor, seven years with the New York Metropolitan Grand Opera; Miss Katherine V. Hennessey, soprano, of the New England Conservatory; Miss Clemence Simard, soprano of the New England Conservatory; Miss Edouardina Milet, Alice Renaud, Alice Norton and Georgia Desrosiers. Louis Napoleon Guilbault, the young French-American pianist and conductor, who made a real hit in Paris last summer, while visiting the great French capital, will also play some of his original compositions.

IN POLICE COURT

James A. Guilmette pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was fined $5. Frank P. Stack, another second offender, also met with a $5 reception.

James P. Moran, a young man who has made three appearances for drunkenness within the past year, was given another chance by Judge Erighi. Moran was placed on probation to pay a fine of $15. Richard Cooper, also a third offender, was released with a suspended fine of $15.

Mary Hollingsworth was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail. The charge was drunkenness. The case of Thomas Connolly, charged with assault and battery upon his wife, was placed on this morning.

The defendant was placed under a bond to keep the peace and William A. Hogan, Esq., who appeared for the prosecution, agreed to settle the case on this condition. The case grew out of a family wrangle in Billerica.

MOVIES BARRED

From Town of Winchester — School Officials Oppose Them

BOSTON, April 11.—The selection of Winchester last evening found a divided sentiment regarding the propriety of permitting a motion picture theatre in that town, when they gave a hearing on the petition of Mrs. Oren C. Sanborn for a license for such an establishment.

The superintendent of schools favored the granting of the license, but a member of the school committee was opposed to such action. A clergyman spoke in behalf of the petitioners, but a representative of the Winchester Mothers' association spoke in remonstrance.

George C. Colt of the school committee objected on the ground that the concentration powers of the children would be affected, and that they would be thinking of the "wild and woolly west" rather than their lessons. He would not mind as much, he said, if but one performance a week was to be given, and that under proper supervision, but as he understood it, the plan was for several performances a week.

N. M. Nichols, town trustee and officer and custodian of school buildings, objected to granting the petition, but stated that performance might properly be given under supervision of the school department.

Mrs. N. M. Nichols, a member of the Winchester Mothers' association, advanced the argument that it would be but another hardship added to the burden of the town's poor families, whose children would want to attend when the parents were not in a position to let them.

UP TO WILSON

President Must Approve or Disapprove Wineless Navy

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Secretary Daniels' recent order prohibiting wine on board ship and at naval stations is squarely up to President Wilson, without whose approval it cannot be enforced, according to the authorities on naval law.

It is pointed out that there is a law of congress which expressly provides that all naval orders, regulations and instructions, issued by the secretary of the navy, must be approved by the chief executive before they shall become effective.

Both the morning and evening services of the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow, special music will be rendered by a large chorus. The soloist at the morning service will be Mrs. Ida Stewart Smith. The chorus will render the hymn, "Why Seek Ye the Living?" under the direction of the organist, Arthur W. Dows.

Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins

Will be pleased to meet her friends at THE GOVE CO. MILLINERY, 141-145 Merrimack St.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes

Time It!—Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't sit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of indigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, no nausea, no debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

AMERICANS ARRESTED EASTER SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

Taken by Mexican Federals and Marched Through the Streets—
Huerta Apologizes

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Official report of the arrest and subsequent release of marines at Tampico was received today by Secretary Daniels, who forwarded it to President Wilson at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Rear Admiral Mayo reported that after the marines were released upon his demand he gave the Huerta commander 24 hours to salute the American colors as an apology. The time expired at 6 o'clock last night. The report received today did not say whether the demand had been complied with, but Secretary Daniels interpreted press dispatches saying the Mexican commander had apologized as meaning he had complied with Admiral Mayo's demand.

Apology Reported

Later Charge O'Shaughnessy officially reported General Huerta's apology and detention of the marines and forwarded a copy of a statement issued by Huerta.

Mr. Bryan would not comment on the statement but will await a full report of all the circumstances before announcing whether Huerta's explanation will satisfy this government. Despite the state department's renewed protest against wholesale expulsions of Spaniards from Mexico, Consul Hamlin today reported that General Villa had reiterated his order that all Spaniards leave the section under his control. He also reports confiscation of some Spanish properties. No reply had been received to Secretary Bryan's communication to Carranza demanding that all cases of expulsion be considered on their individual merits.

Meanwhile, Consul Agents Carothers and other consular officers in districts where there are Spanish colonies will continue to present the state department's demands for the safety of Spanish lives and property.

Consul Hamlin shipped heavy fighting at San Pedro but did not indicate the results.

Chaotic Conditions at Torreon

Latest official advices are summarized in this statement.

Chaotic conditions at Torreon are reported to the state department but the commander-in-chief of the forces occupying the district has promised that all foreign property shall be protected. It is insisted, however, that all Spaniards must leave the section under his control and confiscations of the abandoned property have occurred. Railroad connections of Monterrey are reported suspended since the first week of April. Telegraphic communication is very difficult.

General Alvarado has wired Consul Hostetter at Hermosillo that a force of 200 men had been sent for protection of settlers in the Yaqui valley and that every effort was being made for their safety.

AMERICAN OFFICER IS ARRESTED BY MEXICAN FEDERALS—PRESIDENT HUERTA APOLOGIZES

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—A launch from the United States gunboat Dolphin, carrying the paymaster and a small detachment of marines, put in at Huerta at Tampico. The Americans were after a supply of gasoline. They were in uniform but unarmed. The launch flew the American flag. Col. Hinojosa, commanding a detachment of Mexican Federals, placed the paymaster and his men under arrest. They were paraded through the streets and held for a time under detention.

Admiral Mayo made vigorous protest to the authorities and the men were released. Gen. Ignacio Zaragoza expressed to Admiral Mayo his regret. Although President Huerta in an official statement to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, has apologized for the unusual seizure of the Mexican commander at Tampico, there exists here great uneasiness.

VILLA AND CARRANZA, REBEL LEADERS, TO MEET AT CHIHUAHUA TOMORROW

EL PASO, Texas, April 11.—It was officially announced in Juarez yesterday that Gen. Venustiano Carranza will leave Juarez today, accompanied by members of his cabinet, and his staff for Chihuahua City where he will meet Gen. Pancho Villa. The meeting, it is understood, is to be a formal one, the two rebel chiefs to greet each other in the presence of the people, and the event is to be made much of by the people in the state capital.

It was not announced just exactly when the meeting will take place, as it is not known when Villa will be able to leave Torreon, but it is believed in Juarez that the meeting may occur Sunday and that Villa will leave Torreon for Chihuahua today.

C. Y. M. L. NOTES

The members of the Catholic Young Men's League are making arrangements for a ladies' night which will be held at the Lyceum's rooms in Suffolk on the evening of April 25. The affair is in the hands of the entertainment committee and a real good time will be in store for the members of the fair sex who will attend.

The C. Y. M. L. second basketball team is rehearsing over the fact that it still has to lose a game. During the past season this strong team has played 18 different games and it has 15 victories to its credit. The athletes of the Lyceum are now forming a track team and the members who feel able to enter such an aggregation are requested to give their names. The Glee club of the Lyceum will

LAWRENCE BRIDGE UNSAFE

One of the Large Steel Braces of the Falls Bridge Broken—Bridge Will Be Closed to Traffic

LAWRENCE, April 11.—The Falls bridge was reported today as unsafe.

It is said that the stone tiers have been weakened by the high water of this spring and of recent years and that sections of the bridge are in danger of collapsing.

Although official verification could not be obtained this afternoon it is said on good authority that the officials under whose supervision the bridge comes have had an engineer from Boston to ascertain the exact extent of the reported weakening of the bridge.

It was found this afternoon that one of the big steel braces of the bridge was broken and had parted.

Two police officers are on duty at the bridge.

It is probable that the bridge will be closed at once to traffic.

POLICE PATROL WAGON

Must Not be Used to Carry Children to Station or Any Other Institutions

Some time ago in Boston children, who were cutting up pranks on a park or common, were taken from the park or common in a patrol wagon to the police station. If we remember the story aright the mothers of the children had accompanied them to the park or common but were absent when the patrol arrived. But, be that as it may, quite a hubbub was raised and a great deal was said about it at the time. It was argued that it was absolutely wrong to take the little ones away in the patrol wagon and to prevent a repetition of its following act, relative to the conveyance of children to courts and asylums, was introduced in the legislature and was approved the first of this month:

A child who is not convicted or accused of any offense but is a neglected or destitute child or is otherwise so circumstanced as to require its conveyance from its home or from any other place to any court or asylum, shall not be conveyed in a patrol wagon but shall be conveyed in such other suitable vehicle as shall be provided or designated by the children's institutions department in the city of Boston and by the overseers of the poor in all other cities and in all towns.

Section 2—Whoever violates or causes to be violated any provision of this act shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than fifty dollars for each offense, or shall be imprisoned for not more than three months. (Approved April 1, 1914.)

COMPULSORY TESTIMONY

Inter-State Commerce Counsel
Seeks Order to Compel New Haven Witnesses to Answer

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel of the supreme interstate commerce commission expects to begin early next week in the supreme court of the District of Columbia proceedings to compel witnesses in the New Haven railroad investigation to answer questions concerning operations of the Billard company. If it should be necessary to take similar steps to compel the production of the books and records of the Billard company, another proceeding probably would be started according to Mr. Folk at New Haven as that is the seat of the concern.

As to the witnesses, however, the situation is different. They are under subpoena to appear here and did actually appear and their refusal to testify was made here. It is held, therefore, that they fall within the jurisdiction of the district court.

In the proceedings to be started, the Billard company, the several reclamation witnesses presumably connected with the Billard company, the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. Co. and the latter's subsidiary, the New England Navigation Co. will be made defendants, although the railroad and the navigation companies have expressed a desire to comply with the commission's orders and to co-operate with it in every way in obtaining the information it desires.

GORHAM STREET SEWER

was examined at that time and it was found that three lengths of pipe were missing. The story has it that the three lengths had never been laid and the sewerage that lost its way crossing the divide went into the ground and finally found its way to the cellars. The work was done by contract.

Examination of Sewer

Charlie Morse wasn't the least bit pleased when he found that the big sewer main had dropped and that he would have to reconstruct at least a portion of it. He said, however, that he would tackle it Monday morning. The distance from the manhole near Appleton street to the manhole at Winter street is 155 feet and it is barely possible that the whole stretch will have to be reconstructed.

The cavern discovered this morning is about 25 feet long and eight feet wide. In order to get at the old sewer it will be necessary to dig down at least 15 feet. The sewer in falling twisted the sheathing so that it will have to be renewed. The sewer was given the chain test yesterday. A big chain was pushed through from one manhole to the other and a horse pulled it back and forth for a time, with the idea of cleaning out the sludge. This morning water was turned into the sewer from a big hose in Winter street and it was very slow in arriving at the manhole near Appleton street, showing that considerable sludge remained in the sewer.

The paving in Gorham street where the sewer went down was laid when Commissioner George H. Brown was at the head of the street department, and Mr. Morse stated this morning that the sewer should have been examined before the paving was laid. It was stated, however, that there wasn't any reason to believe at that time that there was anything the matter with the sewer and perhaps little was known of its bad record.

Sidewalk Assessments

At the office of the street department bills have been made out for sidewalk assessments covering all sidewalks built in 1913. The total is $5912.84 and will be sent out next week.

First Street Survey

Men from the engineer's office at city hall have been busy on the first street survey all week and will be busy for a good many weeks to come. Arthur Bartlett has charge of the surveying gang and the work performed this week included resolution lines and the taking of elevations.

The Assessors' Office

The assessors have sent out 600 legal exemption and veterans' notices together with 1500 blanks to be filled in by persons having personal property. The legal exemption notice provides that in the case of widows, unmarried women and orphans whose property does not exceed $1000 in value a reduction of $500 is made and in the case of a veteran whose property does not exceed $5000 in value an exemption of $1000 applies.

CHURCHES REMEMBERED

IN WILL OF JOHN ECCLES, FILED FOR PROBATE AT NORWICH, CT. TODAY

NORWICH, Conn., April 11.—When the will of John Eccles was filed for probate today it was seen that various public and religious bodies here are to receive $166,000 out of an estate estimated at $250,000. Six churches, two of them Roman Catholic, are remembered, the Backus hospital gets $15,000, Norwich free academy $10,000, a children's home $5,000, an old ladies' home $10,000 and a home for blind men and women $25,000. There is a bequest of $25,000 to the general clergy relief fund of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States.

Mr. Eccles was a cotton mill owner and for many years had given unstintingly to worthy charities and to movements of civic betterment.

Y.M.C.I. BANQUET

24th Anniversary to be Held April 23—Prominent Speakers

The 24th anniversary of the Young Men's Catholic Institute will be observed by a grand banquet this year. The affair will be held in connection with the closing of the bowling season at the club. The observance of this anniversary will be held on a large scale and the committee in charge of the arrangements are concentrating their efforts to make the event a banner one in the history of the institute.

The banquet will be at the rooms of the institute in Stackpole street on the evening of April 23, and the following distinguished guests have been invited to attend and address the gathering: Judge Thomas J. Riley, Boston; Lawyer David B. Shaw, Boston; Lawyer Thomas Dowd, Boston; Ex-Congressman Butler Ames, Congressman John Jacob Rogers, Mayor Murphy and others.

At the close of the feast the prizes and trophies of the bowling league will be awarded the winners, and the basketball team will be presented the championship pennant of Lowell. Thomas Dean will act as toastmaster.

The committees in charge of arrangements are as follows: Entertainment: Paul R. Clark, chairman; George Clark, Cole, Frank McCarthy and Martin Conley. Decorations: William King, chairman; Patrick Farrell and Thomas Clark.

The basketball team will journey to Lawrence this evening, where a match will take place between the Lowell aggregation and that of the Lawrence Military Athletic association. A special train will leave Merrimack square at 7:10 o'clock this evening and it is expected that many Lowell people will take in the game.

GREEK PARADE

veterans will take place followed by patriotic addresses.

The chief marshal of the parade, who is president of the community, Harry Houghs, has issued a printed order in relation to the celebration and copies of the said order have been distributed among the members of the community. The order when translated reads about as follows:

The Palm Sunday mass will be celebrated at 7 o'clock. At 9 o'clock the veterans of the Balkan-Turkish and the Greek-Bulgarian wars will assemble in the school hall in the lower part of the church and then they will march to the church above, where they will be decorated with silver medals by the president of the community, the medals being gifts of the community.

At 12:30 o'clock the different societies of the community will go to the church, which will be handsomely decorated for the occasion. At 1:30 o'clock a special church service will be held, the officiating clergyman to be Rev. Harrison Panagoulas, and this will be followed by an address by Dr. John C. Gatsopoulos, the orator of the day, who will speak on the topic of the day. The speaker will also touch upon the two recent wars and compare the veterans with their fathers and forefathers who fought for the country's freedom in 1881.

The Parade

At the conclusion of the service the parade will start in the following order: President of the community, Harry Houghs, and Dr. John C. Gatsopoulos, leading. The veterans will follow with their flags and banners and then will come the officers of the Pan-Hellenic union and its members. Next in line will be the school children and their teachers, the directors of the community, the different fraternal societies, the Holy Regiment in their regalia and the members of the community.

The Route

The parade will leave the church and proceed over the following route: Lowell, Market, Dutton, Fletcher, Lawrence, Middlesex, Merrimack, Cabot, Market, Lewis and back to the church. The Sixth regiment and the Spanish City bands have been hired for the occasion.

It is expected that a large number of Greeks from other cities in New Hampshire and Massachusetts will come to Lowell tomorrow, for this city is looked upon as the American metropolis of the Greeks and a celebration here is always attended by compatriots from other cities, and inasmuch as this will be the first real celebration of Independence day in Lowell, it is hoped that several hundred outsiders will take part in the festivities.

The committee in charge of the celebration is composed of the directors of the community, who are as follows:

lowe: Harry Houghs, president; George Alaphanagias, George Vozolas, Antonis Georgopoulos, Y. Givens, Elias Gellinas, Demosthenes Delavazos, George Zepou, K. Zervas, R. Elitapopoulos, T. Katsaras, H. Leontakos, C. Daros, C. Petropoulos, L. Pouris, E. Saphos, George Stallas, C. Tsopelas, K. Tsouprakakis, C. Chliponias, T. Harakas.

THE SUN IS ON SALE

IN THE NORTH STATION BOSTON

Both Branches Adjourned Out of Respect for Late Ex-Gov. Draper

Bond Sale Explained

Both branches of the state legislature adjourned yesterday as a mark of respect to the memory of Ex-Gov. Eben S. Draper. A special message from Gov. Walsh on his death was sent to the legislature.

A committee to represent the general court at the Draper funeral on Monday was appointed, comprising Pres. Coolidge of the senate, Senator William A. L. Bazelge, Speaker Cushing, and Representatives Carberry and Walter L. Collins. The governor's message follows:

"It is my duty to announce the death on Thursday, April 2, 1914, of former Governor Eben S. Draper. During five years of his life he gave of his best energies and ability to the people of the state in the public service. Both as lieutenant-governor and governor he served Massachusetts faithfully, and his entire life exemplified in a marked degree the true character and ideals of Massachusetts citizenship."

"By his independence of thought and speech, by his conscientious and unrelenting devotion to the interests of Massachusetts as he saw them, he endeared himself to all her citizens. His name is certain to find a permanent place among those of her sons who in life were conspicuous as foremost citizens."

"I recommend that your honorable bodies take such action as may seem to you befitting this solemn event, and that will show Massachusetts' respect to his honored memory."

Some sharp debating arose over an unsuccessful attempt to reconsider the vote killing the bill respecting the appointment of assistant probation officers and clerical assistants. The motion for reconsideration, made by Drury of Waltham, met with immediate opposition from Messrs. Tague, Donovan and Lomasney.

Mr. Drury urged that reconsideration was at least usual when the matter was decided by one vote, and on a voice vote reconsideration prevailed by 48 to 24. Question of a quorum was raised, and after a roundly postponed vote was refused, 55 to 68. There followed a divergence to a discussion of dilatory matters.

"I think the chair's recent admonition was timely and entirely warranted," said Webster of Roxford. "It costs the commonwealth $112 in salaries for every roll call we have. For six months we keep the business interests and the taxpayers of the state dangling over a kettle. I am willing to vote against any further dilations." Reconsideration was refused by a rising vote, 48 to 36.

The motion by McManus of Boston for reconsideration of the bill to regulate hack, cab and taxi stands in public places failed on a voice vote, and the bill relative to fishing in Lake Champlain was passed to be engrossed.

After some debate, substitution was refused, 52 to 65, by a rising vote, on a bill enlarging the powers of creditors against the estate of a deceased person. The bill requiring that unissued marriage certificates be returned within six months was passed to be engrossed.

The resolver providing for an amendment to the constitution empowering the general court to authorize the taking of land to relieve congestion of population and make homes for citizens, was passed without a dissenting vote.

The senate yesterday passed the Anti-Insurrection bill to be engrossed on the first call of the calendar without debate or revision. On the bill relative to the proceedings against the liquidation of delinquent insurance companies, Senator Wells declared that the proposed legislation is unnecessary. The matter was postponed till Wednesday.

The Bond Sale

In announcing the results of his "over-the-counter" sale of bonds yesterday, State Treasurer Frederick W. Mansfield refused to give the names of the purchasers of the bonds, as called for in a bill introduced in the committee of sales, but supplied the amounts of each loan sold, the number of purchasers and their character—whether individuals, trust companies, savings banks, bond houses or national banks.

The state received $108.60 more under Mr. Mansfield's method than formerly. The sale cost the state—not $74.35 more than it would have done if the syndicate, after had been accepted.

The treasurer, in summing up, says: "There have been malicious insinuations from various sources, indulged in mostly by certain false prophets, who declared with great confidence that the popular bond sale would never be a success; that I would have to beg the bond dealers to take the bonds off their hands; that only success in selling the bonds by coercing banks which had state deposits. These statements are lies."

"It is rumored that the last issue of state bonds is being sold on the 'street' at a lower price than I received for them. I do not know whether or not this story is true, but I can readily believe that some persons would be very glad to make this representation in order to discourage popular bond sales in future, and in order to bring this last issue of bonds into disrepute."

Marion Charter

Martin M. Lomasney's victory, by which on Thursday in the committee on metropolitan affairs, he secured a vote of 7 to 6 in favor of his amendment for the Boston city charter for a large city council, subdivided up yesterday, Senator Fox of Malden, who, as reported, perched on the fence when the roll of the committee was taken, jumped down and on the side of the present charter supporters. He did announce though that when the bill reached his own bill, which provides for a city council of 15, nine at large and six from districts.

Senator John P. Brennan of Cambridge refused to vote, and thus the committee standing was left seven to seven with one man not recorded.

If this continues, and then some who say it is more than likely, it is manifest no report can be made, and therefore the bill would die in committee.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

AT ST. PETER'S LARGELY ATTENDED—SERMON BY REV. FR. BURNS, AND TRIBUTE BY DR. KELLEHER

The Good Friday services at St. Peter's last evening were very largely attended. The office of the Tenenbergs was attended by Rev. Dr. Kelleher, Rev. Fr. Mullin and Rev. Fr. Heffernan, with the vested choir under the direction of Rev. John Burns.

The sermon on the Crucifixion, an eloquently touching discourse, was delivered by Rev. Fr. Burns; retracing the journey of the Saviour from Gethsemane to Calvary, the agony of those hours on the cross, the pain endured that all mankind might be saved from the ravages of sin, and that he who was in record with the highest and truest ideals of the best in Catholic life might be saved. In conclusion Rev. Fr. Burns invoked God's blessing on the congregation and asked that He shower down His grace and peace on them, and exhorted them to bring home the lessons of that first Good Friday, if they persevere, he said he was sure they would rise up on the last day and sit at the throne of God. There was a touch of sadness throughout the service, and after the service, Rev. Fr. Burns spoke briefly relative to his departure for other fields. As a closing word he asked for the prayers of the congregation that his work, in the holy priesthood, soon to begin again in another parish, might be blessed, fit any of his former efforts for the welfare of you all have aided you," he said, "help me by your prayers, as you will have mine."

Then wished the congregation God-speed.

Dr. Kelleher, just previous to making a few announcements, said that he knew the congregation joined with him in wishing God-speed to Rev. Fr. Burns, who was about to leave for other fields. He hoped that the years to come would be as pleasant and congenial to Fr. Burns as his years in St. Peter's.

After the service the adoration of the cross took place.

TAX EXPERT BACKS WALSH

BOSTON, April 11.—Gov. Walsh's message upon the redistribution of the corporate franchise taxes was heartily commended yesterday before the committee on taxation by Senator Charles A. Dean, one of the tax experts of the state.

The governor recommends that the taxes paid by the telephone and telegraph companies, railroads and trust companies, which now go to the places where the business is done, shall go to the state treasury, and that the taxes of lighting companies, which go the same way shall go to the places where the companies exist.

Both Branches Adjourned Out of Respect for Late Ex-Gov. Draper

Bond Sale Explained

Both branches of the state legislature adjourned yesterday as a mark of respect to the memory of Ex-Gov. Eben S. Draper. A special message from Gov. Walsh on his death was sent to the legislature.

A committee to represent the general court at the Draper funeral on Monday was appointed, comprising Pres. Coolidge of the senate, Senator William A. L. Bazelge, Speaker Cushing, and Representatives Carberry and Walter L. Collins. The governor's message follows:

"It is my duty to announce the death on Thursday, April 2, 1914, of former Governor Eben S. Draper. During five years of his life he gave of his best energies and ability to the people of the state in the public service. Both as lieutenant-governor and governor he served Massachusetts faithfully, and his entire life exemplified in a marked degree the true character and ideals of Massachusetts citizenship."

"By his independence of thought and speech, by his conscientious and unrelenting devotion to the interests of Massachusetts as he saw them, he endeared himself to all her citizens. His name is certain to find a permanent place among those of her sons who in life were conspicuous as foremost citizens."

"I recommend that your honorable bodies take such action as may seem to you befitting this solemn event, and that will show Massachusetts' respect to his honored memory."

Some sharp debating arose over an unsuccessful attempt to reconsider the vote killing the bill respecting the appointment of assistant probation officers and clerical assistants. The motion for reconsideration, made by Drury of Waltham, met with immediate opposition from Messrs. Tague, Donovan and Lomasney.

Mr. Drury urged that reconsideration was at least usual when the matter was decided by one vote, and on a voice vote reconsideration prevailed by 48 to 24. Question of a quorum was raised, and after a roundly postponed vote was refused, 55 to 68. There followed a divergence to a discussion of dilatory matters.

"I think the chair's recent admonition was timely and entirely warranted," said Webster of Roxford. "It costs the commonwealth $112 in salaries for every roll call we have. For six months we keep the business interests and the taxpayers of the state dangling over a kettle. I am willing to vote against any further dilations." Reconsideration was refused by a rising vote, 48 to 36.

The motion by McManus of Boston for reconsideration of the bill to regulate hack, cab and taxi stands in public places failed on a voice vote, and the bill relative to fishing in Lake Champlain was passed to be engrossed.

After some debate, substitution was refused, 52 to 65, by a rising vote, on a bill enlarging the powers of creditors against the estate of a deceased person. The bill requiring that unissued marriage certificates be returned within six months was passed to be engrossed.

The resolver providing for an amendment to the constitution empowering the general court to authorize the taking of land to relieve congestion of population and make homes for citizens, was passed without a dissenting vote.

The senate yesterday passed the Anti-Insurrection bill to be engrossed on the first call of the calendar without debate or revision. On the bill relative to the proceedings against the liquidation of delinquent insurance companies, Senator Wells declared that the proposed legislation is unnecessary. The matter was postponed till Wednesday.

The Bond Sale

In announcing the results of his "over-the-counter" sale of bonds yesterday, State Treasurer Frederick W. Mansfield refused to give the names of the purchasers of the bonds, as called for in a bill introduced in the committee of sales, but supplied the amounts of each loan sold, the number of purchasers and their character—whether individuals, trust companies, savings banks, bond houses or national banks.

The state received $108.60 more under Mr. Mansfield's method than formerly. The sale cost the state—not $74.35 more than it would have done if the syndicate, after had been accepted.

The treasurer, in summing up, says: "There have been malicious insinuations from various sources, indulged in mostly by certain false prophets, who declared with great confidence that the popular bond sale would never be a success; that I would have to beg the bond dealers to take the bonds off their hands; that only success in selling the bonds by coercing banks which had state deposits. These statements are lies."

"It is rumored that the last issue of state bonds is being sold on the 'street' at a lower price than I received for them. I do not know whether or not this story is true, but I can readily believe that some persons would be very glad to make this representation in order to discourage popular bond sales in future, and in order to bring this last issue of bonds into disrepute."

Marion Charter

Martin M. Lomasney's victory, by which on Thursday in the committee on metropolitan affairs, he secured a vote of 7 to 6 in favor of his amendment for the Boston city charter for a large city council, subdivided up yesterday, Senator Fox of Malden, who, as reported, perched on the fence when the roll of the committee was taken, jumped down and on the side of the present charter supporters. He did announce though that when the bill reached his own bill, which provides for a city council of 15, nine at large and six from districts.

Senator John P. Brennan of Cambridge refused to vote, and thus the committee standing was left seven to seven with one man not recorded.

If this continues, and then some who say it is more than likely, it is manifest no report can be made, and therefore the bill would die in committee.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

AT ST. PETER'S LARGELY ATTENDED—SERMON BY REV. FR. BURNS, AND TRIBUTE BY DR. KELLEHER

The Good Friday services at St. Peter's last evening were very largely attended. The office of the Tenenbergs was attended by Rev. Dr. Kelleher, Rev. Fr. Mullin and Rev. Fr. Heffernan, with the vested choir under the direction of Rev. John Burns.

The sermon on the Crucifixion, an eloquently touching discourse, was delivered by Rev. Fr. Burns; retracing the journey of the Saviour from Gethsemane to Calvary, the agony of those hours on the cross, the pain endured that all mankind might be saved from the ravages of sin, and that he who was in record with the highest and truest ideals of the best in Catholic life might be saved. In conclusion Rev. Fr. Burns invoked God's blessing on the congregation and asked that He shower down His grace and peace on them, and exhorted them to bring home the lessons of that first Good Friday, if they persevere, he said he was sure they would rise up on the last day and sit at the throne of God. There was a touch of sadness throughout the service, and after the service, Rev. Fr. Burns spoke briefly relative to his departure for other fields. As a closing word he asked for the prayers of the congregation that his work, in the holy priesthood, soon to begin again in another parish, might be blessed, fit any of his former efforts for the welfare of you all have aided you," he said, "help me by your prayers, as you will have mine."

Then wished the congregation God-speed.

Dr. Kelleher, just previous to making a few announcements, said that he knew the congregation joined with him in wishing God-speed to Rev. Fr. Burns, who was about to leave for other fields. He hoped that the years to come would be as pleasant and congenial to Fr. Burns as his years in St. Peter's.

After the service the adoration of the cross took place.

TRY US FOR MONEY!

It strikes people sort of queer—this money business. They look about getting clothing, furniture and jewelry on credit—saying a "little" a week. We're telling you 'tis possible for all who are employed to get money on credit, too. Don't you want and don't you need a money credit? It's a straight business transaction—honorable as any other kind of credit. Come in. If we charged more than a reasonable profit do you think we would have scores of customers who had had dozens of accounts? Try the proposition. Try it here.

We don't want a single dissatisfied customer. Your satisfaction is our aim. BIG GREEK PARADE
HERE TOMORROW

Independence Day to be Celebrated on Large Scale by Local Greek Community — Heroes of Two Wars to be Honored

All is now in readiness for the big celebration of Independence day by the members of the local Greek community tomorrow, and all that is necessary to the success of the event is favorable weather.

The event will be a notable one in the history of the Lowell Greeks, for it will have a double significance inasmuch as the veterans of the Balkan of the church, Rev. Hariton Panagopoulos, and the president of the community, Harry Houplis.

The celebration will begin with a church service at 7 o'clock, when the blessing of the palms will take place, for tomorrow is also Palm Sunday in the Greek church. This ceremony will last a couple of hours and after dinner the community will again assemble in the temple, where the decoration of the

SOCCER GAME

U. S. Buntings and the Waltham Rovers Play at South Lowell

The U. S. Bunting Soccer team and the Waltham Rovers, clashed on the Bunting grounds in South Lowell this afternoon in the first game of the cup series. There was a large crowd on hand, many of whom came from Lawrence and Waltham. Three of the Lawrence Olympic men appeared in the Buntings lineup and deny the first few minutes of play they showed to good advantage.

A strong wind was blowing across the diamond when the game was started at 3.10 o'clock.

MINES CLOSED

Soft Coal Mining in Central Pennsylvania at Standstill

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—Soft coal mining in Central Pennsylvania was virtually at a standstill today because of the decision of the operators here yesterday to close the mines pending the prolonged wage dispute with the workers.

At 21 places notices were posted stating that the mines would close tonight. At some of these the men had not been working since Thursday and few of the regular forces were on hand today.

The operators who decide to close are said to control 85 per cent. of the Central Pennsylvania soft coal tonnage.

The Misses Mary and Catherine Holmes of Varnum avenue left yesterday for a southern trip. They will be gone about two weeks and will visit New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Old Point Comfort and other places.

SAG IN GORHAM STREET CAUSED BY OLD SEWER

VIEW OF THE SEWER GANG WORKING ON GORHAM STREET JOB

The Matter Investigated This Morning — Whole Section of Sewer is Missing and Will Have to be Built — Commissioner Morse Finds Contract Work Responsible — Other City Hall News

The cause of the sagging of the paving in Gorham street, near Appleton street, was determined definitely this morning when men from the water department dug through the pavement and found that the sewer, laid there about 18 years ago, had gone down about two feet.

The water department made the examination because of the fact that it was thought the depression in the street was due to a leak in the water pipe, but those who held to that theory were quickly disillusioned when the hole was put through.

The hole was made at a point about midway of the building occupied by Wm. H. Brown, grocer, and it was discovered that the sewer had gone down and had been followed by the dirt. This created a vacuum of from six inches to two feet and extending over an area of from 25 to 30 feet.

Must Reconstruct Sewer

There was more or less excitement in the vicinity of Appleton and Gorham streets this forenoon when it became known that the sewer had dropped and that the paving was being kept in place chiefly by the cement between the blocks. It was generally conceded that there is but one way out of the predicament and that is to reconstruct the sewer and in this Commissioner Morse had visions of a big outlay of money not reckoned with in his estimates or appeals for loans.

It seemed as if every idle man in the city of Lowell had gathered at the scene of the Gorham street "sag" this morning and street car passengers must have thought that something terrible had happened. There was some argument, too, in which Supt. Morse of the street department, Mr. Farnham, superintendent of sewers, and Bay State railway officials figured. It seems that when the depression in Gorham street was discovered two days ago, the street railway company was instructed not to use outward track at that point, and it was stated this morning by Mr. Farnham that the track had been used yesterday. The track, however, will not be used today as it has been barricaded from one end of the depression to the other.

Poorly Constructed Sewer

The construction of the Gorham street sewer is said to be the worst of any sewer in Lowell and the story was told this morning that six years after the sewer was laid the cellars in Gorham street between Appleton and Winter streets—for the sewer extends from the mainline near Appleton street to the mainline at Winter street—were filled with surface water. The sewer

SAYS GUNMEN ARE INNOCENT OF MURDER

New Witnesses Testified at Hearing on Motion for New Trial — Statement From "Dago Frank" Sent to Governor Glynn

NEW YORK, April 11.—Counsel for the four gunmen doomed to die at Sing Sing Monday for the murder of Herman Rosenthal made a final plea for their clients before Supreme Court Justice Goff today. The justice, who had presided at the trial, agreed last night to this eleventh hour procedure on the representation of counsel that new evidence had been discovered tending to show that the prisoners were not the real murderers. District Attorney Whitman, rushing here from Chicago, appeared to oppose the motion for a new trial. The hearing was set for noon in the judge's chambers, but was transferred at the last moment to the supreme court proper. There was some delay in starting.

Seven New Affidavits

Mr. Wable, chief counsel for the prisoners, said that seven new affidavits had been obtained but the signers of only three of them would be called on to testify.

The proceedings were interrupted here when Judge Goff ordered a young man who delivered a note to him stopped before he could leave the room. The man was placed on the witness stand. He said he was Gustave Beck and that he had come to the court to deliver a note to E. B. M. Browne, a Jewish clergyman who has been working in the gunmen's behalf. The note had been handed to him in the hall of the courthouse, he explained. That was all he knew about it.

Mr. Browne, on the stand, disclaimed all knowledge of the note and its contents were not made public at the time. The clerkman read it but would say only "It is a secret."

Carl Dreger, a bartender and signer of an affidavit stating that he had seen the now notorious informers, "Jack" Ross, "Bridgie" Webber and "Harry" Vailon and others speeding away in an automobile from the scene of the Rosenthal murder was called to the stand.

RUNAWAY IN PAIGE ST.

Horse Attached to Light Wagon Attempted to Jump Fence in Kirk Street

A lively runaway occurred on Paige street this noon when a horse attached to a light delivery wagon galloped the full length of the street and after dashing across Kirk street, attempted to jump the iron fence in front of a residence at 52 Kirk street but was tripped up and almost plunged through a window of the house. The house sustained several gashes that required the services of a veterinarian, while the fence in front of the residence was damaged.

According to witnesses of the accident the horse was hitched to a post in front of the comfort station at the corner of Paige and Bridge streets, the owner, Mr. Fred Jeffery of Varnum avenue, being in one of the stores in the near vicinity. The continual noise of passing cars and vehicles frightened the animal and after shaking his head for several minutes succeeded in pulling off his bridle and started at a rapid gait toward Kirk st. There were no teams on the street at the time and the frightened horse went the faster in its run. When it reached the corner of Paige and Kirk streets its speed was too great for it to turn either way and it kept straight ahead, dashing across the sidewalk and attempting to jump the fence. It was tripped up, however, and thrown to the ground about three yards away from the house. Had the horse succeeded in jumping the iron fence it would undoubtedly have crashed into the bay window and caused considerable damage. Fortunately, there was no one on the street or sidewalk at the time or a serious accident would have occurred.

A street sweeper who was in the vicinity hurried to the horse and held it until taken care of by the owner. It appeared to be badly injured and was taken to the stable of Dr. Sparks on Worthen street for treatment and another horse was sent for to remove the wagon which was not damaged to any extent.

HALE DENIES CHARGES

CHAIRMAN OF PROGRESSIVE STATE COMMITTEE BEFORE THE FULL COMMITTEE TODAY

BOSTON, April 11.—Matthew Hale, chairman of the progressive state committee, appeared before the full committee today and denied five charges brought against him by the Holbrook town committee, which seeks his removal. The charges alleged that Mr. Hale had removed the veto-power of the advisory council appointed L. B. Martin, manager for Norfolk and Bristol counties, against the wishes of the party followers, refused to create a finance committee for the party and had used the prestige of the party in seeking to increase the circulation of the Boston Journal while under his management.

Mr. Hale denied each charge separately and claimed that he was not only justified in his actions but that they were approved by the party managers.

REMINDER OF GEN. BUTLER

Mr. N. J. Harbola of Salem depot is the proud possessor of a campaign greenback bill for $1000 issued by the anti-Butler people when he was a candidate for governor in 1882. It criticizes the greenback party and charges Butler with having changed to hard money and back again. It is a satire upon the greenback party, one side being engraved like an ordinary dollar bill with Butler's picture in one corner. One statement on the bill is that "the Chinese tried this kind of money and gave it up only because they did not have enough printing presses to supply the demand. At the bottom is this legend: 'One hundred bills of any desired denomination can be purchased for one silver dime, a circumstance which proves the great cheapness and desirability of this money.'

WARNS COTTON MILLS

Federal Horticultural Board Tells of Fear of a Dangerous Cotton Pest

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Fear that a pink boll worm, a dangerous cotton pest, may be introduced into the United States through the accidental presence of seed in lint cotton received by spinners caused the federal horticultural board today to warn cotton mills, especially those in the south to destroy by burning all seed that may be found in bales of imported Egyptian cotton. The seed, it is said, are likely to contain the larvae of the pest, which is very destructive to American cotton.

While the number of seeds accidentally left in a bale of cotton is probably small, says the board, "a very large quantity of baled Egyptian cotton is imported, so that in the aggregate the number of infested seeds might well prove a serious menace to the local crop. This is especially true in view of the fact that much of this baled cotton is shipped to southern cotton mills, which in some cases are in the immediate vicinity of cotton fields which would form a ready breeding place for any larvae that might escape."

TITANIC DISASTER

Opening of Cloister in Memory of Wireless Hero Next Wednesday

NEW YORK, April 11.—Word reached here today that the second anniversary of the loss of the Titanic next Wednesday has been fixed for the formal opening of the cloister built at Godalming, Eng., in memory of Jack Phillips, the heroic wireless operator, who went down with his ship. Phillips was a native of Godalming. The cloister stands near the parish church and cost $3500.

FOR TEACHERS

The Retirement Bill and Tenure Bill in Hands of Committees

The bill providing retirement system for public school teachers is before the committee on social welfare while its running mate, an act relative to the tenure and dismissal of teachers and superintendents of public schools, is before the committee on education. It is estimated by Edmund H. Cogswell of the state board of education that the number of teachers to retire July 1, providing the bills become operative, will be between 115 and 120 representing a total annuity of about $41,000.

The amounts paid in, however, by the teachers will take care of the annuities, the teachers paying a premium of five per cent of their salary. Any person who has been a public school teacher in this state for not less than fifty years, and who has been engaged in teaching in the public schools of a city or town for five consecutive years immediately preceding July 1, 1915, shall be entitled to become a member of the retirement association.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

It is a pity that Judge Enright cannot have all these apologies for men who are chronic non-supporters of their families, and both drunken and abusive before him for sentence. These who are brought before him usually get a good taste of the law's authority, but the number is comparatively few, as one recalls the large number of workless bums hanging about the street corners. Many wives are deterred from entering complaints against their husbands because of fear, and perhaps a doubtful kind of pride and so prefer to suffer in silence. If there could be a general roundup of these non-working, drunken and abusive gentlemen, it would keep the judges busy for a time. It is respectfully suggested, that all found to be irretrievably or incorrigible be given the choice of two penalties: a ticket to Mexico or a walk to the gas box. If common sense is the best of us, and neglected wives by neglected and lazy husbands. And let it not occur to you that there is many a wife in this town to whom nothing is denied by way of food and raiment; who may have social position and who may be both beautiful and intelligent, who has about everything within reason that money can buy, and who has the love of her husband and his care and attention. The husband's love and sympathy appears to be dead, or if not that, strangely sleeping. Selfishly thoughtless he goes his way. Six or seven nights of the week he is away at the clubs and the lodge. I have heard a wife say that she would rather be struck by her husband occasionally, than to suffer from the constant pangs which he inflicts by his neglecting her. Loves his wife? Of course, but he loves himself, and his own selfish pleasures more. The lazy husband may be cruel to his family because of drink; yet the industrious, sober husband too often manifests a cruelty which differs only in form.

Simon Swig and Others

Because Simon Swig—Phoebus, what a name!—characterized some of his fellow members of the board of trustees of consumptive hospitals as autocrats and hypocrites they wish to have Simon removed from the board, but it looks just now as though the governor should decide to fire the entire board.

It is suspected that Simon has been discriminated against because of his name, which jarred the sensitive culture of his brother members. Yet, looking over the names of these trustees, we observe the names Drinkwater, Gatchell and Dunn, which really are quite as suggestive, in a way, as plain Swig. It certainly would appear that the board couldn't stand for Simon Swig. Poor Simon! He may be one of the best men in the world; and possibly he may have reason for being proud of the name he bears—but what young woman would be entirely satisfied in changing her name to Swig?

Lady Star Violinist

I heard a young lady play the violin one evening last week who played with a virility that surprised me, for as a rule, lady violinists do not possess the physical strength to do their music to compositions requiring exhibition of the full powers of their instrument. Her work also was such that in nearly all of the pieces which she played she showed a virtuosity most remarkable and notwithstanding the fact that a renowned harpist and a most excellent singer took part in the concert, I thought the violinist, Miss Seydel, was easily the star of the evening. Her playing of the Faust Fantasia was especially fine and quite overlooked occasional harshness of tone while contemplating her marvelous technique. She responded with an exquisite piece that I thought possessed the true Mozartian flavor, so beautiful it was. Her playing, too, of an arrangement of a Chopin Nocturne was not the least of her evening's offerings. May she come again to Lowell.

Our Bird Companions of the Spring

About this time, when the weather conditions are at all favorable, the interested person in birdology goes forth in the early morning hours or at eventide to welcome the returning birds and perhaps get a greeting from them. Properly dressed and armed with only a note book and field glasses the equipped bird hunter begins his quest which will not cease until that bird whose visit to our region is briefest is at an end, and his note book records an improvement, he hopes, over last year's work. Yet the number to engage in such systematic study of our native birds is surprisingly small; and so it is that among us generally the most dense ignorance concerning the interesting and beautiful objects of animated nature, the birds of our fields and woods. How to awaken a wide interest in them is evidently as great a problem and as difficult of solving as it is to awaken intelligent interest in trees and wild flowers and other objects that Nature so lavishly affords. The dweller in the country and the suburbs may have advantages over the liver in the city proper. It is true, but the latter could often afford an hour before sunset and a Sunday walk in which to add to his stock of useful and inspiring knowledge. Every suburb offers opportunities for observation that would result in rich results. A little reading, a little coaching and a good glass are all you need. And speaking of limitations I think it was Torrey himself who on Boston common alone found over a hundred birds. So interested city dwellers should not become discouraged. It is simply surprising what you will find after you get started. These walks through woods and over fields with a given object in view will sharpen your powers of observation and inevitably open new fields for investigation and study which will prove both profitable and delightful.

Sure, License the Fisherman

Every true sportsman should be in favor of the bill in the legislature to license fishermen in this state. The bill as I understand it is $3, which also grants the right to hunt. The fund would be used in the maintenance of hatcheries in stocking ponds and streams and making the offices of fish and game wardens more efficient. In answer to those who oppose the bill by declaring it to mean "another graft" we would say, it is not so, but rather an effective blow at fish grafts, are notorious for violating fish laws and who either fish by the hook rather than by the line, who go out to skin every fishing place they visit and carry home fish measuring three or four inches in length, of every kind catchable. I have heard some well known fishermen of this town boast about their

"great catches" in ponds up along the Stony Brook region. I have even seen a basket filled with pout taken from a pond in Groton, the average length of which wasn't more than five inches. Some of these "fish-hogs" should know better than to do this, but the chief and more numerous offenders in this respect are the found workless bums hanging about the street corners. Many wives are deterred from entering complaints against their husbands because of fear, and perhaps a doubtful kind of pride and so prefer to suffer in silence. If there could be a general roundup of these non-working, drunken and abusive gentlemen, it would keep the judges busy for a time. It is respectfully suggested, that all found to be irretrievably or incorrigible be given the choice of two penalties: a ticket to Mexico or a walk to the gas box. ## Who Hit the Janitors?

The implied strictures and open slurs contained in an alleged editorial of our morning contemporary the other day as to the status of our school janitors is but one more instance of what animates the spirit of some men, who never did a hard day's work in their lives, towards less fortunately situated individuals. Coming particularly from a representative of a company but few years ago noted for having so many of its members or officials sucking from some fat public paps—and it is needless to specify—the editorial in question strikes one as a case of exalted jealousy and pure spite, as it is not, it would denote a high degree of glaring inconsistency.

People have good memories and it is human nature, they say, to recall unpleasant things rather than pleasant ones; hence it is that much present good is usually absorbed by the remembrance of past evil.

Now the janitors of the school-houses of this city do not require defense from me. As a matter of fact, they are quite able to take care of themselves. Yet in view of the cheap slanders of certain newspaper writers, the Man in the Moon, who knows most of them and something of their duties, will state that the janitors make up a fine body of men who are reliable and whose responsible duties are admirably performed. From any decent standard of living, their remuneration is not excessive. Yes, the job of janitor is a good job as jobs go, and why shouldn't it be? It takes a good man to be a good janitor of the public schools. If a janitor enjoys a few weeks' respite from regular duties in the summer, please remember the long months during which he is almost constantly on duty. For weeks at a time he begins his day's work at 5 o'clock or earlier in the morning, that your children may be comfortable. The rules that the janitor must observe are stringent and must be followed. He is on the civil service list and is amenable to its regulations. He protects city property and several of them are special police officers. He is honest and faithful, kind and obliging, intelligent and economical, and if I had within reach any more bouquets to toss at him I shoud. He certainly shouldn't have his pay cut down to make up the deficiency in the school fund. He should have his salary temporarily reduced—no so much, for it's pretty well understood that the municipal council is responsible for the school's lack of funds. If the school committee are being made goats of by the municipal council, the school committee will not go so far as to make goats of the janitors after all. It would better not!

THE MAN IN THE MOON.

Hale's Brook Should be Fenced in Congress Avenue

The residents in the vicinity of Congress avenue are up in arms and it is very probable they will petition the municipal council to force the proprietors of the land abutting to Hale's brook to erect a proper fence on the banks of the brook in Congress avenue, a thoroughfare which leads to Gorham street, and which is used by pedestrians, for it affords a very short cut to Gorham street. A small wooden bridge spans the brook at this spot and the place is a real death trap and many are astonished that drownings are not more frequent there.

This is the spot where little Marion Andrew of South Lawrence, who was visiting her grandparents, Mrs. Mrs. Thomas W. Hubbard of 30 Congress avenue, lost her life by drowning on April 1, and it is reported to be the worst death trap in the city, although Lowell is well supplied with dangerous places along the canals and the rivers.

The bridge across the brook at Congress avenue is located about 50 feet from Gorham street, and it is the narrowness of numerous children, who enjoy themselves playing in the water. There is no protection whatever around that bridge and it is really surprising that more drownings are not reported. The land extends on each side of the bridge for a distance of about three feet along the water's edge, and this is not fenced in and at night when it is very dark, one who is not very well acquainted with the premises could easily walk to a watery grave. The bridge, which is built of thick planks, is also fenceless, and it is very frequent that children are seen sitting on the edge of the planks.

On the left side of the bridge as one enters the avenue from Gorham street there is a fence and between the fence and the bridge is a space about three feet wide. That is where the little Andrew girl fell to her death. The water at that point is between six and 12 feet deep and just beyond the bridge are falls which drop about 25 feet. Since the last drowning accident the residents of the district fear for their children and many are seeking another location to reside. It is believed that although the avenue has not been accepted by the city, surrounding of the brook could be fenced in, or the thoroughfare closed by the city.

The following communication relative to the recent drowning of little Marion Andrew has been received at this office from Harry W. J. Howe, who is deeply interested in preventing

WATERY ERUPTION ON CHILD'S FACE

Would Dry and Form Scales. Disfigured While It Lasted. Looked Like Raw Steak. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

39 Court St., Exeter, N. H.—"My child's trouble began with an eruption on the left cheek and it rapidly spread until the entire cheek and well down the neck was covered with the watery eruption. It would dry and form scales and when the child rubbed it a watery substance would ooze out. My child was very restless at night and cried almost continually when her hands were tied to prevent her from scratching. It disfigured her while it lasted, as the entire side of her face was so broken out that it looked like a piece of raw beef steak."

"I bought several things but none seemed to help. As I had read in the paper about Cuticura Soap and Ointment I went for a sample, used them and they seemed to help. I immediately bought some Cuticura Soap and a large box of Cuticura Ointment and in less than two weeks the child's face was completely healed. (Signed) Mrs. Jas. M. Davis, Nov. 14, 1913."

In selecting a soap and a skin soap why not procure one possessing delicate qualities? Most properties sufficient to allow delicate irritations, remove blemishes and roughness, prevent pore-clogging, soften and soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and scalp health generally? Such a soap, combined with the purest of emollients—fragrant and most fragrant and refreshing of flower odors, is Cuticura Soap. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. skin book. Address postcard, "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Let men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap find it best for skin and scalp.

drownings, and who has already written a letter to the mayor about the many death traps in Lowell and the best method to prevent accidental deaths:

Mr. Editor: Several days ago another life was blotted out, sacrificed, and a South Lawrence home brought to grief. The four-year-old Marion Andrew, visiting relatives in Congress avenue, fell off the narrow bridge that spans Hale's brook, and another life is added to the long list of drowning casualties in the death-traps of Lowell's waterways. This human tragedy which has been going on for years, is permitted because of stupidity, and not because of indifference and neglect of duty, and the man or woman of Lowell who will not raise his or her voice in consequence of these tragedies is without public or personal conscience. The canals and other waterways of Lowell flowing through the most congested districts are not properly protected, owned and operated by powerful influential moneyed interests, who regard dollars of greater value than the lives of children. How much longer is this disregard of human life to continue? How much longer are we to have this utter indifference on the part of men in authority? It is time that an organized public sentiment should move officials of city hall to some action in closing up these death-traps throughout the city. Are the waterways to be protected or shall we continually sit quiet and continue to read from time to time of a few hundred more little children "going to a watery grave."

Very truly,
Harry W. J. Howe

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KREAMER, 1674 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LADY LOOKABOUT

Just when we have learned to love the little narrow clinging skirt, we are compelled to give it up for the floppy unbecoming garment with a continually growing fullness above the knees. The bound-ankle effect is still retained, and really, don't you like it? When have women looked so feminine, so nearly helpless, as they have since these hobble effects have come about it. It delights my heart to see the woman of a few years ago, whose very stride and manner of progress invariably cleared the way before her, now ambling along with tiny, impeded steps, a looking so helpless that she is positively child-like, and paradoxical as it may seem, the way opens before her fully as effectively as it did for her fully as effectively as it did years ago.

And the new hats with their stiff little wings sticking straight out, other, just as two chickens with lowered heads charge on each other, are so youthful after the heavy hats of winter. Never have I seen so many flower hats so early in the season. Those of our friends who fear we may become masculine with the advent of equal suffrage, need never fear while flower-hats are among millinery conceptions. No woman, no matter how advanced she may be, can ever go so far forget her Eve-given prettiness, when brought face to face with a flower-hat. Something primal within her thrills at the sight of it, and she longs to seize it and holding to her heart the beautiful blossoms, so suggestive of wide eyes, smiling little lips, and babies, she longs to wear it, and she does. The many phases of the exquisite tortures a woman passes through every time she chooses a new hat, and when men come to know these things they will have much closer sympathy with us. I wonder if this may not be one reason why men are millionaires as a rule are so successful?

Catch Them Resigning

A lesson may well be taken by many in Lowell from Warden Clancy of a New York prison, who finding himself not qualified for the duties of his position as warden, resigned from it in the interests of the prison. He had had no previous experience which would have trained him in the duties of a successful warden, and finding himself incompetent, withdrew from prison service. It sounds like the millennium, but one swallow does not make a summer. The picture of the warden of our public servants resigned their positions because of their own incompetence! Many of our best positions would go to a beggar, and then what would we do? Can you imagine one or two of our public servants resigning their positions because of their own incompetence? Refusing to do so, they are humbly admitting their incompetence and urging the electorate to look a little further until the right man could be found? It is beyond my powers of imagination.

New Line of Business

In the city of Minneapolis, a new line of business has been opened. It is the placing of window boxes on the downtown windows of stores and offices. These boxes are placed, filled, and cared for by the firm of florists who solicited the work, for a small sum annually. The effect of blooming plants adds much to the beauty of any window, and when it is the window of a drug law office, the effect is almost magical. I wish somebody would start this movement in Lowell. Just imagine the magnificent Sun building with a lovely box of blooming plants in each window! It would rival the hanging gardens of Babylon—and who knows what might soften the hearts of many who in their daily tasks have grown away from nature and the beauties she is continually unfolding to eyes, which, alas, refuse to see.

Against Fake Advertising

After much agitation in regard to fake advertising, the act of 1912 forbidding the dissemination of untrue and misleading advertising, is about to be enforced in this commonwealth. Any person or firm who advertises in this way shall be liable to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $500. For a long time there has been a crying need of this act, and although it is very comprehensive, it could go a step further and make the publisher in whose columns such advertising appears liable to the same fine. Many of the best newspapers and magazines vouch for the genuineness of the assertions made in the advertisements, and all of them do not, and while it often appears that the publisher is virtually a partner in the deception, it is probably because he feels that if the advertiser complies with the terms of his periodical, the publisher's responsibility is ended. This is not so. It should be. Every publisher should satisfy himself that every assertion and claim made by an advertiser is made in good faith and is backed by integrity. I will expect to see a few advertisements disappear from view within a short time, as they are in direct violation of the spirit of the act.

The Importunate Nonsense

When such an essential part of our urban economy as the vending newsboy becomes a public nuisance, something should be done at least to suppress him. The public should be protected from the heckling and importuning. This does not apply to all newsboys, of course, for many among them are perfect little gentlemen in the vicinity of Merrimack square, within a week I saw a young man in company with a lady approach a newsboy. Evidently the man did not choose to buy a paper; then the urchin began his show: "Ah, buy a paper, buy a paper. See the lady you're gazing at. Encouraged by the smiles on the faces of those in the immediate neighborhood, he kept up this bantering until the man beckoned a policeman, when 'newsie' took to his heels. This is not the first time incidents of this kind have taken place, and always they are not on the street. I have been told of just such another which occurred at the entrance of a downtown restaurant. The man in the case, not choosing to buy, was made the object of such abuse, that he called the attention of the proprietor of the restaurant to it. He was informed that the boys had been ordered away from the entrance time and again, even by the police, but to no avail. They seem to think a man with a lady is a sure customer, and when he falls they undertake to show him up as a skinflint. Somebody should instruct these

LADY LOOKABOUT

Sarcasm in Woman
Of all the mean things a person can indulge in, I think sarcasm the meanest, and when one woman is sarcastic to another, it is the very quintessence of meanness. I was present at a small gathering a short time ago, which fell on an evening when the clouds hung low and showers threatened. One young woman present was decidedly overdressed for the occasion. Presently a young girl entered, gowned in a simple, sweet little dress, which added much to her youthful appearance. She had used care in dressing, and her dress showed it, from her fresh new necktie to her patent leather pumps. She had the misfortune to take a seat beside the over-dressed party, whose chiffon gown was sadly in need of pressing. This is what we overheard her say to her little neighbor: "So sensible of you to wear an old thing you didn't care about; I wish I had," and yet we all know and she knew, too, that the little neighbor had worn her very best.

Why Gorham Street Sagged

I am not a bit surprised that Gorham street has sagged so low. The Appleton street sewer trench. The wonder is that it did not sag earlier in the week, there are so many spectators of the work going on there. No street could stand for long, the combined weights of the hundreds who gather daily in the vicinity. I suppose the sagging of the street is due to the fact that the street is so long, and the weight of the hundreds who gather daily in the vicinity. I suppose the sagging of the street is due to the fact that the street is so long, and the weight of the hundreds who gather daily in the vicinity. I suppose the sagging of the street is due to the fact that the street is so long, and the weight of the hundreds who gather daily in the vicinity.

Preserving Eggs

This is the season, of all the year, when eggs are so plentiful and the price so low that many far-sighted housewives plan to preserve some for use when the prices are beyond the purse of the ordinary mortal. This is done by means of a preparation known as "water glass," which may be purchased at 40 cents a gallon, or may be prepared at home by dissolving a few cents' worth of the salt known as sodium silicate in water. The preparation is a thick, syrupy solution. The eggs are placed in a crock or other receptacle, and covered with the liquid. As more eggs are added, more of the liquid is used, that they may always be well covered. The preserving effect of water glass is due to its action on the shell, in combination with which it forms a sort of cement by which the shell is rendered absolutely air-tight, thus preventing the entrance of bacteria which cause the eggs to decay. It is impossible to distinguish these eggs from newly laid ones. They may be dropped, fried, scrambled, or prepared in any way for the table, and it is impossible for persons who were sure they could tell which of two eggs served to them was the preserved and which the newly laid, and who failed to distinguish between them. On account of the shell being made airtight, it has been found necessary, in the case of the boiled egg, to prick a tiny hole in each shell; otherwise the egg may burst when it is heated on the table. This little hole admits of the entrance of a small amount of water, which makes the boiled preserved egg a little less popular than when prepared in some other manner.

SUFFRAGISTS ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 11.—The men of the Wall street district are to be besieged for a full month by the women suffragists beginning next Thursday at noon, when a meeting will be held at 58 Nassau street. The women's political union will open headquarters there and have a large committee on duty for a month with daily noon meetings.

Easter Will Bring to You a Noteworthy Number of

The NEW Boston Sunday Herald

You will want to preserve your copy of the Rotogravure Pictorial Section, as an example of the greatest advance in picture-printing in the experience of a generation.

No other Boston newspaper can duplicate this wonderfully attractive feature, for The NEW Sunday Herald owns exclusive rights in this field to the marvelous Rotogravure process.

In its new dress, trimmer and fresher and more attractive than ever, The NEW Sunday Herald will appear on Easter morning, retaining all the good things of a splendid past and adding many new and good features of extraordinary interest.

Before or after the Easter parade every woman will want to compare what she and other women are wearing with the authentic fashions as they are described and pictured by Anne Rittenhouse in the Society and Fashions Section.

There will be a place for a few minutes of good fiction and with The NEW Sunday Herald will come, to supply this need, the sparkling stories in the Illustrated and Fiction Section—20 pages with never a dull line.

Particularly attractive next Sunday will be the Colored Feature Section, in which the cleverest special writers and artists entertain and inform Herald readers with out-of-the-ordinary "feature" stories.

For the children, and for elders in whom the love of fun persists, there is a section of pictures that will provide many a merry laugh.

The News Section and the Sporting Section—it goes without saying—will be the best published in Boston, for The Herald's unrivaled facilities for gathering news and its efficient editorial organization place it easily in the van of the country's best newspapers.

A clean, vigorous, comprehensive Sunday newspaper, The NEW Sunday Herald provides all the good features any newspaper supplies—and much more. The Easter number will show conclusively why The NEW Sunday Herald is known as "the biggest 5 cents' worth of Sunday newspaper ever issued in New England."

DEFENDS BOND SALE

MANSFIELD, DENIES COERCION OF BANK DOING "OVER THE COUNTER" TRANSACTIONS

BOSTON, April 11.—State Treasurer Frederick W. Mansfield in his reply to the order passed by the house on motion of Representative Hall of Great Barrington, calling for information concerning the $500,000 "over the counter" bond sale, declines to give the names of the bond purchasers, terms as "lies" charges that he coerced banks which hold state deposits into buying bonds, by the threat of losing their deposits, and calls on any purchaser for proof of such statements.

He charges that "coercion" has been all the other way, and instances a savings bank which took $25,000 worth of the bonds, which was called up by its Boston correspondent in an attempt to prevent the purchase.

Mr. Mansfield maintains that the sale justified his expectations. Banks and bond houses bought $2,325,100. One person took bonds to the amount of $750,000. Fifteen persons made purchases of $100,000 and 25 subscribed for $2,414,100.

Critics are informed that the expense of the sale was $523.95 more than last year. The total this year was $955.60, as compared with $431.65 in 1912. Inasmuch as the receipts were $405 more, estimates, than would have been secured from a syndicate, the sale cost the state net only $74.35 more than if conducted under the old methods.

"Personally," he continued, "I consider it idle and peevish to devote so much time to these small figures, but inasmuch as my small-souled critics have harped upon the money loss sure to result to the community by the popular bond sale, I here present them that they may obtain what comfort they can from them. It might be interesting to know that not one dollar was spent for additional clerical assistance. The big thing that I sought to accomplish was to increase the interest of the people in their own state, to advance civic pride and patriotism, and to bring the government closer to the people."

BILLERICA

The work of laying the water mains on High street, North Billerica, in progress rapidly and when completed the new Boston & Maine repair shops will have the use of the town water. The pipe is now laid to the corner of High and Rogers streets and the excavating work has progressed to a point leading near the roadway which leads directly to the shops. The pipe has already been laid on the site of the B. & M. plant and as soon as the town finishes laying the mains a connection will be made.

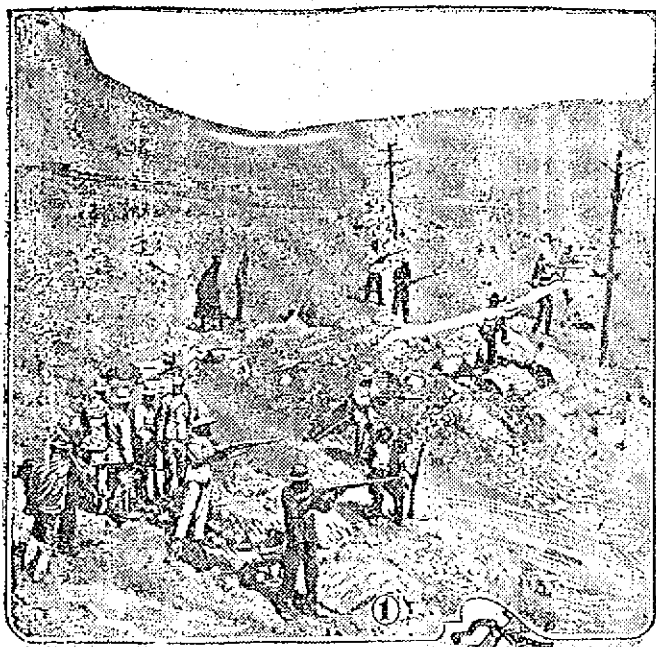

The Billerica water board has organized for the coming year with Edgar F. Twombly, the highway surveyor, as chairman. C. Greenwood will serve as clerk.

Easter Sunday will be appropriately observed in all the Billerica churches tomorrow with services both morning and evening. Masses will be celebrated at the usual hours at St. Andrew's church, 8 and 10 a. m. with Rev. David J. Murphy officiating. In the Protestant churches services will be held at 10.15 o'clock in the morning and the usual evening service will also be held. Special musical programs will be furnished.

RUSSELL WILL CASE UP

On Motion for Interpretation of Will—The Court Asked to Ratify Provisions of Will

BOSTON, April 11.—The famous Russell will case was again brought to the attention of the courts yesterday when the counsel for the estate of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose, asked for an interpretation of the clause implying that Daniel Blake Russell, who was missing at the time of the drawing of the instrument, should share equally with William C. Russell, the elder son, in the event of the former's return within 70 years of his father's death. Since the death of Daniel Russell, two claimants have appeared, one from Dickinson, N. D., and the other from Fresno, Cal. After extended litigation the Dakota claimant was twice declared an imposter. The Californian has been accepted by the family.

Counsel for the estate also asked the court to ratify the provisions of the will whereby William C. Russell became a legatee.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—It will be a rainy Easter all over the east, unless some freak of nature sets the best predictions of the weather bureau experts awry there will be rains and snows in the northern portion of the east and rains over the southern districts. It is a stock prediction among lay weather prognosticators that if it rains on Easter Sunday it will rain on six consecutive Sundays thereafter.

The weather sharps say, however, there is nothing certain about the weather.

The winter farebreak of the last few days was being dissipated all over the country today. A parting shot of freezing temperature was being felt over the northwestern areas.

The weather which threatens to retire Easter Sunday to the bandboxes and spoil the promenades on the fashionable avenues of many cities is a joint effort from Texas and Canada.

FOR IRRIGATION

Proposal of Department of Interior for Financing Carey Projects

DENVER, April 11.—Assistant Secretary A. A. Jones of the interior department last night tendered to the irrigation conference the proposal of the department of the interior for financing of Carey projects. It provides for government loans to settle in low interest bonds, secured by liens on the irrigated land and with the interest guaranteed by the reclamation fund now amounting to $100,000. Mr. Jones told the delegates that a proposal for patenting the land inside Carey act projects to the state was hopeless and that to secure a direct appropriation from congress was equally hopeless. Then he made his own suggestion.

"Instead of having the general government construct the irrigation projects and turn them over to the settlers without interest, I suggest that we provide a fund, construct the project, put the farmer on the land, test the water supply and see that the farmer is actually deriving something from the soil. Then we could call in the local organization.

"We should provide for the certain collection of the income on the original investment by a lien on the land. Then we should sell long time bonds, bearing interest at three or four percent. The farmer would pay nothing but the interest for the first ten years and the installments on the principal for 20 years thereafter; congress might then provide that if there was a default in interest it should be provided out of the reclamation fund."

After some discussion on Mr. Jones' suggestion a report previously presented by the Carey act committee was referred back to the commission for further consideration.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Charles Van Allen, a note broker of this city was sued yesterday by Rensselaer L. Curtis, receiver of the Atlantic National bank of Providence, R. I., to recover $23,233 alleged to be due on the defendant's notes.

Allen surrendered himself to United States Commissioner Shields last October soon after the arrest of Edward P. Metcalf, former president of the bank. The indictment charged the sale of six promissory notes to Metcalf to cover the amount Metcalf is alleged to have taken from the bank to aid the Columbia Securities Co., a bankrupt New Jersey corporation in its purchases of the controlling stock of the Traders National bank of Lowell, Mass.

FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

Observed on Elaborate Scale by All Local Hebrews—Both Synagogues Crowded

With prayers and all of the important ceremonies of the ancient ritual, the Jewish festival of Passover, which marks the exodus of the Israelites from old Egypt, where they were slaves of Pharaoh some 3000 or more years ago, was ushered in at sundown yesterday by practically all the Jewish people of Lowell and the three local synagogues were filled to their capacity.

According to the estimation of the Jewish people, the Passover is the oldest holiday on the Hebrew calendar. It is one of the most important as well as one of the most joyous of holidays. The observance will last eight days or spent in praying last evening and similar services were held this morning from 8 o'clock until 11, with Rabbi Wolfson officiating.

This year the Hebrews have an especial welcome opportunity to attend the services at the synagogues on the first two days of the festival, today and tomorrow, as they will not be obliged to absent themselves from their daily occupations. At the synagogues special preparations were made to accommodate the large number which will attend the services throughout the holidays and Lowell Hebrews are assured of a gala celebration of the event of Passover.

While the entire week is festive in its nature the large public gatherings for Passover worship take place in the synagogues only the first two and the last two days are set aside for holy convocation and during this time the Jewish people do no kind of work or attend business of any kind while the four days are strictly observed as fast days.

The houses of the Hebrews have also been thoroughly cleansed and the housekeeper has cleaned every nook and corner. All food which is not used during the Passover festival has disappeared and every precaution has been taken to put the houses into readiness for the celebration.

CALUMNET, Mich., April 11.—Copper country locals of the Western Federation of Miners decided yesterday to take a referendum vote next Sunday on the question of calling off the strike which has been waged here since July 23, 1913.

The action resulted from reports of the district officials which were submitted to five meetings in various parts of the strike zone. It was said that the district officers informed the men that no more concessions could be expected from the copper mining companies.

It was also stated that the union rank and file were told that the companies have established a substantial eight-hour day and have arranged to hear grievances once each week. Recognition of the union, they said, had been steadfastly refused.

"Tor, a Street Boy of Jerusalem" will be the subject at the Y. W. C. A. vespers Sunday afternoon at 7 o'clock. A musical program will be furnished by a quartet consisting of Miss Eva Henderson, soprano; Miss Gladys Melton, alto; Charles Whidden, tenor, and Donald Hanson, tenor. Mrs. Chas. Sweetzer will be the accompanist.

until next Saturday morning and then the Hebrew Sabbath will be observed. About 5 o'clock last evening the Hebrews began to leave their homes and assemble in the synagogues on Howard and McIntire streets. There are two on the former street, both fairly large edifices, and one equally as spacious on McIntire street.

The services opened shortly after 5 o'clock and continued for over three hours. It is regarded as a positive duty on the first night to relate the miracles incident to Israel's deliverance from Egypt; hence several pages of the Book of Exodus were read. Each Israelite is obliged to drink several cups of wine on the first night, this part of the ceremony being known as the "Seder." Red wine is excluded owing to the blood accusation for which the Hebrews have at times been made to suffer. While eating the unleavened bread and drinking this wine, all male participants are obliged to recline on the left side against the cushions of the pews. Considerable time was also pressed into service as a funeral car today to carry the body of Charles Frederick Seyferlich, chief of the Chicago fire department since 1910, to the cemetery.

Another hose cart followed in the funeral procession bearing many floral tributes from the "boys" in the department and from city officials and friends.

FOR A CLEANER LOWELL

Taking advantage of the spring spirit that actuates all people in a desire for general cleanliness the board of trade has taken up the suggestion of a clean-up day with energy and thoroughness, and in the near future it is probable that we shall see a clean-up campaign that will outlast that of last year, and do a great deal towards the furthering of a permanent spirit for all that relates to civic cleanliness. It is vain to talk of the city beautiful while the streets are muddy and the alleys, courts, business streets and private lawns are littered with the refuse of winter and no campaign for more beauty would be adequate or effective unless it made cleanliness its first requisite.

No better way to inaugurate such a movement and to carry it to a successful conclusion could be taken than that commenced a day or two ago by a conference in the board of trade rooms between the mayor, the city engineer, the heads of the fire and police departments, the head of the park department, the board of trade committee, and many others interested in all that relates to general cleanliness and sanitation. A clean-up campaign is a serious phase of municipal activity and the best results can be obtained only by the different departments working in harmony for a common end. When once it is generally understood that the city is going about such work in earnest a feeling of enthusiasm will be kindled that will not subside until Lowell gets rid of her grimy aspect and looks down at her own fair and spotless reflection in the Merrimack.

Though the clean-up spirit should stir up our public to action without the necessity arising for police activity, the campaign will be made fully effective if the police be given the power to enforce the demands of the general committee. Even should 90 per cent. of those who live on a street be actuated by the proper spirit, the other ten would prevent the effectiveness that is possible unless there is some mandatory power behind the agitation. No body is better able to reach all parts of the city than the members of the police department and if full publicity is given to the campaign it shall only be necessary for the police officer on the beat to call the attention of owners or tenants to some abuse, to get the best results. Ignorance cannot be accepted as an excuse in a matter of this nature. It is gratifying to observe that one phase of clean-up activity long suggested by The Sun is now being generally actuated, viz: that suitable receptacles be provided for rubbish and litter in the business part of the city and that the police insist on their use by the public which now throws waste matter on the streets without a thought of general cleanliness or neatness.

No better time could be selected by the fire department to make a thorough canvass of the congested districts with an eye to the removal of fire hazards than during the clean-up campaign, for there is a direct connection between general neatness and fire prevention. The captain of each fire house should see to it that his respective territory is covered thoroughly, and here, too, a hint or even the expected visit is all that is necessary to wake people from their lethargy. If the period be extended over a few weeks there is no reason why residential and business Lowell should not be covered and inspected thoroughly, thus removing the fire risk appreciably.

If the city, backed up by civic organizations, do its share, there is no reason to suppose that the citizens generally will not co-operate in giving Lowell a spring cleaning that will set a new standard. Cellars, attics, corridors, closets and all nooks and corners, sidewalks, lanes and alleys, will be cleared of rubbish that should go to the city dump; lawns, walks and yards will be tidied and put in order; gardens will be spruced up and made presentable; windows will be washed and walls will be painted. Now is the time while the fever is in the air. Get together heads of departments and all who are interested, and the people of Lowell will respond readily. Let us all get busy so that a few months from now Lowell may look far more clean and consequently far more beautiful and healthful.

EASTER TIME

Even though we had never heard the beautiful story of the resurrection of Christ, is there not something in the air of Easter time that breathes of triumph and of hope? For months the earth has been held in icy bands. The rivers have been killed by restraining barriers and the winds have been cold and keen. The trees, bereft of their summer shade, have stood like memories of departed joys and all the glories of the morning sunrise or of the evening sunset failed to breathe into human nature a message of life. Being of the earth and having the primitive call in our inmost hearts, we, too, have begun to feel that in our daily tasks we have been working on the wrong side of the tapestry, and we have longed to see the other side, a little fearful, perhaps, lest the pattern should have been spoiled.

Now comes Easter with the robins and the spring birds and with a greater promise in the stirring pussy willow twigs than in the glory of summer can repay. The birds, released from their icy barriers, sparkle and sing anew; the sunshine steals faint colors from the pine boughs; no wine of the Rialto was more intoxicating than the cool breeze. Life is again worth living and even in the darkest cloud we may see the glint of a silver lining if we lift up our eyes with hope and trust.

In its natural application and in its emotional aspect Easter has a joyous appeal, but its full significance is in its religious sense. The trappings of mourning have been put aside; sorrow and lamentation are ended; the organs and the bells have found a renewed voice and the wood of the cross has blossomed out into roses and lilies. With incense and flowers and music and songs of joy the church celebrates the triumph over death and sin; and from many a heart angels of God roll away the stone of doubt and of spiritual blindness. Like the light that shone around the Roman soldiers shines the light of hope and with the adoring women of the Bible, we fall on our knees and adore. What are suffering and pain and sorrow if after the dark way of the passion shall shine for us all the glory of an Easter morning? Well may we lift up our hearts and join with the church in its glorious Hallelujahs of Jubilation.

THE GUNMEN

No stone is being left unturned in an effort to save from the electric chair the four gunmen of New York sentenced to die for the murder of Rosenthal the gambler. In one of the cases, at least, affidavits and alleged new evidence have been introduced at the eleventh hour and though one may wonder why those who would now shield him did not come forward earlier, it may be that a delay is desirable in order to clear away any shadow of doubt concerning the guilt of all four before the day of execution arrives. Apart from the legal side it seems almost unnecessarily cruel that four should die for the death of one, especially when there is almost a certainty that they were merely the tools of a more guilty schemer. Had Becker not been favored by a decision of the higher courts there would have been but little sympathy for the gunmen, but when it is known that he is in a fair way of being freed, their lot seems harder than that of the usual murderer. As they wait in their youth for the summons of the executioner, they are a terrible warning to all who are in danger of taking the first steps that may lead to the ways of gamblers and gunmen.

SUICIDE HYSTERIA

Some newspapers are poking fun at the head of the University of Pennsylvania who recently sent for Billy Sunday to hold revival meetings among the students in order to check what the college head called a "suicide epidemic." Three of the students had taken their lives a short time previously, apparently on slight pretexts, and the shocking events made the noted educator turn to things spiritual for a remedy. Though this may be taken in a humorous sense by the flippant or the irreverent, even in the University of Pennsylvania—for the average college student may be expected to find something funny even in suicide—it gives rise to serious thought. Possibly the sending for the famous evangelist was not the wisest course for the college head to pursue but it was an indication in his belief that suicides largely spring from neglect of religion and all that it implies. If the home influences of the self-killers were understood one could find the basis for their death probably in the materialism, divorce, evils and lack of restraint of much modern society life.

LESSON IN PATRIOTISM

The decorating of 250 or more votive candles is the custom of the Lowell High School. The candles are decorated with the names of the students and the names of the cities and states to which they are going. The candles are then placed in a large hall and the students are asked to decorate them with the names of the cities and states to which they are going. of the Balkan wars which is to take place in our Greek colony on Sunday in connection with the celebration in honor of the freedom of Greece is a lesson in patriotism which no body of men in the community should ignore. Without bravado or appeals to sentimentality and merely in a sense of duty hundreds of the local colony returned home at the call of their kind and many who so went back left their bones on the battlefields of the Balkan peninsula. Should there be a war with Mexico tomorrow, could America depend on the loyalty of those of her expatriates who live under other flags? The Greeks who fought so valiantly for their own land would fight as readily for their adopted land did the occasion demand it, and those of them who have come here to add to our desirable foreign population are richly deserving of the honors showered on them. The Sun adds its congratulations to those of their own people and of all the patriotic people of Lowell.

LATE GOVERNOR DRAPER

In honoring the late Eben S. Draper, Massachusetts honors a sturdy politician of the old school who was as much the man of business as the man of politics and acted accordingly in all his official actions. A staunch republican of the days before a new spirit of unrest crept into all parties, he was out of touch with modern political ideals but he stood for the principles of a former age without forfeiting the respect of those who favor the new. He deserves to rank high in the estimation of the republican party of Massachusetts, and he never forfeited the respect of any party. In private life he was sincere, kindly and broad in his views and his conservative policies made of him a governor to which history ought to be kind.

COMMON SENSE ABOUT COLDS

The Only Time to Be Frightened Over a Cold Is When You Neglect It

NO. 2

Thousands of people die every year from the effects of neglected colds. A cold, you know, is a germ disease. We live in over-heated homes and offices and factories. We travel in badly ventilated street cars.

We dress too warmly. And as a result our skin and the membranes of our throat and nose become over sensitive.

We are not able to resist the attacks of the deadly little microbes.

The first unusual exposure to cold or dampness opens the door and the invading army comes in.

We begin to sneeze and cough and shiver.

Then is the time when quick action is necessary.

Delay means deadly danger. La Grippe with its long train of serious after-effects, pneumonia, rheumatism, all follow in the train of the neglected cold.

When you feel those first shivery indications of a cold—act—and act quickly.

Ask your druggist for a box of Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine Tablets.

A few doses will knock out the cold in twenty-four hours.

La Grippe will be cured in three days—we guarantee this.

Your money will be refunded if it fails.

Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine Tablets have been used by cold sufferers all over the United States for fifteen years.

They are positively harmless, have no unpleasant effects and always do their work.

You will find them in practically any drug store in the United States, and the druggist will tell you that they have come to be a thoroughly standard remedy.

So sure you get the genuine—the box with the red top and Mr. Hill's picture on it. You can't afford to experiment with substitutes. Hill's is standard.

It is manufactured by W. J. Hill Company of Detroit and is sold by druggists everywhere. Price 25 cents.

THE SPELLBINDER

Now that the Massachusetts legislature has voted by a substantial majority to submit the question of a woman suffrage amendment to the constitution to the voters, the advocates of the change are jubilant, feeling that victory may crown their efforts at the polls. But they had better not be too certain. The cause of woman suffrage everywhere has been greatly weakened by the outrageous tactics adopted by the militant suffragettes of England.

Who can read of the outrages perpetrated by the militants in London and elsewhere without a feeling of disgust and even of shame to think that women supposed to be respectable and law-abiding should resort to such tactics and the torch for the wanton destruction of celebrated works of art, and historic mansions among the most famous in the country.

Militants Have Injured Their Cause

The antics of Mrs. Pankhurst as leader of the "arson" and other gangs sent out to commit depredations and to assault public officials, are highly disgraceful and it resorted to by men would speedily bring them long terms of imprisonment. But the militants feel that their sex protects them and in this they are right for it has done so thus far in England. The only law passed to cope with the suffragette outrages is the "Cat and Mouse" act under which the women may be liberated on parole on condition of their good behavior. They have resorted to the hunger strike as a means of forcing the officials to set them free, and as soon as they get out, they start to commit the same outrages for which they were convicted. The government is being severely criticized for excessive leniency in dealing with these persistent marauders, but if it allowed them to starve to death in prison, there would be such an outcry of sympathy that the movement would receive a fresh and possibly an irresistible impetus.

The English people in spite of the vast losses inflicted by the militants are not going to yield to their demands, at least until the suffragettes change their policy or act more like sane and sensible beings.

Anti-Suffragists Active

In all probability the hysterical action of the English anti-suffragists has given new life to the anti-suffragist movement in this country, and especially here in Massachusetts where the "antis" are quite active in spreading their organization and distributing their literature. They now have branches in all the leading towns and cities of this state and only last week a branch was organized here in Lowell which will help to crystallize the opposition to woman suffrage in this vicinity.

Mrs. Henry Preston White of Boston, is the chief organizer and the most active and intelligent worker against the equal suffrage movement in this state as her daily contributions to the press, her speeches and work of organization will abundantly attest. She is not a fanatic, but in her calm, dignified and conservative style, she presents the strongest arguments that can be adduced against the extension of the franchise and let me say that notwithstanding all counter claims there are very strong arguments.

Woman Suffrage Elsewhere

As to the prevalence of woman suffrage in other countries I find that Norway, federated Australia, Finland, Sweden, New Zealand, Iceland and China give full suffrage; women are eligible to all offices in Finland and Norway; throughout Canada women have municipal suffrage and in Ontario school suffrage also. In France, women engaged in commerce, may vote for judges of the tribunals of commerce; in Denmark women who are taxpayers or the wives of taxpayers may vote for all but members of parliament; in Belgium women may vote for and are eligible as members of the parliamentary councils; in Great Britain and Ireland suffrage is granted for all but members of parliament; full parliamentary suffrage in the Isle of Man; in 1907 women were made eligible as mayors, aldermen, town and county councillors in England; the kingdom of Wurtemberg and two provinces in Austria granted partial suffrage to women in 1910, while Swedish women were made eligible for election in 1912.

In the United States

What is the present status of woman suffrage in the country? In only one state have we now complete suffrage on the same terms as men in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Kansas, Oregon and Arizona; school suffrage in twenty-four states, including Massachusetts; taxpayers' suffrage in five; bond suffrage in Iowa; library suffrage in Minnesota, while in Louisiana women have the right to vote on all matters of taxation.

In the American states in which woman suffrage has been in full force for years, no revolution has been noticed in any direction as a result. The laws seem certainly not any better than the laws of states wherein women do not vote. It is also doubtful if they are any better than they would have been if the women did not possess the suffrage. On the liquor question especially it might be expected that women would exercise their influence on the side of prohibition but on this question also it would appear that the vote of the women has not had any great positive effect. In only one of the suffrage states, namely Kansas, is there constitutional prohibition, while of the others there is license in two and local option in six.

The secretary of a Pacific coast liquor organization stated to the San Francisco Examiner recently: "We long ago made a thorough investigation in the states where woman suffrage has been tried and learned that the liquor business has not been hurt in the least by women's vote."

According to the Denver Post when the question was submitted in 1912, the most active workers for license were the women. That statement I am inclined to doubt unless there was some special cause of a local character that induced them to take that position as a means of preventing a worse evil. Yet in Los Angeles recently the vote for license was the most successful in some districts where women voters were in the majority.

The state of Michigan came within 751 votes of adopting woman suffrage in 1912 and the suffragists insisted again in 1913 when it was defeated by the overwhelming majority of 30,611. The Kentucky lower house of the general assembly has put itself on record as opposed to granting the voting privilege to women by voting 51 to 29 to defeat an amendment to the constitution allowing women to vote.

The Coming Battle

The great question soon to be decided is what the voters of Massachusetts will do with woman suffrage. It is argued by certain politicians that the legislature voted in favor of submission simply as a means of disposing of the matter in the easiest way and confident that the voters will reject the amendment. Of this there is a very great probability unless sentiment changes very much in favor of the suffragists in the meantime. The contest will be a picturesque campaign of orators of the country and the state while the anti-suffragists will be busy with the ballot but any open campaign from that source would probably aid the movement instead of hurting it. Another legislature must vote for submission before the people can have an opportunity to pass upon it. In the meantime the contending forces will exert all their influence, though there is but slight chance that as a result Massachusetts will become a suffrage state.

The Feminist Movement

Complicated with the suffrage movement is the feminist propaganda which seeks to override, explain away or remove the points that in the vocations of daily life differentiate women from man and mainly to her disadvantage.

Dr. Stanton Cook states that wifehood has all the characteristics of slavery, work without wage, no specified hours, no right to change employers. Hence, feminism would naturally incite wives to revolt against such close attention to domestic duties, if not against motherhood. Morrison I. Swift believes "feminism should and will bring about free love and that the suffragette who is not also a great deal more than a suffragette will help very little in the emancipation of woman. The mere ballot itself, he says, is of no more value than a useful instrument in the hands of a person ignorant of its use. In this lies the difference between suffragism and feminism."

Some people are of the opinion that with woman suffrage in full force, new movements may come up in which the women will be directly opposed to the men on certain issues to be decided at the polls. It is also assumed that in hot election contests of this kind the women might resort even to some of the militant tactics adopted in England in order to carry their demands over all opposition.

In this country some prominent agitators and writers, such as Lincoln Steffens and Professor Zerklin, are selling the women suffragists to more militant methods, evidently suggesting the adoption of the same methods now being used in England. Mr. Steffens at a recent meeting of women in New York said: "If the majority of women in New York want the vote and can't get it, they should destroy property anything else." The man who would advocate the application of the bomb and the torch will bear watching.

Woman suffrage will win, if at all, in this and other states by sane and sensible methods, without any resort to militant tactics, hysteria or anything

Boards of Assessors

The bill now before the legislature providing that boards of assessors shall be placed under civil service rules cannot fail to have good results because the assessors of property should be so far removed from political influences that they can discharge their duties honestly and faithfully without any fear of arbitrary removal from office or of coming within the sweep of the politician's power. The board of assessors should be held outside the spoils system and this cannot be done in any better way than by placing them under the civil service regulations. The passage of such a law should be welcomed by the local board of assessors in view of their recent experience. The bill, however, I understand would place the power of appointment in the hands of the mayor of each city. In cities having the commission form of government this would be a manifest injustice as the mayor is but one of a board of five members supposed to have equal powers in the election of subordinate boards and department heads. If the bill is meant to apply to cities living under the commission form of government such as Lowell, and I am informed that it does, then this particular feature should be changed. The municipal board, not the mayor, should fill vacancies in the board of assessors.

REFORM 8000 WORDS

SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD FINISHES ITS WORK AT NEW YORK—MANY PAPERS READ

NEW YORK, April 11.—The simplified spelling board, which has been holding its eighth annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, finished its work yesterday with the announcement that more than 8000 words have been reformed or corrected.

Among the members who took part in the sessions of the convention were William Archer, English author; Prof. Chas. H. Grandgent of Harvard, William Trufant Foster, president of Reed College; Henry Gallup Paine, Professor Brander Matthews of Columbia, Henry Holt, publisher and author; Dr. Abraham Gleason, Prof. Calvin Thomas of Columbia, George H. Danton, Dr. Melvin Dewey and William F. MacLean, M. P., editor of the Toronto World.

The board asserts that simplified spelling is catching on rapidly and that more interest is being shown by colleges, universities, schools, newspapers and business concerns than in other years. In Illinois 16 colleges and universities have promised to adopt the standards of the board and the movement has been advanced materially in other states. The principal work of the board at present is interesting schools and colleges. It is said.

William Archer told the convention that a petition would be presented soon to Prime Minister Asquith asking for the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the merits of the movement. Mr. Archer said he expected the premier to acquiesce and that the commission would be a big victory for simplified spelling.

Papers were read by Mr. Archer, Prof. Grandgent, Prof. Matthews, Mr. Holt, Dr. Gleason and others.

Gives State of Kansas
Control Over Liquor
Shipments

TOPEKA, Kan., April 11.—The Webb Kenyon law, which gives the states control over liquor shipments was upheld by the Kansas supreme court today. As a result of the decision, Kansas will take charge of all liquor shipped into the state. The case was that of a St. Louis brewing company, appealing from a decision of a district court. The St. Louis company shipped a carload of beer to Corona, Kas. State officials confiscated it under the Webb law and the company sought reimbursement.

MIKE MOWREY HAPPY

FORMER CINCINNATI AND ST. LOUIS PLAYER GLAD TO BE WITH PITTSBURGH

Mike Mowrey, now with Pittsburgh, firmly believes that the one ambition which he has cherished since he broke into the National league is going to be realized. He wants to be with a winning team before he quits baseball. He is not thinking of quitting, but he says that he believes his servitude has been rewarded. Mike has been in the National league eight years now, having been with the Reds three and a half years, with the Cardinals four and a half years.

"Nobody knows what it means to be on a losing team," Mike said recently. "Conditions are anything but pleasant. There is so much internal dissension among the players that it becomes almost disagreeable to play. You cannot do your absolute best under such conditions. Maybe I wasn't glad when I was traded to this team. For once I am going to be with a real manager. I feel I am going to have the best season of my career."

"Fred Clarke is going to get all there is in me and it is going to be a pleasure to play beside the king of them all, Honus Wagner."

BUSINESS WAS LISTLESS

AT OPENING OF MARKET—SLACKNESS OF DEMAND CAUSED SHADING OF PRICES—CLOSED WEAK

NEW YORK, April 11.—Business was listless when the stock exchange opened today. Only a small amount of orders had come in over the holiday and although there was no pressure of stocks, the support was too poor to prevent recessions when light offerings were made. The only active trading was in steel, which sold off sharply on its monthly report, showing a large shrinkage in unfilled tonnage. It opened with a block of 5000 shares at 61 1/2 to 1-4, compared with a close of 62.

The market closed weak. Slackness of demand for stocks caused a shading of prices today. The influence of the poor showing of trade conditions in the steel corporation's tonnage figures was felt throughout the list, with most effect on the stocks of steel companies and related concerns. New Haven weakened on the February statement. Oil shares were hammered down again. The small amount of business transacted was almost entirely of the professional sort. Room sentiment continued to favor the short side, although the general decline was not severe. A few of the specialties broke severely but comparatively few of the representative shares sagged as much as a point.

MONEY MARKET

ASKS U. S. TO INTERVENE

Spanish Foreign Minister Wants Intervention in Favor of Spanish Subjects—Fighting at Torreon

GUERRE, Mex. April 11.—Gen. Venustiano Carranza, his military staff, his cabinet members, and a large number of clerks today went to Chihuahua, the new provisional capital, where an official residence and executive offices are awaiting him. With his office force on the scene he said there would be scarcely any interruption of the workings of the provisional government. A report from Torreon said that three rebel columns under Generals Benavides, Herrera and Cuas had engaged General Velasco at Parras. There were no details.

SPANISH MINISTER WANTS U. S. TO INTERVENE IN FAVOR OF SPANIARDS AT TORREON

MADRID, April 11.—The Spanish foreign minister this morning asked Col. Willard, United States ambassador to Spain, to request the government at Washington to intervene in favor of the 1000 Spanish subjects expelled from Torreon.

HUERTA'S PROMISE TO PUNISH FEDERAL OFFICERS AVENTS CRISIS

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Another threatened crisis in the Mexican situation, this time over the arrest of American marines at Tampico, apparently has passed over with the prompt release of the men and an apology by Huerta, who promised punishment for any federal officer found guilty of any offense.

The state department summarized Charles O'Shaughnessy's representations and Huerta's action in this statement:

"Acting on instructions from the state department, the American charge in Mexico, represented to the Mexican foreign office the extreme seriousness of the situation growing out of the detention of United States marines by Mexican federals at Tampico. A personal explanation of the gravity of the occurrence was made by Mr.

NEW SIDEWALK SCHEME
The suggestion made by Commissioner Brown at the last meeting of the municipal council to the effect that petitioners for sidewalks pay their money in advance seems to meet with general favor among members of the government and the superintendent of streets will probably put it into effect at once. The scheme is to enter a plan for the building of a sidewalk. A hearing will be held as is the custom at the present time, and the engineer will then submit an estimate of the cost. The abutter will at once forward his money to the city treasurer. This having been done, the commissioner of streets and highways will ask for a transfer from the general treasury and, having received the money, will do the work at once.

GUNMEN INNOCENT

the stand. Indications were that the hearing would be protracted and perhaps stretch into a night session.

Dresner Tells of Murder
Coming down to the time of the murder, Dresner swore that he was standing on the steps of the Elks club, which is diagonally across the street from the hotel Metropole, when he heard shots and then a gray car raced by him through 13th street. Sam Schepps was on the running board and in the car he saw Webber, Vallon and Shapiro. Two other men were in the car, said the witness, but they were not any of the gunmen now in Sing Sing. He said he told Policeman James Kelly what he knew during the week Becker was convicted.

District Attorney Whitman here took up the cross-examination.

"Where did you see Policeman Kelly?" asked the district attorney.

"In the criminal courts building. I went there to find out whether Becker had been convicted or not."

"Exactly what did you tell Kelly?" I told Kelly the men who killed Rosenthal were not the men locked up."

"Did you tell Kelly, Rose, Schepps and Vallon were in the car?"

"No."

"Didn't you tell Mr. Wahle you told Kelly that?"

"No; I said I merely mentioned the case to Kelly. I did not tell any names."

Never a Stool Pigeon
Under Mr. Whitman's questioning the witness became considerably excited and protested that the district attorney made him nervous. He stuck to his affidavit, however, about being at the Elks' club, but would make no positive statement as to the exact time.

He insisted that he was telling the whole truth.

"Have you ever been a stool pigeon?" Inquired Mr. Whitman.

"No, but I have worked for the Flunkertons," said the witness, "but not as a stool pigeon."

Fear of His Life
Dresner insisted he had kept still about the matter because he had been in fear of his life. He had lost that fear now, he added.

Mr. Whitman tried to get the witness to tell just who he was afraid would kill him. Dresner said there were "plenty of people in New York to be afraid of." He was unable, however, to give any names.

Last Monday, said the witness, when he made up his mind to tell what he knew he called up Detective Lieutenant John Becker, a brother of the former lieutenant, Charles Becker, and told him his story. His conscience, he said, was hurting him. He let the matter rest for two days, however, then went to Wahle, the gunman's counsel, and told him his story. He was unable, however, to give any names.

"Why didn't you come to me and tell me the story?" asked the district attorney.

The witness laughed loudly.

"Why," he said, "if I had gone to you and told you that I'd never even have had a chance to get out of the criminal courts building without being shot, Jack Rose's friends would have put it over on me quick. You can depend upon that."

UBAHU ASKS DELAY
OSSING, N. Y., April 11.—Warden Clancy of Sing Sing prison received a telephone message this noon from Mr. Goldstein, Jewish chaplain of the Tombs asking him to use his authority to postpone the execution of the four gunmen until Thursday, but not later than Friday and Saturday were the most holy days in the Passover. On the warden's refusal he asked that the request be immediately communicated to John B. Riley, superintendent of prisons. Supt. Riley, who was in the prison at the time, declined to honor the rabbi's request.

The doomed gunmen, when they were visited by Judson H. Lee, the Episcopal rector and Prison Chaplain Chaplin exhibited little trace of the high spirits of last night.

"These men have now had their hopes raised and crushed so often," said Dr. Lee "that the elasticity and power of response has gone. Nothing less than an order for their reprieve served on the warden would overcome

STATEMENT FROM "DAGO FRANK"

ALBANY, N. Y., April 11.—Supt. John B. Riley of the state prison department returned from Sing Sing prison today bearing a statement from "Dago Frank" (Cirofici). He said it was not a confession, but he refused to reveal anything about its contents until he had placed it in the hands of the governor.

Mr. Riley went directly from the train to the executive chamber and entered into a secret conference with the governor.

The statement, Mr. Riley said, is similar to others that have been sent to the governor.

FRIENDS CONFIDENT

NEW YORK, April 11.—Relatives and friends of the four gunmen sentenced to die in the electric chair early Monday for the murder of the gambler Rosenthal and the convicted men themselves today bared their hopes for a respite on a hearing before Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff on a motion for a new trial.

It was doubtful if the hearing before Justice Goff could be concluded today, in which event it was expected that District Attorney Whitman would join with counsel for the gunmen in requesting Governor Glynn to grant a respite. Unless such respite is received by Warden Clancy of Sing Sing prison before the time set for the execution of the four men he has made it plain that the original program of execution will be followed.

Warden Clancy stated his position in reply to a request from Charles G. Wahle, counsel for the gunmen, that the execution be postponed until Thursday to provide against the contingency of having to continue the arguments on the motion for a new trial beyond today.

Preparing For Death

Until the word of the 11th hour fight being made in their behalf was carried to them in the death house at Sing Sing late last night the four gunmen were preparing for death. At first they refused to believe that a hope remained for them to escape the electric chair, but as the meaning of the news brought to them by Warden Clancy was explained they became more cheerful.

The evidence upon which Mr. Wahle bases his motion for a new trial came to him only yesterday. W. E. Burwell of Waterbury, Conn., a pool and billiard player, swore to an affidavit that he saw the murder of Rosenthal; that he saw the man who shot the gambler and that this man was not one of the four gunmen. Burwell declared that he could identify the murderer if he could see him again.

Carl Dresner, a bartender, is the other witness upon whom Mr. Wahle relies to make good his motion for a new trial. Dresner swore that he had previously known "Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Webber, Harry Vallon and Sam Schepps and Herman Rosenthal. On the morning of the murder Dresner said he saw Vallon and Webber in the "gray car" as it was leaving the scene of the murder and Schepps was standing on the running board.

Burwell and Dresner were to be cross-examined by District Attorney Whitman or his assistants and their testimony will be a matter of argument. If Justice Goff decides that the testimony of the new witnesses opens a fresh line of defense he can set aside the former verdict of guilty and grant a new trial but if the motion is denied all hope for the condemned men will end. Governor Glynn having referred to reconsider his refusal to interfere.

MRS. SIEGEL NOT COMING

Wife of Bankrupt Merchant is in Hiding at Lakewood, N. J., Under Doctor's Orders

LAKESIDE, N. J., April 11.—Mrs. Henry Siegel, wife of the bankrupt merchant prince, attended day and night, is in hiding and has been for the last week at the exclusive Laurel in the Times hotel, suffering with a nervous malady. She will not go to Boston Monday to appear before the Suffolk grand jury, which begins on that day an investigation and the taking of evidence with regard to illegal financial transactions by Henry Siegel and the Henry Siegel company in that city.

Just what effect this will have on the possibility of Siegel's indictment in Massachusetts is not known, as it has been generally believed that Mrs. Siegel would be the most important witness for District Attorney Pelletier of Boston.

Fears For Sanity

Despite the fact that Mrs. Siegel is not confined all of the time to her apartments, her condition may be judged by the statement of her physician, Dr. Charles L. Lindley, the most prominent practitioner of this health resort.

"I fear for her sanity if she should sustain another shock," he said last night.

Mrs. Brown and her husband are both under summons to appear before the Boston grand jury, but with almost a certainty that Mrs. Siegel will not testify before that body at this time, an opinion prevails that the Providence man and his wife will also endeavor to keep away.

HELD UP TRAIN SCHOOLS OPEN

Bandits Shot Negro Porter and Escaped Without Any Loot

NEW ORLEANS, April 11.—Boarding a local train at a small station near New Orleans today, two robbers shot and wounded a negro porter named Allen and escaped without obtaining any loot of value.

The robbers stepped aboard the train at Tangipahoa.

Soon after it entered a station they entered a day coach and commanded the passengers to hold up their hands. One bandit flourished a pistol and the other began to relieve the passengers of valuables. Allen attacked the man holding the gun and was shot through the body. It is reported he was dangerously wounded. As the negro fell one of the robbers pulled the bell cord and when the train slackened speed they jumped and fled through the underbrush.

The train is a local mail train. It left New Orleans early today and arrived at Tangipahoa at nine o'clock. The sheriff of Tangipahoa parish has gone to the scene with a posse.

TREMONT & SUFFOLK

STATEMENT SHOWS POLICY OF DOING BUSINESS ON A CASH BASIS

The following item in relation to the annual statement of the Tremont & Suffolk mill of this city is being reproduced from Fibre and Fabric issue of April 11.

The annual statement of the Tremont & Suffolk mills shows that the policy of doing business on a cash basis is still in force. With no debts, net quick assets of $1,814,318 and a surplus of $2,475,000, there is no good reason why dividends should not be paid at the present time. This splendid financial condition is quite out of the ordinary in the textile industry, and is the result of long years of willing on the part of shareholders and the most efficient work on the part of the management and the manufacturing heads. The shares of this company are quoted at 95, yet it could liquidate its quick assets and surplus, and pay nearly $200 a share, to say nothing of the plant that could not be replaced for double the capitalization. Owners of Tremont & Suffolk mill shares are not offering it for sale at present prices. The stock should be paying eight per cent. and selling for 150.

ABANDON BRITISH STEAMER

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., April 11.—Abandonment of the British steamer Croydon, which went ashore April 5th off Barbuda Island was decided today. The 120 tons of dynamite forming part of the cargo was saved but the coal on board was lost.

The ship's officers and crew are all well and will return to England shortly with the exception of the captain, who will remain at Antigua to give evidence at the inquiry into the wreck to be held by Lloyd's.

SMALL ARSENAL

Burglar Still Unidentified at Providence—Stole $5800

PROVIDENCE, April 11.—Watchman Lars Martenson of the Timothy Smith & Co.'s department store, Roxbury, failed to identify yesterday John C. Dunbar, a Boston youth arrested here when it was found he had a small arsenal in his possession, as one of the trio of men who robbed the store of $5800 a week ago.

When arrested Dunbar carried a complete burglar's kit, including dynamite, fuses and revolver, packed in a bag very much resembling a surgeon's bag, which the police say is a part of a professional burglar's outfit.

$100,000 LOSS

Big Summer Hotel at St. Andrews, N. B., Destroyed by Fire

CALAIS, Me., April 11.—The practical destruction of the Canadian Pacific railroad's big summer hotel, the Algonquin, at St. Andrews, N. B., today was reported in telephone advices from Robinson. The loss was estimated at more than $100,000.

The fire broke out this afternoon in the old part of the hotel, which is a four story wooden structure erected in 1888 and rapidly spread to the main buildings. The old part was destroyed and the main buildings were in flames with little prospect of being saved owing to a high wind.

The flames were carried away from the town and other property was not seriously endangered.

70 INDICTMENTS

And 23 No Bills Returned by the Suffolk Grand Jury Today

BOSTON, April 11.—Seventy indictments and 23 no bills were returned by the Suffolk county grand jury today. It was the longest list of indictments for three years.

All routing business in the district attorney's office was disposed of, clearing the way for the Siegel investigation Monday.

EX-PRES. MELLON

Charge of Manslaughter Against Him May Not be Pressed

HARTFORD, Conn., April 11.—Prosecution of former President Charles S. Mellon of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co. on the charge of manslaughter growing out of the Westport collision may not be pressed or the warrant vacated, State Attorney Alcorn of Hartford county and special counsel in this city after State Attorney Judson of Hartford county had retired on account of ill health, have been studying the evidence for two weeks. While both were non-committal today they said that an important announcement might be expected at Bridgeport when superior court opens Tuesday. The present status of the case is that Mr. Mellon's counsel had moved to vacate the warrant against him. Mr. Judson had moved to amend the complaint owing to a defect in the one on which he had expected to put Mr. Mellon to trial. Judge Tuttle held the motions and had reserved decision. In dismissing the complaint Judge Tuttle had said that he knew of no precedent for charging a corporation officer with voluntary manslaughter.

THREE FIRE ALARMS

TODAY KEPT THE FIREFMEN ON THE JUMP—ONE FOR BRUSH FIRE

The fire department was kept on the jump today, for three alarms were sent in during the forenoon and afternoon. The first one was a telephone alarm for a small fire in a closet in the house numbered 50 Lee street and owned by a party named Jordan. The blaze was a slight one and was quickly extinguished.

At 1:25 o'clock this afternoon an alarm from box 817 summoned a portion of the department to Boylston street, where a slight brush fire was in progress. There was no damage. Twenty-three minutes later a telephone alarm was sent in to Rose Co. No. 4 in High street for another brush fire in Baylson street. When the fire fighters reached the scene the blaze had taken alarming proportions in the field and it was feared that adjoining property would catch fire. However, after working over one hour the firemen succeeded in putting the fire out.

DECLARED AN OUTLAW

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Desiderio Martins, leader of the latest revolution in the northern provinces of the Dominican republic, has been declared an outlaw and removed from his government office. Latest state department advices today also say the government forces have restored order in Lavega and Puerto Plata.

THE SIEGEL CASE

List of Witnesses to be Called by State Made Public

BOSTON, April 11.—A list of witnesses called by the state in connection with the affairs of the Henry Siegel Co. of Boston was made public today at the office of District Attorney Pelletier.

The list includes Mrs. Henry Siegel, Mrs. Diana Eddy Brown, Joseph Siegel, resident manager of the Henry Siegel Co. of Boston, clerks from the financial department of the Boston store, representatives of an auditing company and a police inspector.

The grand jury will convene on Monday.

BY THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF BOSTON TO EAST DOCK

BOSTON, April 11.—Plans are completed for the construction of a pier on the old Eastern railroad property in East Boston by the port directors at Boston. It is to be 1000 feet long, with channels surrounding it deep enough to dock the largest vessel now in commission.

The site was taken last year by right of eminent domain and an agreement to pay $750,000 was reached. The plans provide for a wide range in the matter of expenditure with a maximum of $1,500,000. These figures include only the cost of the pier and its equipment, not taking in the cost of the site.

FUNERAL OF E. S. DRAPER

BODY WILL REACH BOSTON TOMORROW—BURIAL WILL TAKE PLACE IN HOPEDALE

BOSTON, April 11.—The body of former Governor Eben S. Draper, who died at Greenville, S. C., Thursday will be brought here tomorrow. Accompanying the body are Eben S. Draper, Jr., Bristol Draper and Mrs. Bristol Draper. On Monday at noon there will be a funeral service at King's chapel where the former governor was a communicant for 20 years. The service will be a simple one conducted by Rev. Howard N. Brown, the minister, and his assistant, Rev. S. B. Snow. In the afternoon the body will be taken to Hopedale, where at 3:15 o'clock another service will be held at the Unitarian church, followed by interment in the family lot in that town.

HEALTH EXPERTS NEEDED

SAYS DR. GUNN—MUST HAVE KNOWLEDGE AND PERSONALITY

BOSTON, April 11.—Dr. Selahar M. Gunn of Watertown, Mass. has just been appointed to the board of labor and industries, told the school for social workers, 18 Somerset street, yesterday, that there was a great need of trained experts in public health work. These men and women, he said, need not necessarily be doctors. They would need to know a great deal of physics and chemistry, among other sciences, and above all things must have personality—the ability to hold the public confidence.

AT LAWRENCE STREET CHURCH

At 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Lawrence Street P. M. church the semi-annual convention of the Lowell district of the Wesley league of Christian Endeavor was opened. Four churches are participating, two of Methuen and two of this city. The devotional exercises at the opening were conducted by David Van Allan, president of the league, and the greeting was extended by Miss Mildred Palmer. Later a business session will be in order and at 5 o'clock supper will be served. This will be followed by a social hour and at 7 o'clock the evening service will open.

FRANK RICARD

UPTOWN JEWELER

The church has occupied a great portion of our time during the Lenten season and certainly no better place could we have spent our time and no doubt we have all made good resolutions and as a kind of a reminder of our good intentions it would be well to have some little emblem in the form of medal, charm or perhaps you may need a prayer book, rosary scapulars or religious statuary, and these can always be found at Frank Ricard's jewelry store for no other store in the city has the collection of religious articles that is found at Ricard's. The best of it all is that his prices for these and other articles are much lower than the prices of any other store. A full and complete line of gold and silver articles can always be found.

STRANGE DEATH

Man Was Killed by Wire Blown Against Him by Wind

RICHMOND, Vt., April 11.—A highly charged electric wire, which had been broken by a blast today, killed M. H. Derby, a Canadian Pacific railroad construction foreman.

Derby was in charge of cement construction work near Newport. He had warned his men against approaching the wire when a gust of wind blew it against him with fatal result.

FORMER LOWELL PRIEST

REV. JOHN C. DUFFY, O. M. I., IS VISITING IN THIS CITY—TOOK PART IN 3 WEEKS' MISSION

Rev. J. C. Duffy, O. M. I., formerly of Lowell, Rev. J. P. Reynolds, O. M. I. and Rev. P. J. Phelan, O. M. I., preached a three weeks' mission at St. Monica's church, New York, recently and it was pronounced the most successful ever given in the church. Fr. Duffy returned to Lowell with Fr. Phelan and will remain here for a short rest.

DR. GENERALIS OF THIS CITY WILL ADDRESS BIDDEFORD, ME. GREEKS TOMORROW

Dr. Demosthenes Generalis of Lowell will deliver the principal oration at the Independence day celebration of the Greeks at Biddeford, Me., tomorrow. It is said that there are about 3000 Greeks in the Maine city and that the celebration tomorrow will be one of the most elaborate ever held by that nationality in Biddeford. This will prevent Dr. Generalis from taking part in the local observance.

REGIMENTS WILL CAMP

THIS YEAR BUT THERE WILL BE NO MANEUVERING AS IN THE PAST—LOCAL COMPANIES TO GO

According to reports received at the local armory plans for the big army, militia and navy maneuvers about this section have been abandoned. For the first time in several years the state troops will eliminate maneuvering and hold camps of instruction.

As a result of a recent conference with the governor the week of July 6 has been set aside as the period for the annual tour of duty in the field of the First Brigade, including the second and sixth regiments, with hospital corps. This brigade will probably go to the Cape, near Sandwich, and will have regimental camps.

From July 12-18, inclusive, the Second brigade including the members of Company M, Ninth regiment, will go to the Cape Shore country near Sandwich and take part in maneuvers with a regiment of the United States army under the personal direction of a United States field officer.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Unless the weather interferes Lowell fans will have a chance Monday to look over the candidates for this year's local representative in the New England league. They will all be out at Spalding park for they arrive tomorrow.

There may be a few stragglers, but those who arrive late will incur the wrath of Manager Gray and it is hardly probable that any of the recruits will take a chance on losing a suit on account of procrastination.

George Bolton, the local boy who has played for the last three years on the Exeter eleven, will be a football factor in whatever college he decides to enter next fall. Princeton seems to be the choice of Bolton at present. Bolton played centre two years and tackle during the last season. His weight will probably place him among the candidates of either centre or guard.

Although the Federal league lost out in their attempt to restrain Kilmer from joining the Phillies the outlaws claim the decision of the courts in the case was a clear-cut victory. It was the first time that the reserve clause was ever questioned. The decision handed down yesterday means that hereafter players' contracts will not contain any reserve clause. It was a hard blow to organized baseball.

The Harvard varsity eight pulled out an easy winner over the second boat in their speed trials yesterday over the Henley course. Those who watched the brush were surprised at the speed shown by the Crimson crew. The first half-mile of the race was rowed in remarkable form and Coach Wray stated afterward that he was not worrying over this year's boat crew.

The Red Sox finally got a chance to don their uniforms yesterday although the weather conditions were not the best. Rain and cold weather has held back the development of the Boston Americans this spring and the team will start the season without having had much hard practice. Ray Collins, however, has gotten himself into condition early this year for he showed yesterday he was in mid-season form. Dayton went down to defeat by a 12 to 3 score. Eight hits were made off Collins in the seven innings he worked.

Ty Cobb won the Tiger-Red Sox game yesterday. Cobb was there with a brace of triples which drove in a run and the great outfielder scored three himself. Cobb's early season work shows promise that the Georgian may have the most successful season of his career this year.

Tris Speaker, Heiple Wagner and Joe Wood have all been shipped home from the Red Sox camp and will remain in Boston until the opening game. The three great ball players are enthusiastic over the chances of their club this season and say that Bill Carrigan will put a team into the field that will be a strong pennant contender.

The appointment of Al Wicke, the physical director of the local Y. M. C. A., to take charge of all the Y. M. C. A. entries for the Bunting marathon run to be held on Memorial day will meet with approval by the athletes. The local man is well known for his ability in handling men over the long

GIVEN PURSE OF GOLD BY FELLOW EMPLOYEES THIS MORNING

Mr. Thomas F. Pearson, of the Metropolitan Insurance Co., one of the oldest insurance agents in the city in point of service, leaves Lowell shortly for Mt. McGregor, Adirondacks, where he will spend a few months at the sanitarium of the company in the hope of recovering from an illness which he has been troubled with for some time.

Mr. Pearson has been connected with the Metropolitan company since the year 1892, with the exception of a short time which he spent in Alaska. He is one of the most popular employees of the company and his cheerful disposition has earned him many friends in this city and the surrounding towns.

This morning, when he reported at the office, he was presented a purse of gold, the gift of his fellow employees. Although taken wholly by surprise, Mr. Pearson thanked the members of the staff and stated that he would always remember the thoughtful things done for him while connected with the local office. Mr. Pearson hopes to be able to return to his duties in a few months.

Mr. Fred G. Barnes will sing at the factory at the parish mass at St. Peter's church, tomorrow morning.

HONORS TO DOWAGER EMPRESS

TOKIO, April 11.—The body of the dowager empress, who died Thursday at Nanzan, arrived here about midnight. It was transported in a coach to the palace through streets lined with troops. Five hundred thousand persons stood uncovered while the body passed. An official announcement to the dowager's death was then made.

WOMAN'S CLAIM ROBBED A GIRL

That Governor of Kansas Wrenched Her Arm in Altercation Took Handbag Containing $30

TOPEKA, Kan., April 11.—Governor George H. Hodges of Kansas was made the defendant in a civil suit filed yesterday by Mrs. Luella West of Wichita, who charged that the governor wrenched her wrist and arm and struck her on the shoulder with his fist during an altercation in his office last Wednesday.

The petition stated that Mrs. West with another woman went to the state house to get copies of letters written the governor in connection with a parol for a prisoner in the state penitentiary.

After she had obtained possession of some of the correspondence, Mrs. West charged, the governor tried to regain them forcibly, but failed. Mrs. West charged the governor with assault and battery and asked for damages of $2300.

GOOD FOR CURLEY

Boston Mayor Gave the Realty Sharks a Jolt

BOSTON, April 11.—Real estate sharks who make a practice of buying up property for the purpose of selling it back to the city were dealt a jolt by Mayor Curley yesterday.

The mayor declared that he intends to veto the order recently passed by the city council providing for the widening of several suburban thoroughfares at a cost of $500,000, because of attempts which persons have made in the past to "plunder" the city treasury in connection with such widenings.

PULMOTOR IS ORDERED MILITANT THREW BALL OF PAPER AT MAGISTRATE

For Use of Police and Ambulance Work — May Save Lives in Drowning and Other Cases

Dr. Tighe, the city physician, has instructed the ambulance physicians, Drs. Donovan and Shaw, in the use of the pulmotor, and from this time on it is expected that fatalities from asphyxiation will be greatly decreased by the life-saving instrument.

The pulmotor is being used in all the large cities in the United States and in many European countries as well. Lowell's step in purchasing a pulmotor is simply an evolution in the science of medicine.

The idea of the recently discovered instrument is to supply in the shortest space of time the amount of oxygen needed by the blood and at the same time to remove the carbonic gases. Asphyxiation, of course, is due to an insufficiency of oxygen in the system of the victim and the increase of carbonic and carbonic gases.

The pulmotor is used principally in drowning accidents, in cases where attempted hangings are committed and in gas poisonings. Several instances within the past few years have arisen where a life would have been saved had this instrument then been in existence.

The machine is not a very complicated affair. It consists of a cylindrical tank, containing the ordinary soda water tank, contain the oxygen which is forced into a mouthpiece by means of compressed air. Cases are now common where persons have been revived after all outward signs of respiration or heart action had ceased entirely.

Letter to Physicians
Mayor Murphy calls the attention of the physicians to the pulmotor in the following letter:

April 10, 1914.
To the Physicians of Lowell:
Sirs—Attention is called to the fact that the city of Lowell is in the possession of a pulmotor which can be particularly used in cases of drowning, asphyxiation of all kinds, morphine, chloral hydrate poisoning, electrocution, and in any acute condition which primarily causes death by reason of inability of oxygen to get to the lungs, or by its direct effect upon the centre of respiration.
This apparatus will be at the police station on Market street at all times, and can be obtained at once by getting in touch with the city physician or either of the ambulance surgeons.

Respectfully yours,
Denis J. Murphy,
Mayor.

Woman, Who With Cleaver Tried to Demolish Valuable Porcelains in the British Museum Created Such a Disturbance in Court Today That Trial Was Adjourned

LONDON, April 11.—May Stewart, the militant suffragette who with a cleaver tried to demolish a case of valuable porcelains in the British museum on April 9 created such a disturbance when charged today that the police magistrate was compelled to adjourn the trial.

On the public prosecutor opening the case against her Miss Stewart shouted: "I have not come here to listen to you today."

The magistrate remonstrated with the prisoner but she declared she would not desist so long as Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was being "tormented" under the cat and mouse act, "the devilish work of Reggie McKenna, the home secretary."

Then she threw a ball of paper at the magistrate, whereupon he and the public prosecutor gave up in despair and ordered the hearing postponed.

"May Stewart" was later in the day identified as "Catherine Wilson," who was arrested on March 18, 1913, in the lobby of the house of commons. She was then dressed as a man and carried a concealed dogwhip. She was sentenced to six weeks' hard labor as a suspected person.

The real name of the prisoner is understood to be Clara Lambert, an organizer of the Women's Social and Political union, who has been convicted of suffrage outrages on several occasions.

ARRAY OF PENSION BILLS

Before Social Welfare Committee Taking in Almost Every Class Except Mill Operatives

There are more pension bills before the legislature this year than ever before. In the history of that body and it was but yesterday that the social welfare committee had on its calendar for the day no less than forty-three pension bills. It was a physical impossibility for the committee to discuss all the bills but these bills simply show how enormous has been the increase as heretofore the calendar for a day never averaged more than ten or twelve. Here are the bills that the committee had on its calendar for consideration yesterday:

- Pensions for Boston police.
- Pensions for permanent and call firemen.
- Pensions for employees of state, counties, cities and towns.
- Pensions to clerks of district, police and municipal courts.
- Pensions for Cambridge employees for retirement system for public school teachers.
- That draftsmen and assistants be entitled to Boston laborers' retirement fund.
- Pensions for city and town laborers.
- To amend law on retirement fund for Boston laborers.
- On retirement of city and town laborers. (From cities).
- On retirement system for counties.
- On pensions for laborers of cities and towns.
- On pensions for women in state institutions.

On retiring, etc., laborers of Metropolitan water and park boards. (From Metropolitan affairs).

For pensions for attendance officers.

For pensions for police matrons in Holyoke.

For pensions for certain employees of Boston.

On pensions for city clerks.

Pensions for certain women employees of state.

Pensions for Civil War veterans employed by Boston.

Pensions for certain employees of Boston.

That employees of marine service of cities and towns be eligible for pensions.

Pensions, etc., for city and town employees.

For submitting "pension act" to Lowell voters. (From cities).

ARRESTED IN WORCESTER

Frank R. Rose of this city was arrested in Worcester late last night by a police inspector of that city. His arrest followed a request for his arrest by the local police on a warrant charging him with neglecting to provide support for his minor children.

Inspector Walsh was sent to Worcester on an early train this morning to bring Rose back to Lowell for trial on the complaint. He will be arraigned before Judge Enright in police court Monday morning.

GRAND EASTER CONCERT

TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW EVENING IN ASSOCIATE HALL, UNDER DIRECTION OF PROF. GUILBAULT

Owing to the enterprise and initiative of a talented young local musician, Professor Louis N. Guilbault, Lowell will be treated to the best in vocal and instrumental music at the grand Easter concert which will be given in Associate Hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

As pianist and conductor Mr. Guilbault is rapidly building up an enviable reputation and he is also becoming widely known as a composer of taste and ability. Many of his compositions are ranked high in those musical circles where modern music is played at the present time.

He went to Paris last summer to continue his studies and while there he was commended for his successful compositions by Mlle. Marie Antoinette Quilocher, who had sung as soprano at the Grand Concerts Lyonnais.

The grand Easter concert will be held under the personal direction of Prof. Guilbault and this fact of itself ensures the fullest measure of artistic excellence. In the splendid program will be included an orchestra of 30 pieces, consisting of picked musicians, and there will be vocal selections by the best local and out of town professionals.

Lowell lovers of music, and many who have long regretted the fact that this city has not given all that relates to music the support that it deserves. In the past, are expected to be present in force, and the sale of tickets indicates the fact that Associate Hall will be crowded to capacity.

Heading the list of the vocalists will be Signor Vanni, Italian tenor, who sang for seven years with the Metropolitan Opera company, New York, and for two years with the Boston Opera company. The 30-piece orchestra will render a concert and a number of individual selections, and practically all the vocalists are students at or graduates of the New England Conservatory of music. Following is the full program:

Guilbault's full orchestra, 30 pieces.

Louis Napoleon Guilbault, conductor.

Bridal Rose Overture. . . . .Lavalles

Waves of the Danube, Waltz. . . . .Ivanovici

Popular Hits

La Carline, Mazurka. . . . .Ganne

Post and Peasant Overture. . . . .Suppe

Zizzag Polka. . . . .Waldteufel

MOVIES BARRED

From Town of Winchester — School Officials Oppose Them.

BOSTON, April 11.—The selectmen of Winchester last evening found a divided sentiment regarding the propriety of permitting a motion picture theatre in that town, when they gave a hearing on the petition of Mrs. Oren C. Sanborn for a license for such an establishment.

The superintendent of schools favored the granting of the license, but a member of the school committee was opposed to such action. A clergyman spoke in behalf of the petitioner, but a representative of the Winchester Mothers' association spoke in remonstrance.

George C. Holt of the school committee objected on the ground that the concentration powers of the children would be affected, and that they would be thinking of the "wild and woolly west" rather than their lessons. He would not mind so much, he said, if but one performance a week was to be given, and that under proper supervision, but as he understood it, the plan was for several performances a week.

N. M. Nichols, town trustee officer and custodian of school buildings, objected to granting the petition, but stated that performance might properly be given under supervision of the school department.

Mrs. N. M. Nichols, a member of the Winchester Mothers' association, advanced the argument that it would be but another hardship added to the burden of the town's poor families, whose children would want to attend when the parents were not in a position to let them.

UP TO WILSON

President Must Approve or Disapprove Wineless Navy

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Secretary Daniels' recent order prohibiting wine messes on board ship and at naval stations is squarely up to President Wilson, without whose approval it cannot be enforced, according to the authorities on naval law.

It is pointed out that there is a law of congress which expressly provides that all naval orders, regulations and instructions, issued by the secretary of the navy, must be approved by the chief executive before they shall become effective.

At both the morning and evening services of the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow, special music will be rendered by a large chorus. The soloist at the morning service will be Mrs. Ida Stewart Smith. The chorus will render the hymn, "Why Seek Ye the Living?" under the direction of the organist, Arthur W. Dows.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a five-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

Beecham's Pills

SPRING FEVER attacks most men and women in this part of our country. Like every one else you are apt to suffer from the low spirits, the "no-good" feelings, the discomfort it causes. It shows you need help to banish poisonous accumulations from your bodily system.

HEADACHES, nervousness, depressions, stomach ills, dullness, restless nights, bitter taste are all signs of the indigestion—the biliousness—which generally come as winter goes. The wisest thing you can do is to get rid of these symptoms by using the one most reliable help.

EXPERIENCE of sixty years proves Beecham's Pills to be thoroughly dependable—to be taken in absolute security. They clear the system of impurities; stimulate the liver; regulate the bowels; remove the cause of indigestion and biliousness. A few doses will convince you Beecham's Pills

Now and Always

TRY US FOR MONEY!

It strikes people sort of queer—this money business. They know about getting clothing, furniture and jewelry on credit—paying a "little" a week. We're telling you this possible for all who are employed to get money on credit. Don't you want and don't you need a "little" money? It's a straight business transaction—no tricks, no "ifs" or "buts" of credit. Come in. If we charged more than a reasonable profit do you think we would have scores of customers who have had dozens of accounts? Try the proposition. Try it here.

If you don't want a single satisfied customer, you can't satisfy our stock in trade. Courtesy, consideration, fair and square dealing from the time of opening to the time of closing our transaction, is our earnest aim. The splendid success which has attended our new business methods attests to our achievements in these respects.

LOCAL NEWS

The members of Clan Grant, No. 141, Order of Scottish Clans, have been invited to attend the regular meeting of Clan McPherson, No. 50, of Lawrence, Thursday, April 23. It is expected that a large number of members will accept the invitation.

Friends of Dr. W. T. Carolan will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from his recent illness.

Arthur J. Cunnock of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cunnock of Lowell, has returned to New York after a short visit at the home of his parents.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lowell General Hospital Association will be held in the parlors of the A. M. C. A. on Friday afternoon, Mrs. Arthur C. Spalding and Miss Mary Kelly will furnish music.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lowell Teachers' Association will be held in high school hall, next Thursday afternoon at 4.15.

Prof. O. H. Waldensee of the University of California is visiting in Lowell. He will be in Lowell for a few days. Prof. Waldensee will attend a banquet of the Alpha Delta Sigma fraternity on Wednesday evening, April 15, when he will give a short address on "School Fraternities." It will be interesting to note his views on a matter which has become almost a national topic. It will be remembered that our local school board abolished fraternities in the local high school some few years ago.

Mr. George Cluff, the well known Centralville butcher, suffered a severe shock several days ago and is now dangerously ill at his home, 91 Boylston street.

The 56th meeting of the Congregational club will be held at the First Church, Tuesday, April 14, and the principal speaker will be G. Sherwood Eddy, the brilliant young Christian statesman, who has devoted a number of years to work among the government students of India, China and Japan.
